Cardinal Hayes' Example.
Girls That Know.
Sun Back Dresses.
Bandits Kill Merchant.

—By ARTHUR BRISBANE—

DR. WYNNE, New York's health commissioner, says that, with parents co-operating, diphtheria could be wiped out.

Cardinal Hayes, archbishop of New York, in a letter to clergy and laity, urges parents "to adopt scientific means to prevent diphtheria."

The Cardinal has arranged "through our parochial schools to put the means at the disposal of those unable to patronize their family physician."

PUBLIC schools should follow the example set by Cardinal Hayes in parochial schools.

Fortunately in this enlightened age there will be no repetition of ancient prejudice against the use of quinine.

Because quinine was discovered by a Catholic and named for a Catholic, Protestants in Great Britain refused to have anything to do with the only known specific for malaria.

FATHERS and mothers are interested in Edwin J. Melhuish, murderer and suicide. He drove his daughter home from a Connecticut high school, the daughter's 17-year-old friend going with them.

Dropping his daughter at her house, the father drove on and, a little later, after a struggle with the girl, he murdered her and killed himself with revolver and poison, hidden in a book, hollowed out to conceal them. This indication of careful preparation for murder should interest girls who call their mothers "old fashioned, not up to the times."

WISE Mrs. Culp, dean of girls in a Jacksonville, Fla., high school, told young ladies with "sun back" dresses to go home and put on decent clothing.

A sun back dress enables the lovely sunshine to do its work without interruption the full length of the spine, from the cerebellum almost to the os coccyx.

ONE young lady says, "My mamma approves and, anyway, I don't think it's any of the teacher's business what I wear."

It is part of the teacher's business what the young ladies DO NOT WEAR.

School girls should be either dressed or undressed; half measures are poor measures.

"BANDITS kill merchant" is the headline of a short news story. Two youths entered the store of Hyman Friedman, asking for neckties. Friedman didn't "stick 'em up" fast enough and the young men killed him.

OTHER merchants, who may be killed today or tomorrow, will be interested in the statement of police officials that the secret drug trade is responsible for at least 80 per cent of modern youthful crime. It is too late for Mr. Friedman to be interested.

GROVER WHALEN, New York's police commissioner, tells the Rotary Club, "Prohibition is the worst breeder of crime."

He says that speakeasies and "hostesses"—young ladies that entertain and help to drink—are responsible for the increase in crimes of violence

Grover Whalen says there are 32,000 SPEAKEASIES IN NEW YORK CITY. There were about 8,000 saloons before prohibition.

Such is progress.

TRADING in Wall Street yesterday was the smallest in several weeks, with call money down to 6 per cent, actually below the usury rate, according to the laws of New York.

But that won't last.

THE Federal Reserve was in session, and speculators felt as a little boy feels when mamma is talking to the doctor in the next room. He wonders whether he will get castor oil to cure him or a penny for being a good boy.

Speculators were expecting castor oil.

VICE PRESIDENT CURTIS, told that his sister must go into official dinners AFTER the wives of foreign ambassadors and ministers, feels, quite naturally, that his sister is as important as the wives of foreign representatives.

THE people will agree that she is as important as the wife of anybody. The interesting thing is that in a republic there should be any quarrel about "precedence." If there is to be any precedence, it should give the place of honor to the oldest woman at the party. That would be democratic, and it would avoid quarrels. Many ladies would be willing to go in last.

SINCE 1916 the government has collected $872,000,000 in taxes on estates worth more than $26,000,000,000.

Eight hundred and seventy-two million dollars is a large sum. Why not take money from men living instead of taking it from widows and children.

The government might object that the big men know how to avoid paying. The time to get them is when they are dead and can't hire lawyers or experts.

MARTIN JENSEN

Pittsburgh was host today to Jensen, holder of the world's airplane endurance record, who arrived at Bettis Field in the Green Flash, the plane in which he made the record.

TIFF MAY DRIVE CURTIS FROM SOCIAL LIFE

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Vice President Curtis may abandon future social activities if Secretary Stimson upholds the ruling of his predecessor, Secretary Kellogg, in ranking Mrs. Edward Everett Gann, the Vice Presidents sister and official hostess, below the wives of diplomats.

This is the belief of some of Mr. Curtis' friends, although the Vice President has accepted invitations to social affairs as far ahead as June. It is believed Mr. Curtis will fill any invitation he has accepted, regardless of his decision on the ruling.

The Vice President and Mrs. Gann are going ahead with their many social engagements while Mr. Stimson prepares the answer on the protest of Mr. Curtis.

UP TO HOSTS NOW

It is apparent that the Vice President intends meanwhile to abide by the decisions of his hosts at any dinners he attends. But the puzzled hosts are wondering whether to heed Mr. Curtis' strong protest against the Kellogg ruling or to abide by that decision now in the records at the State Department.

While society tongues wagged over the public social dilema, considerable speculation turned about the White

SCHOOL DAY CUT DRIVE BEGINS

Launching of a city-wide membership drive into every school district was being mapped today by members of the Pittsburgh Parents' Association in its fight for shorter school days. This action followed an executive committee meeting yesterday.

Appointment of an advisory committee consisting of at least 21 members is the first step being taken to increase interest in the fight. It will be the object of the committee to perfect the parent organization and aid in the formation of the association's largest membership drive.

The executive meeting held yesterday in the office of its chairman, Attorney William E. Schoyer, was attended by C. Elmer Bown, Mrs. John P. Cameron, Jr., and Mrs. Homer Young. The killing of the shorter school hour bill at Harrisburg came up for discussion, but the general opinion prevailed that this action was expected due to the late date at which it had been introduced. While the association had not introduced the measure, it had indorsed it.

Lady Astor Facing Fight in Election

PLYMOUTH, Eng., April 5.—(AP.)—Lady Astor will not have a "walkover" at the forthcoming general election in her constituency in the Sutton division which she has represented since 1919. The liberals have selected Thomas Henry Aggett, of Teignemouth, to contest the seat and there is also a prospective labor candidate in the field.

12 ESCAPE BOMBING OF HOME

Twelve persons were thrown from their beds early today when a bomb, placed under the front porch of the home of John Brusick, 76 Glenn way, Stowe Township, rocked the house and wrecked the porch. Smoke filled the basement and first floor of the house as the frightened occupants fled to the street.

Brusick, his wife, Lucy, and their three small children, Virginia, Katherine and John, were asleep on the first floor when the explosion occurred. Helen Miller, 17, and John Miller, 14, a niece and nephew of Brusick, were sleeping on the second floor, which also was occupied by five boarders.

Brusick has resided in the Stowe Township house four months, having moved there from Indiana Harbor, Ind. He can advance no reason for the bombing. The house is owned by Everett Litterini, 24, who lives with three brothers in the adjoining house at 78 Glenn way.

The entire neighborhood was aroused by the blast and Stowe Township police were called out. Chief Thomas Sauender found a small section of fuse beneath the front porch.

A large hole had been blown in the foundation of the house and the front porch wrecked. Windows in an automobile belonging to one of the Litterini brothers and which had been parked in front of the house, were broken.

Chief Sauender believes that the bomb was either too small or that it was not set far enough under the house to do great damage.

Rain Halts Opening Of Schenley Links

Opening of the city golf links in Schenley Park has been postponed until Monday, April 15, according to announcement by Director Edward G. Lang, of the Department of Public Works.

Lang had announced tomorrow as the opening date, but was forced to change plans owing to recent rainfall. The fairways and greens were in good condition until the rain softened the ground and great damage would be done if used before the course is hardened, Lang stated.

Two Drivers Hurt In Crash Arrested

Slightly injured when the automobiles they were driving collided at Penn and Euclid avenues this morning, Albert Zacharrio, 18, of 5171 Kincaid street, and John Roeder, 41, of R. F. D. No. 1, Wilkinsburg, were arrested on charges of reckless driving. They were given first aid treatment at Pittsburgh Hospital for cuts and bruises.

House's Condition Reported Excellent

NEW YORK, April 5.—(AP.)—Col. Edward M. House is making "very satisfactory progress" in recovering from the operation he underwent Tuesday, his personal physician, Dr. A. R. Lamb, said last night. Col. House is resting well at night, the physician said, and his condition yesterday was excellent. The operation was for removal of a growth on the bladder.

IRON DOOR HID RUM PALACE

A fully equipped bar where both men and women might obtain the best of liquors, prohibition agents say, was uncovered last midnight in a raid on a two-story dwelling at 2171½ Atwood street, Oakland. Choice liquors were confiscated and two men were arrested.

County detectives were notified by the raiders that several slot machines had been found in the establishment, but no effort was made during the night to remove the machines to detective headquarters.

A steel door guarded the entrance to the bar, the raiders said. Two prohibition agents, accompanied by two women, were inside the establishment when other agents made the raid. Those on the inside admitted their fellow raiders. Don Collins, 35, of 240 Craft avenue, alleged proprietor, was arrested along with Conrad Seibel, 23, of 1536 Forbes street. A large quantity of gin, whisky, brandy, beer, rum and benedictine was confiscated.

The slot machines were untouched by the federal men, who communicated with the county detectives. They were informed that no detectives were available at that time and after waiting for an hour, the federal agents locked up the establishment and took their prisoners to the Central Police Station.

DEATH YACHT'S OWNER FREED

PHILADELPHIA, April 5—United States Commissioner J. Howard Patterson at a hearing here today, freed Leland H. Ross, millionaire yacht owner, of charges of attempting to smuggle liquor into the country and of transportation of intoxicants.

After he was discharged, Ross talked with relatives of Captain John C. Schofield, who was in command of the Nomad and who was drowned during a storm off the South Atlantic Coast, Saturday.

The ship's log, the sacred-to-the-sea document which tells the good and bad times during a voyage, also was missing. Federal authorities will ask for an explanation.

SIGHTED BY SEAPLANE

The Nomad—come to the end of its wanderings—was towed into port here early today by coast guard patrol boat 107 from Cape May, N. J., following her being sighted with her sails bellied but helmless 18 miles off shore by a coast guard seaplane.

Kellogg in Paris "Feeling Fit Again"

PARIS, April 5.—(AP.)—Former Secretary of State Frank B. Kellogg arrived here this morning from Le Havre where he disembarked from the Ile de France, feeling "fit again" after a slight cold.

He gave the credit for his improved condition to Mrs. Kellogg, who accompanied him.

"She made me keep to my bed a whole day," he said.

MULVIHILL, ONCE BREWER, DRY SURVEY CANDIDATE

James P. Mulvihill, of Squirrel Hill, who was in the brewery business for 35 years, feels that his wide knowledge of human nature would come in handy if he were appointed to President Hoover's prohibition-survey commission.

Mulvihill returned to his home today from Washington, where he laid the groundwork for a campaign which he hopes will attract favorable attention from the White House.

"I was with the Independent Brewing Company for 25 years and was general manager when prohibition went into effect," Mulvihill said. "I've traveled a lot, I read and I feel I have an insight into human nature that would be valuable on the President's commission.

In attempting to report the effects of prohibition, Mr. Mulvihill would not be swayed by whatever his personal sentiments happen to be, he declares.

"Regardless of whether prohibition is a good or bad law, I would try to survey prohibition truthfully."

Mr. Mulvihill will ask Senator Reed, of Pennsylvania, to present his application to the President. Yesterday the former brewery manager, who lives at 6269 Morrowfield avenue, visited Pennsylvania's congressional delegation and also called upon James Francis Burke, advisor to the President.

For 20 years Mr. Mulvihill was executive committeeman of the National Brewers Association. Since prohibition he has been retired.

25 DEAD IN DRY LAW RAIDS

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH
International News Service.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Enforcement of federal prohibition cost 25 lives during the last 15 months.

Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Seymour Lowman today submitted an official report of the killings to under Secretary Ogden L. Mills.

Twenty-three persons were killed incident to raids in 1928, while the other two lives were taken during the first three months of this year.

CLAIMS DECREASE

Comparative figures for 1927 were not given in the report, but Lowman declared the reduction of fatalities was great. He attributed the decrease in the number of slayings incident to enforcement of the dry law throughout the country to the Treasury Department's rule against promiscuous flourishing, display and use of firearms by prohibition agents.

In the 15 months, 16 civilians were killed and nine government operatives met death in the drive to dry up United States. As a result of raids of the prohibition bureau. Seven agents died, the victims of bootleggers and others.

Victim of Mexicans May Be Pittsburgher

NOGALES, Ariz., April 5.—(AP.)—Harry Meadows, an American mining engineer, was shot by Mexican bandits who surprised him at his mining camp located 43 miles from Magdalena, Sonora, Tuesday night. He made his way here today. The bandits left him for dead after shooting him through the shoulder and leg, Meadows said.

Harry Meadows, victim of Mexican bandits, was reported as being a Pittsburgher, but a check made today on the records of the School of Mines of the University of Pittsburgh and of the membership of local engineering societies failed to establish the fact.

Girl Singer Sues Kahn for $250,000

NEW YORK, April 5.—Otto H. Kahn, financier and millionaire art patron, who sailed for Europe on the Ile De France last Friday, has been made the defendant in a $250,000 libel suit, according to the New York Times today. The action names as the plaintiff Miss Rosalinda Morini, a young singer.

The publication in a musical magazine early in February of a letter from Mr. Kahn protesting against the use of his name as indorsing Miss Morini's voice in an advertisement previously published by the magazine was said to be the basis for Miss Morini's suit.

JOHN D. RUSSELL

PITTSBURGHER HURT, 1 DEAD IN BUS CRASH

QUANTICO, Va., April 5.—Thomas Crooke, of Washington, D. C., died in the Marine Base Hospital today from injuries received when a motor bus carrying the Cornell University baseball team overturned on the Richmond-Washington highway last night. Crooke had umpired a game between the Cornell and Marine teams here yesterday.

Twenty-six other passengers, mostly university ball players, were hurt. Four, still in Washington and Quantico hospitals with their conditions reported as serious, are:

JOHN HADDOCK, coach, of Syracuse, N. Y., fractured shoulder.

FRANK SHEEHAN, 50 years old, trainer, fractured arm and several broken ribs. In Emergency Hospital, Washington.

H. W. FAGGERT, of Washington, bus driver, compound fractured leg and cuts.

The bus was almost demolished by the crash, and every member of the team was thrown from his seat and bruised, besides suffering cuts from flying glass and splinters.

The bus was said to have skidded when attempting to pass another

Roark, Kentucky Congressman, Dies

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 5.—(AP.)—C. W. Roark, representative-elect from the Third Kentucky Congressional District, died at a hospital here today of a nervous disorder that followed his campaign last November. His condition had been made worse by an attack of influenza.

SHENANGO VALLEY HIT TOO

YOUNGSTOWN, O., April 5.—Railroads, industrial plants and residents in low-lying districts were inundated early today by a sudden flood, following a cloudburst, which caused heavy property damage.

The flood, pronounced the worst since 1913, came after a torrential rain between midnight and 3 o'clock this morning. The downpour measured 2.8 inches. The Mahoning River rose 8.5 feet in 10 hours. Crab Creek, in the industrial district, leaped over its banks and spread for a mile, flooding plants and driving residents from their homes.

50 FAMILIES RESCUED

Firemen in boats rescued 50 families in the Crab Creek district, when they were trapped in their homes by the rush of waters. The flood rose to the second floor of many homes.

Two thousand workmen, it is estimated, were idle today in the plants of the General Fireproofing Company, Truscon Steel Company, Republic Iron and Steel Company and the Youngstown Boiler and Plate Company. The water ran five feet deep in some of the shops.

TRAINS DELAYED

Trains of the New York Central, Erie and the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie railroads were delayed for several hours by washouts and flooded tracks. Trolley service was paralyzed in some parts of the city.

Cellars of business houses were flooded and business was at a standstill during the morning hours.

Many lines of the Erie, Pittsburgh and Lake Erie and New York Central lines were tied.

Two trains, one bound from New York to Chicago, and the other

FLOOD MAROONS 30,000

DETROIT, April 5.—(AP.)—About 30,000 residents of Detroit's East Side were marooned in their homes early today by flood waters of Connors Creek, following a 90-minute heavy rain.

The water was receding slowly this morning and it was thought the flooded district, which is about a mile square would be drained by night.

Street cars were put out of service shortly after midnight last night and police used boats to transport people who wished to leave their homes. No casualties were reported.

U. S. Attache Ill With Yellow Fever

RIO JANEIRO, Brazil, April 5.—(AP.)—Carlton Jackson, American commercial attache in Rio Janeiro, has been stricken by a light case of yellow fever. Mr. Jackson's American home is in Nashville.

There has been much yellow fever in Brazil in recent months, so much so that Argentine and Uruguay have imposed a quarantine on vessels arriving from Brazilian ports. Meetings of citizens have been held in Rio Janeiro and in Sao Paulo to form an organization to educate the public to a war on yellow fever carrying mosquitos.

WEATHER AIDS PLANE HUNT

SYDNEY, N. S. W., April 5—(AP.)—Improving weather conditions today heightened the hopes of those searching "somewhere east of Wyndham" for Capt. Charles Kingsford-Smith and his companions of the Southern Cross.

Aviation authorities, admitting the immense difficulties of the quest, due to the inaccessibility and wild nature of the Northwestern Australia area, nevertheless, encouraged everyone to hope for its success.

The airliner Canberra left here early today for the Northwest to join the search for the missing airmen, who have been lost since their forced landing on a Sydney-to-Wyndham flight last Sunday. The plane carried provisions and medical supplies and was piloted by a Capt. Holden with a Dr. Holden as passenger.

Much of the search thus far has centered in the Fort George area. On the chance that Capt. Kingsford-Smith may have headed for the seacoast for a possible beach landing, a lugger started to cruise along the coast beyond the Fort George mission today.

Some believed that the aviators, realizing that descent in the wild broken country further inland probably would be disastrous, headed for the sea as soon as they realized they were in difficulty.

FIREMEN FAIL, BOY, 7, DIES

Little Albert Yurcon, 7, of 342 Second avenue, Homestead, whom physicians and Homestead firemen worked feverishly to keep alive, is dead.

For four hours men applied artificial respiration to keep the boy alive, but he died in the Homestead Hospital yesterday from meningitis.

The boy had been ill two days and yesterday physicians at the Homestead Hospital appealed to Burgess John J. Cavanaugh for assistance. Burgess Cavanaugh carried the request to the Homestead firemen.

Chief Herman Samuels was one of the first to volunteer and with him were Edward Leech, P. J. Harrington, George Bayuzick, Leo J. Ammon and William Sullivan. For four hours they worked in shifts, forcing air into the lad's lungs, but death defeated their efforts.

John Russell makes his home with an uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Donaldson, 7008 Brighton road, Ben Avon. He has two sisters, Elizabeth and Mary Russell, who are hurrying to their brother's bedside at Quantico today.

Russell, a graduate of the Northwestern Military and Naval Academy of Chicago, is a senior at Cornell. He is 22 and has spent most of his time in the West since the death of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Russell. He has been active in school affairs at Cornell, being a member of the Zeta Phi fraternity and the Aleph Semach and the Quill and Dagger honorary societies.

Woman Car Victim Dies in Hospital

Mrs. Mary A. Keck, 78, widow, of 142 Kittanning street, Etna, died last night in St. John's Hospital of injuries suffered March 25, when struck by a street car at California and Island avenues, North Side, according to the coroner's report. R. R. Mallason, of 202 Hazelwood avenue, Emsworth, operator of the car was ordered to report to the coroner's office.

Gas Fatal to Boy Rescued from Water

STEUBENVILLE, O., April 5—Roy Tennant, 9, son of Mrs. Arnold Tennant, died here late yesterday a few minutes after his mother had rescued him from the family bathtub. At first believed a victim of drowning, it was determined that death was caused by fumes from a small gas stove which was burning in the bathroom.

CHICAGO U. STAR HURT, 3 HELD

CHICAGO, April 5.—(AP.)—Joseph Gubbins, 22, Riverside, Ill., University of Chicago athlete, was in a critical condition at a hospital today and three other students at the university, including the captain of the basketball team, were held by police as the result of an automobile crash.

Physicians amputated Gubbins' left leg in an effort to save his life.

The students held were John Hines, Jr., 19, driver of the car in which Gubbins was riding; Virgil Gist, 22, captain of the university basketball team, and James Cusack, 26.

Gist and Cusack were passengers in the car, which collided with another machine driven by Milburn Anderson.

Two university co-eds, Margaret Black and Elizabeth Cory, who were riding in Hines' car, escaped injury.

SHENANGO VALLEY FLOODED

MERCER, Pa., April 5.—County officials today estimated that several hundred thousand dollars damage was done by last night's downpour, said to have been the heaviest rainfall in the Shenango valley district in years.

Bridges were washed out in the valley, streets flooded, street car and train service held up in some places. A Pennsylvania Railroad locomotive was overturned at Pulaski and tracks washed out.

Many dirt roads were impassable today on account of washouts. Many improved highways are dangerous because of piles of debris left by the receding flood. Telephone, telegraph and power service was crippled in several towns.

LIGHTNING FIRES HOUSE

SHARON, Pa., April 5.—(AP.)—Lightning, that accompanied a rain storm last night, set fire to the home of Frank B. McCormick at Fredonia. McCormick and his wife fled in their night clothing. The house was destroyed.

The Shenango River rose six feet in as many hours as a result of the torrents of rain.

Woman to Be Tried In 'Twilight' Death

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., April 5.—(AP.)—District Judge Milton Helmick, last night instructed a jury to return a verdict of acquital in favor of Dr. Evelyn Frisbie, former medical adviser of the New Mexico Girls' Welfare Home, but ruled that Miss Bertha Lips, former superintendent of the institution, would have to stand trial for the death of Helen Haskew, 18, inmate of the home.

The two women were charged jointly with second degree murder and manslaughter for the death of the Haskew girl last January. "Twilight sleep," was used to quiet the girl after disorders in the home.

2 WIVES CLAIM PITTSBURGHER, SUICIDE

CHICAGO, Ill., April 5.—Trials of two women crossed today at the body of William H. Fish.

From the lips of one of them came a story of tangled romance, an interwoven strand of a third woman and a third love affair, and through the entire tale a fantastic strain of dope, super-charged emotion, and mental strain.

Fish was found in a room at the Morrison Hotel soon after midnight, suffering from poison, he said was self administered, in an effort to "end it all and get out of the whole tangled mess."

He died within a few hours in St. Luke's Hospital.

The amazing story of the entire affair was given by Mrs. Ida Nell White, of Oklahoma City, to a Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph reporter at the Hotel Sherman.

LOVE AT FIRST SIGHT

"My name," she said, "is Ida Nell White Fish. I have been married to Mr. Fish for two months, since a short time after I met him in Oklahoma City. He was a traveling poultry traffic manager from Pittsburgh.

"I felt a violent love for him. But before I married him, I felt that I must look him up, and be sure of every fact as he had outlined his past to me.

"He had told me he was not married to the woman known as Mrs. Mildred Fish, with whom he lived at 9429 S. Justine street.

"He told me that his right name was King and that 14 years ago, because of Mildred Fish, he had shot and killed a man in a town in New Jersey, but had been exonerated by a jury.

"This Mildred Fish, as she was now known, could not obtain a divorce from her husband. Fish took her name—and the two of them came out here.

"WIVES" LIVED TOGETHER

"When I came here he took me out to the South Justine street address and we were all three under one roof for three days. Then Fish was taken ill. He said Mildred Fish had given him 100 grains of veronal.

"On March 28, he and I decided to go to Oklahoma City. We were married there. Then he came back to Chicago to close up the affair, once and for all, with Mildred Fish.

"Sunday a message came to me, long distance, that Mr. Fish had tried to commit suicide, that he was very ill, and I started for Chicago, and on arrival with police and Mildred Fish, I rushed to his room at the Morrison.

"He was unconscious. We took him to St. Luke's Hospital, but we could not revive him.

THIRD WOMAN REVEALED

"I have letters from him, in his own handwriting, which verify the story. These letters tell, too, of the third woman, a woman he married in Denver, when she was but 16 years of age, a woman still known in Denver as Eleanor King.

A coroners inquest was to be held late today and at the inquest the claims of both women were to be heard under oath.

Mr. Fish's mother used to live in Pittsburgh but is married again. Name not known to the woman.

GIRL FINED $100 FOR RUM SALE

Betty Frank, 20, and attractive, pleaded guilty to sale of liquor in Federal Court today, along with her brother-in-law, Andrew Elias, 28, of Spring Garden avenue.

Betty told Judge Nelson McVicar that she was substituting for her sister in Elias' store when she sold a drink of moonshine.

The girl was fined $100. Elias was fined $200 and sent to jail for two months.

St. Louis Society Girl Weds in Italy

ST. LOUIS, April 5.—(INS.)—Miss Henrietta Hadley, of St. Louis, daughter of the late Herbert S. Hadley, former governor of Missouri and chancellor of Washington University, was married yesterday in Florence, Italy, to Warren Lammert, of St. Louis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Lammert, Jr., of St. Louis County.

Mrs. Lammert is a graduate of Smith College and made her debut three seasons ago.

Two Bandits Slay Merchant, Escape

NEW YORK, April 5.—(INS.)—Entering a Harlem haberdashery late yesterday, two youthful bandits shot and killed the proprietor, Hyman Friedman, when he refused to comply with their demands to hand over his money. Patrolman Carmody, on duty near the store, heard the shots and started in pursuit of the bandits. He fired twice at the men, but they succeeded in escaping.

Shot by Accident, Sues for $35,000, Gets $500

Shot in the hip and other parts of the body while out hunting, Earl A. Colteryahn, garage owner at 2508 Brownsville road, Carrick, was awarded $500 damages in Common Pleas Court in his $35,000 damage suit against Joseph Markwica, Carrick.

The shooting was an accident, the defendant's shotgun exploding just as he was about to raise it from the ground, after the men had been trying their marksmanship at apples which they had tossed into the air.

CURTIS' SOCIAL PLAN IN DOUBT

House dinner Wednesday attended by Mr. Curtis, Mrs. Gann and Mr. Gann, and at the dinner given last night by Lars Anderson, former American diplomat, in honor of the Vice President.

Wednesday night Mrs. Gann was the dinner partner of President Hoover. Last night she was the dinner partner of Mr. Anderson, the host. But in neither instance has the real issue been met, because there were no foreign diplomats at either function. Nevertheless, many wondered whether Mr. Hoover was not quietly setting the rule for capital society.

REAL TEST SOON

The invitations to the Anderson dinner read "in honor of the Vice President." It was explained at the Anderson residence that in the absence of foreign diplomats there could be no violation of the State Department edict in regard to Mrs. Gann, but there were signs of concern at the home over the position of Mr. Gann in the absence of any extra women guests.

Interest now is focusing on the first of the dinners of the diplomatic corps to be attended by the Vice President. Such an event is not expected before next week. Word creeps out from the diplomatic circles that the corps feels bound to abide by the decision of the State Department.

While Mr. Curtis and Mrs. Gann apparently will abide by the decisions of their hosts pending the ruling of Mr. Stimson, there is some speculation whether the wives of the diplomats will be so good natured if the host happens to side with the Vice President rather than the State Department.

The situation seems to narrow down to a dispute between the Vice President and former Secretary Kellogg with the Washington society matrons unwilling judges until the new Secretary of State gives the momentous answer.

Fined for Circulating False Oath of K. C.

DENVER, Col., April 5.—(AP.)—L. D. Hand, of Denver, was fined $100 when he entered a technical plea of guilty, to a charge of criminal libel in West Side Court. Hand was accused of circulating a false fourth degree oath of the Knights of Columbus, a Catholic organization.

William J. McGinley, national secretary of the lodge, and Joseph Little, Denver, attorney, both testified that there was not a "phrase of truth in the circular."

LEWIS SCORES GAS TAX RAISE

CHARLEROI, Pa., April 5.—If a peak highway construction program was conducted last year in the state of Pennsylvania—and paid for—a higher taxation is not necessary, unless the highway department does the impossible in road building in the next biennium.

S. S. Lewis, state treasurer, last night, in an address before the Charleroi Chamber of Commerce at its annual banquet, stayed his guns long enough to pay a glowing tribute to Auditor General Edward W. Martin, in his home county, "who won a victory which I lost in a fight against a 4-cent gasoline tax."

With ex-Gov. John K. Tener as toastmaster, Treasurer Lewis took statistics from the administration of Tener to indicate mounting costs and indicative changes in the finances of the state, and to convey an impartial treatment on the unnecessary passage of bills for higher revenues. Lewis said:

"I am not using my own figures but the figures of the budget officers to prove my contention against any need of higher taxation.

"There is sufficient money for the work of the Highway Department in its various expansive schedules. The $50,000,000 bond issue which was voted down, was not needed and taxpayers were told that if it was voted down it would prove that the bond issue money would not be needed.

"Motor funds, representing motor license fees and the gasoline tax, goes into the treasury and permits the highway commissioner to spend it any way he sees fit.

"Only the Governor can prevent his expenditures."

Ohio House Votes 4-Cent Gasoline Tax

COLUMBUS, O., April 5.—(AP.)—A bill increasing Ohio's gasoline tax from three cents to four was passed by the House yesterday. The measure, bearing the indorsement of Gov. Cooper, now goes to the Senate, where opponents of the increase intend to continue their fight.

BANKER FAVORS INCOME TAX REVISION

Harrison Nesbit, president of the Bank of Pittsburgh, N. A., and a financial leader recognized throughout the country, has given enthusiastic indorsement to the movement for the reduction of the federal tax on earned incomes.

"I heartily favor reducing the tax on professional men, salaried men and women and all who are dependent on earned income," declared Mr. Nesbit, who is the first active Pittsburgh banker to give an outspoken expression on the subject. He continued:

"Downward revision of taxes should be made just as soon as the government can stand it. Those who earn their incomes are the very first whose burdens should be lightened. Professional men and all others whose capital is represented by talent, skill, experience, physical energy and sound health should be allowed liberal deductions.

SOUND ECONOMICS

"There should be a fair and just differentiation between earned income and that which is received from capital investments. Corporations are permitted to charge off depreciation in allowance for repairs to mills and plants or in appraisals of property, but under the present system the individual worker can charge off nothing for the certain depreciation of bodily strength which comes with approaching old age.

"A movement which lessens the tax burden on the professional man and all wage earners is sound economics. Just treatment of those who earn their incomes is good for the community, and is reflected by the appreciation of capital and encouragement of public confidence."

PETITIONS POUR IN

Henry Scrivens, Pittsburgh superintendent of the Postal Telegraph Cable Company, added his indorsement to the movement launched by the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph and other Hearst newspapers, in a petition headed by his signature and containing those of many other officers and employes of the company. Another large petition was received from the officers and employes of the Fort Pitt Spring Company.

S. H. Noll, secretary of the Board of Commissioners of Baldwin Township, today sent copies of a resolution urging reduction of taxes on earned incomes to Senator David A. Reed and Congressman Guy E. Campbell.

The resolution, passed by the board Wednesday night, commends the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph's campaign and asks for prompt action by Congress. It is signed by Commissioners William E. Armstrong, J. W. Augenstein, Frank Brinkman, Albert F. Dryer, J. F. Nurnberger, A. W. Willis, Joseph P. Wagner and S. L. Simmons, president.

Individual petitions, clipped from the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, still are pouring in and are being tabulated to be forwarded to Washington.

Aged Man Kills His Landlady and Self

NEW MADRID, Mo., April 5.—(INS.)—Henry Wolford, 72, shot and killed his landlady, Mrs. Anna Sheaty, 63, and then killed himself here yesterday. According to two witnesses, Mrs. Sheaty went to Wolford's house carrying a lock, apparently intending to padlock it, it was stated. Wolford appeared carrying a revolver. After words, he raised his revolver and fired one shot. The woman ran across the street, and when she stopped Wolford fired the fatal shot.

REBELS PERIL AMERICANS

WASHINGTON, April 5.—(AP.)—Secretary Stimson took energetic action today to protect Americans in the state of Sinaloa by requesting the Navy Department to send a destroyer to the Port of Topolobampo.

The Secretary of State asked Secretary Adams to dispatch the destroyer to protect Americans and other nationals whom Mr. Stimson declared to be endangered by the retreat of Mexican rebel forces in Sinaloa.

As another measure of proftection for Americans in Naco, Ariz., Mr. Stimson requested the Secretary of War to convey to rebel leaders in Sonora an additional warning that their airplane pilots must refrain from dropping bombs into the American city.

BOMBS FALL IN U. S.

The rebel forces in Sinalo who attacked Mazatlan and were defeated there have been retreating northward since that time. Secretary Stimson said American authorities considered that the presence of the destroyer Smith at Mazatlan was not sufficient to protect American interests. The rebels are reported to have seized property of Americans.

Vice Consul John E. Jones, at Agua Prieta, reported to the State Department today that during last night rebel airplanes had continued to bombard Naco, Sonora, and that more bombs had fallen just within American territory but they had done no damage. Gen. Topete, leader of the rebel forces, has again apologized to the American authorities.

FEDERALS "MOP UP"

MEXICO CITY, April 5.—(INS.)—Federal troops were engaged in "mopping up" offensives today in the three widely separated sections of Mexico.

While Gen. J. Andreu Almazan's forces continued northward in Chihuahua in pursuit of the battered remnants of the rebel army which survived the battles of La Reforma and Jimenez, Gen. Saturnino Cedillo waged an offensive against the insurgents in the states of Jalisco, Guanajuato, Durango, Zacatecas and Michoacan.

Simultaneously, Gen. Lazaro Cardenas, leading a Federal army of about 12,000 men in Sinaloa, moved towards Culiacan, capital of the state, expecting to occupy the city today.

HERRICK'S BODY LEAVES BREST

International News Service.

BREST, France, April 5.—Myron T. Herrick, late American ambassador to France, revered in death as deeply as he was beloved in life, is homeward bound this afternoon.

Just at 12 o'clock noon the French cruiser Tourville, with the body on board, weighed anchor and steamed for the United States.

A squadron of seaplanes and three French destroyers formed an honorary escort as the gray cruiser raced seaward. They accompanied the cruiser to the 12-mile shore limit, the destroyers steaming sedately abaft the Tourville while the seaplanes swept in wide circles through the mysty, gray sky overhead.

The special train bearing Ambassador Herrick's body from Paris arrived at 7:30 a. m. after its 400-mile journey through Brittany.

A large section of the population had turned out and there were detachments of sailors and marines in parade dress, who later accompanied the coffin to Pont Gueydon for a brief ceremony before it was carried out to the Tourville upon a tender.

Warcraft, merchantmen and fighting boats filled the harbor, with half-masted flags fluttering in the drizzle. Silent thousands filled the streets and jammed the quay.

DEFENDANTS MUST PAY COSTS

Judge Richard W. Martin today refused a motion to set aside costs placed on Justice of the Peace C. J. Burke, of Library, and his constable, Frank Kassen, acquitted by a jury yesterday on charges of extortion.

Attorney Charles B. Prichard argued that the jury placed a stigma on the defendants in ordering them to pay costs and he wanted his clients freed of any hint of blame. Judge Martin ruled that the verdict was sufficient exoneration. He, however, ruled that the acquitted men be given 15 days in which to pay the costs.

The charges against the peace officers grew out of an alleged attempt to "shake down" Alex Szalkay, a Hazelwood truck driver of $400, after, it is alleged, moonshine whisky had been "planted" in his truck. The jury retired at 4:15 o'clock and was out about an hour.

told his story to Custom Officer Luther Sterner.

Sterner denied there was any intoxication charges against Ross or his crew. Earlier reports from Cape May quoted customs officials as saying they found the two members of the crew lying unconscious among 40 bottles. Sterner would not deny that 40 bottles were found aboard the Nomad.

BRIDE QUITS YACHT

Ross and his bride of a year, Mrs. Muriel Clairmonte Ross, formerly of Washington, started on a West Indian cruise February 28 to celebrate their wedding anniversary. Eleven days ago Mrs. Ross went ashore and continued home by train. Ross did not say whether or not they had quarreled.

"On Easter Sunday we struck heavy seas and squalls," Ross said, telling of the tragedy to Capt. Schofield. "I was on watch at midnight. We were depending on our rigging entirely, as the engine room was flooded.

"A sailor relieved me of the watch, but I remained on deck. Then the captain went to the top to repair the mainsail. The ship gave a terrific lurch and rolled. I heard a cry, I ran to the helm and the captain was missing. I threw over a life preserver and hoped he might cling to it."

The ship's flag was hoisted upside down, the signal of distress.

"The men are in a terrible physical condition, from the strain of flirting with death," said Sterner.

Ross is associated with his brother in a shipyard in Jersey City, he maintains a residence in Norristown, N. J. He is descended from colonial ancestors and belongs to many exclusive clubs.

MILJUS BEATS RUM CASE

Jovo Miljus won the first acquittal that has been handed down during the special April term of Federal Court today. A jury found him not guilty of possession of champagne, ale and whisky which were seized in a garage in the rear of Negley Inn at 5606 Penn avenue last June.

The Negley Inn was under temporary padlock when prohibition agents raided the garage. Miljus contended that neither the contraband goods nor the garage was his property.

Cardinal Gasquet, 83, Dies in Rome

ROME, April 5.—(AP.)—Cardinal Gasquet, archivist of the library of the Holy Roman Catholic Church, who was created a cardinal in 1914, died today, aged 83.

England's lone representative among the "cardinals of the curia" suffered a heart attack two days ago when attending the funeral of his colleague, Cardinal Lucidi.

Hungary to Throttle Din of Loud Speaker

BUDAPEST, April 5.—(AP.)—Radio loud speakers were declared a nuisance yesterday by the Hungarian government. Any radio dealer who operates a loud speaker on the principal thoroughfares of the capital will be fined hereafter.

LONE MEMBER 'WOULDN'T CONVICT,' JURY FREED

The jury stood 11 to 1 for conviction and Isidore Davies, a butcher, of Rankin, was the juror who stubbornly held out.

"I wouldn't convict anybody," Juror Davies announced after three hours' deliberation.

Visiting Judge Miles I. Potter discharged the jury and escorted Davies before Judge James H. ray today in Criminal Court.

Davies admitted making the ement. He added that the had called him "names," peeved and wanted to go ow, Davies defended, the nt had been out of work e evidence against him not cing.

Judge Gray discharged Davies and ordered him paid off.

The jury had retired at 3 p. m. yesterday to decide whether William Betts, of Renton, was guilty of driving an automobile while intoxicated. At 6 o'clock Juror Davies revealed his philosophy. Judge Potter, informed, discharged the jury by telephone through Tipstaff Jack McElvany.

Betts will be tried again.

BONDS FREE TAX EVADER AND 6 RUM CONSPIRATORS

Martin J. Grady, who is appealing from his conviction of tax evasion, gained freedom today when the court approved his $15,000 bond, signed by Martin Turich. Grady offered a bond yesterday which the district attorney refused to approve.

Sam Meyers, Gussie Meyers and James Swift, convicted in the South Side rum conspiracy suit, and Thomas C. Johnson, David J. Adams and Thomas H. Wills, convicted in the Twenty-fourth Ward conspiracy suit, in Federal Court last month, are at liberty today under heavy bonds, pending their appeals before the Federal Circuit Court for new trials. They were released late yesterday. The bonds of Wills and Adams were $5,000 each and all the others $10,000 each.

Joseph O'Brien, of 1426 Beaver avenue, North Side, has been given a $10 thrift gift as holder of passbook No. 27,219 in the Bank of Secured Savings. Mr. O'Brien has been crippled with rheumatism for some time, which makes this addition to his savings more than ordinarily welcome.

VON HOOGSTRATEN URGES ENDOWED ORCHESTRA HERE

Pittsburgh ranks high in the nation as a center of music and art; it possesses all the essentials for an endowed symphony orchestra comparable to the best, and any law opposed to a symphony concert on Sunday is decadent.

These opinions were voiced here today by William von Hoogstraten, conductor of the New York Philharmonic Orchestra at the Stadium concerts and regular conductor of the Portland (Ore.) Symphony Orchestra, in Pittsburgh as guest-conductor for the season's final concert of the Pittsburgh Symphony Society Sunday night in Syria Mosque.

"Pittsburgh should have an endowed orchestra of the highest standing," he said. "You have wealth and a wide musical appreciation among your people and, moreover, you have a wealth of musical talent, which many cities lack." Of Sunday concerts he said, "Religion, music and poetry are related. Each may stir the soul to its depths."

Mr. von Hoogstraten praised the Pittsburgh orchestra.

"It is excellent," he said. "I was most surprised today at the first rehearsal of these difficult compositions with the manner in which they were mastered. Several sections of the orchestra were admirable."

FISHER SIGNS 4 COUNTY BILLS

HARRISBURG, April 5.—(A.P.)—Gov. Fisher yesterday delved into the mass of legislation placed on his desk by the Legislature and before the close of the day signed 20 bills and vetoed three.

Among the bills enacted into law by the Governor's signature were four measures affecting Allegheny County. They were the Rhodes bill permitting the setting up of separate offices outside of Pittsburgh by the county treasurer for the collection of county taxes; the measure of Representative Helen Grimes to make residents of adjacent annexed territory eligible for election to the Pittsburgh Council, and two bills to pay election officers of the county for services rendered for each election rather than for each day spent in computing the vote, and pay court tipstaves a maximum of $2,600 a year payable semi-monthly.

Boroughs hereafter will be permitted to lease public parks to school authorities for amateur athletic contests under the provisions of another bill signed. Garbage collection by townships and authority to charge reasonable fees for the collection was provided in another. Two other new acts prohibit the operation of motor boats propelled by internal combustion engines without mufflers or under-water exhausts and permit the Department of Forests and Waters to institute court proceedings for the collection of expenses incurred in extinguishing forest fires from parties responsible for the fires.

The three bills rejected by the Governor are repealers of laws which the Governor said have already been taken off the statute books.

Buenos Aires Palace Bought for Embassy

BUENOS AIRES, April 5.—(A.P.)—One of the most impressive palaces in the city, "Palacio Bosch," has been purchased as a residence for the United States ambassador and offices for the embassy. The sum paid is said to be $1,562,000. The building, which is of French architecture, is situated on Alvear avenue, the leading street of the aristocratic northern district.

Boy's Body Found After Snow Melts

GORDON, Neb., April 5.—(A.P.)—The snow that cost him his life has melted away, revealing to searchers the body of 6-year-old Melvin Reevers. The boy, hunting a lost mitten, was caught in a sudden and terrific blizzard three weeks ago and perished in a struggle to reach a place of shelter.

"Emergency Law" To O. K. Wedding In Wrong Room

HARTFORD, Conn., April 5.—(A.P.)—Because a couple went into the "wrong" room at the Shuttle Meadow Country Club to be married, the Connecticut General Assembly yesterday was called on to pass "emergency legislation" to legalize the ceremony.

Stanton Ashley and Elva McCurdy, socially prominent in New Britain, obtained a license there and arranged a quiet ceremony at the club. But the room selected was just over the city limits and state laws are strict in requiring licenses to be used in towns of issue.

"It's a real emergency," gravely asserted proponents of the bill, "for the couple now is at sea—literally and figuratively."

FAILS TO CLAIM WIFE'S BODY

Bitter toward his wife because she deserted him several weeks ago, William Bennington, of 18 Sampson street, according to coroner's office employes, refused to claim her body last night after he had identified it at the county morgue. The woman had been unidentified since she was struck by an automobile in North avenue, North Side, Wednesday night.

Bennington said his wife, Mrs. Bessie Bennington, 37, of 1211 Palo Alto street, had deserted him March 8 and he had not spoken to her since although he had seen her several times since on the street, the last time being Easter morning, according to Deputy Coroner W. R. Sellers.

Mrs. Bennington died in the Presbyterian Hospital yesterday from a fractured skull. She was removed to the morgue and it was through friends that the husband learned of her death. Morgue attaches are now endeavoring to communicate with a brother of the dead woman.

Gun Expert Talks To Payroll Guards

Firearms kept in good condition pay precious dividends in emergencies, John H. Parry, gun expert told employes of the Brinks Express Company, payroll guards, at the company's first annual banquet in the Fort Pitt Hotel last night. John B. Heyward, resident engineer of the General Accident Fire and Life Assurance Corporation, spoke on "Safety Promulgation."

Auto Hits Man, 60, Police Hold Driver

Struck by an automobile as he was about to board a street car at Hamilton and Fifth avenues this morning, James Fitzpatrick, 60, 6918 Kelly street, was treated at Pittsburgh Hospital and removed to his home. Frank J. Bittner, 291 Standard avenue, driver of the automobile, who reported the accident at Frankstown Avenue Police Station, was charged with reckless driving.

Swissvale Man Held For Drunken Driving

NEW BRIGHTON, Pa., April 5.—Albert F. Oskin, 7412 Washington street, Swissvale, Pa., was arrested by Sheriff W. V. Kennedy, along the Aliquippa-Monaca road, charged with operating an automobile while drunk. It was reported Oskin had a half-gallon of moonshine in the car. He was held for court under $2,000 bail. An additional charge of transporting liquor was preferred.

VAMPED STEELE TO REGAIN MATE, SAYS MRS. INMAN

RENO, Nev., April 5.—(INS.)—Helene Garnet Patton Inman vamped John Steele, noted singer, to make her husband jealous and to regain his love; and Inman broke her nose and blacked her eyes so that "no one would ever love her," the pretty defendant in Reno's most sensational divorce case told the jury that will decide the action.

Mrs. Inman, taking the stand as closing witness in her cross-suit to divorce Inman, wealthy Duke tobacco fortune heir, was to resume her story from the witness stand today. Categorically denying all of the sensational charges made against her in her husband's divorce suit, Mrs. Inman charged her husband with gross intemperance, neglect and cruelty.

ADMITS STEELE NOTES

Mrs. Inman admitted having corresponded with Steele and declared she had purposely left the poetic love letters from the singer for her husband to find.

"I vamped Steele to make Walker jealous," she said. "I wanted to make him wake up and not be so neglectful."

"Were you ever out alone with Steele?"

"Never in my life."

Mrs. Inman charged that her husband had broken her nose and blacked her eye "so no one would ever love her again."

TELLS OF BEATING

Telling the story of the broken nose incident Mrs. Inman said:

"I had attended a tea party with some women friends. Their husbands joined the party and I was invited to dinner. I telephoned Walker and he said it was all right. When I returned home about 2:30 a. m., he was asleep.

"I said 'Walker, darling, get up.' He was very drunk and struck me.

"I couldn't phone because he cut the wires and ran into the hall calling for a doctor.

"The hall boy asked if Walker had done this and I said: 'No, no. Just get me a doctor.' I didn't want gossip around the apartment house. He struck me again with his fist and said he was doing it so no one would ever love me again.

"I was too stunned to fight back.

"My eyes were black for a month."

Mrs. Inman said she had never heard the explanation of this incident given by her husband on the stand before.

SAYS HUSBAND OFTEN DRUNK

Mrs. Inman pictured Inman as being drunk frequently. She said he acted "disgracefully at the Green Mill in Los Angeles by squirting champagne." On a boat trip to Connecticut, she said, he became intoxicated and was "singing and swinging on the ropes of the boat, saying, 'I'm a monkey.'" She said Inman drank with his servants. She said her husband delighted in getting a colored servant in the radio room and tell him "How many niggers he shot down South."

The servant's "eyes would pop out," Mrs. Inman said.

She declared that her husband stocked up with 100 cases each of Scotch, bourbon, rye, gin, port wine and creme de cacao just before prohibition became effective.

Denying the testimony of Charles Miller, a chauffeur, Mrs. Inman said she had never appeared before her servants partly dressed.

Saloonkeeper Falls Dead as Drys Enter

BALTIMORE, April 5.—(A.P.)—A verdict of death from natural causes was returned yesterday by Coroner Otto M. Reinhardt after a post-mortem on the body of Steve Polton, saloonkeeper, who, prohibition agents said, fell dead when they entered his place of business Wednesday. Polton is said to have dropped to the floor of his place after handing the agents a half-pint flask of alleged liquor when they entered his saloon, while four Negro customers fled through the back door of the place.

Home Town Cheers Deposed Governor

PERRY, Okla., April 5.—(A.P.)—Henry S. Johnston, recently deposed governor of Oklahoma, was welcomed by his old home town yesterday with a celebration that savored more of triumph than defeat. To the blare of band music and surrounded by a multitude of old friends, the former chief executive heard speeches in which he was invited to run as a candidate for the United States Senate.

During the home-coming celebration, orators attributed Johnson's removal to "dirty politics."

Famous London House May Be Moved Here

LONDON, April 5. — (A.P.) — Lansdowne House, palatial home of H. Gordon Selfridge, in the heart of Mayfair, may be removed to the United States.

Its sale for $3,750,000 marks the passing of the last of the great houses of London, excepting Crewe House, former residence of the American ambassador, Devonshire House, Grosvenor House and Dorchester House have already been demolished and Britain fears that Lansdowne House will follow unless, like other British treasures, it finds a place in the United States.

Already plans of Lansdowne House have come to prospective buyers in the United States with a view to its transportation and re-erection in America. There is little or no possibility that it might be retained here as a museum of national possession.

GAS EXPLOSION WRECKS HOME

Adolph E. Maier, 32, of 2015 Atmore street, North Side, was reported recovering today in St. John's Hospital of face and body burns suffered last night in a gas explosion which wrecked the interior of his home, a two-story brick building. Damage to the house was estimated at $4,000.

Maier, according to police, struck a match in the cellar of his home and ignited gas believed to have accumulated from a leaking connection. Firemen, answering an alarm, carried Maier from the basement and rushed him to the hospital in the Woods Run Police patrol.

The report of the blast was felt within a radius of several squares and windows in the immediate vicinity shattered, police said. Other occupants of the house escaped uninjured.

Still Found in Vacant House, Man Arrested

Joseph Angeo, 27, a Negro, of 1540 Clark street, was arrested early today after the finding of a 50-gallon still in a vacant house in the rear of 1538 Clark street.

SCORES CALLED TO AIR LONG CHARGES

BATON ROUGE, La., April 5.—(INS.)—Indications that the House impeachment hearing of Gov. Huey P. Long may extend over a period of weeks was seen today as representatives gathered for another day's inquiry into the sensational charges against the 36-year-old chief executive.

The clerk of the House said subpenas would be served on 181 additional witnesses today. The state's entire judiciary, numbering something over 50, also have been subpenaed to testify regarding one of the impeachment charges which concerns them.

FUND CHARGES AIRED

In addition, there are scores of other witnesses who will testify in connection with one or more of the 19 charges of indictment against the young governor, ranging from an alleged plot to murder to a maze of official irregularities.

Thus far the hearing has been consumed almost entirely with testimony concerning charges of patronage and misappropriation of funds. Disposition of $6,000 drawn from the bank by Gov. Long for the entertainment of the governor's conference at New Orleans last fall was the subject of a long quiz in the House yesterday.

AIDE QUITS GOVERNOR

A bombshell was hurled into the proceedings when Representative W. H. Bennett, of East Feliciana, declared he was convinced Gov. Long had made the alleged statement that "he bought and paid for me as he would a sack of potatoes."

For that reason, he said, he was severing all relations with the Governor and would resign from his office as chief enforcement officer of the State Highway Department.

Second Grandsire Of Lita Gray Is Dead

LOS ANGELES, Cal., April 5.—(INS.)—Twice within a week death struck at the grandfathers of Lita Gray Chaplin, film actress and former wife of Charles Chaplin. Yesterday William E. Curry, 70, was dead here. Last week Mrs. Chaplin's other grandfather, Thomas McMurray, 85, died at Berkeley, Cal.

Banquet Plans Made By Passenger Club

The installation of officers of the Pittsburgh Passenger Club will take place at the club's annual banquet, to be held next Thursday night in the Fort Pitt Hotel. Following the dinner there will be cards and dancing. John D. Carter, retiring president, will make the address of welcome.

LEADING WAR FIGURES CLAIMED BY DEATH

EARL HAIG GEN. DIAZ LIEUT. GEN. JACQUES MARSHAL FOCH GEN. SARRAIL AMBASSADOR HERRICK

In little more than a year 10 years after the close of the great World War, death has rapidly wielded its scythe among the leading figures of the red days of 1914-18. These six have gone, the first Haig in January, 1928, and the last, closely following Foch and Sarrail, Myron T. Herrick, of Cleveland, United States minister to France.

25 DEATHS DUE TO DRY RAIDS

customs patrol were slain by smugglers, but no civilians met death at the hands of agents of that bureau.

Five civilians were killed by members of the coast guard. The coast guard was the only enforcement branch that did not have fatalities within its ranks as a result of prohibition operations.

In all cases against government agents which have reached the courts and have been terminated, the officers were exonerated from criminal liability, according to the report.

The two deaths this year involved the drowning of Leon Mangay, a seaman aboard the British schooner, I'm Alone, which was sunk by a coast guard cutter in the Gulf of Mexico, and that of Joseph O. McGuire, of Laramie, Wyo.

SLAIN BY AGENT

The report showed the latter was shot to death by Agent Charles F. Patterson, deputized by Sheriff Edwin A. Bally, of Wyoming, to assist in capturing McGuire, who had committed a murder and was resisting arrest.

"Armed with tear gas bombs and guns, the party proceeded to the place where the murder took place," the report said. "In the action which followed, Agent Peterson shot through a door which McGuire slammed in his face."

McGuire was killed. A coroner's inquest absolved Peterson from all blame, the report said.

Of the I'm Alone case, Lowman reported to Mills that Mangay was drowned during the sinking of the vessel, which refused to heave to when accosted by the cutter.

SLAIN BY SMUGGLERS

Inspector Stephen S. Dawson was killed in February, 1928, and Inspector T. S. Morriss in December. Both were shot by smugglers near El Paso, Tex. In January, 1929, Customs Patrol Inspector C. N. Titcomb, while on patrol duty, was killed by a trolley car near Detroit. This death was not considered in the prohibition casualties.

All but one of the men killed by coast guard agents were operating on suspected rum runners. The exception was the case of Jacob Henson, of Lewiston, N. Y. He was shot May 6 and died August 24. The report showed that he refused to submit to search and attempted to run down officers.

PATROL REPORT

A typical example of a report on the coast guard operations, prepared by B. M. Chiswell, acting commandant, follows:

"June 16—Zeb Powell, bootlegger, fatally wounded on A-1397, American motorboat; refused to heave to while jettisoning cargo of liquor. Picket boat Imp, Base 17, San Pedro, Cal."

An example of the prohibition reports follows:

"Prudman, Lee—On or about January 9, 1928, Agents Charles F. Cooley and R. N. Wilson, assigned to the eastern district of Arkansas, raided a large distillery near Julius, Crittenden County, Ark. One white man and five Negroes were operating the still. All escaped except Lee Prudman, Negro, who had a shotgun and refused to surrender, and was killed. Coroner's jury rendered a verdict that Prudman came to death by resisting officers attempting to arrest him."

Alleged Accessory In Theft Acquitted

Charged with being accessory to the theft of nearly half a million cigarets, Peter Manfredo, 25, of 2209 Forbes street, was ordered acquitted in a directed verdict by Visiting Judge Frank L. Harvey, of Clarion County, in Criminal Court, when it developed there was nothing but hearsay evidence against him. It was charged that he had bought cigarets valued at $2,508 from a man who had robbed the Kroger Grocery and Baking Company warehouse in South Fourth street, January 19. As the robber has not been apprehended, no direct evidence could be brought against Manfredo.

Dry Enforcement Killings 190 Since 1920

WASHINGTON, April 5.—(INS.)—Enforcement of the dry law by the prohibition bureau proper, since the law was placed on the statute books in 1920, has caused the deaths of 55 agents and 135 civilians, Treasury Department records show:

DEATH BY YEARS:

Year	Agent	Civilians
1921	8	14
1922	12	13
1923	4	17
1924	2	32
1925	5	20
1926	8	17
1927	5	16
1928	7	10
1929	none	1
Totals	55	135

These figures do not include fatalities caused by enforcement by the coast guard and border patrol, the department said.

Weather Conditions.

The pressure continues high over the Atlantic coast, with the crest of the high over the Southeast. The western low developed into a marked disturbance, centered this morning over Wyoming, lowest barometer, 29.20 inches, at Sheridan and Yellowstone. It is producing cloudy weather over most of the country, and thunderstorms in the central plains, the Ohio Valley states and at scattered places in the Rocky Mountain states. The rains were light generally, except over Western Pennsylvania, where heavy showers occurred.

The temperatures continue above normal over most of the country, but it is much colder over the Canadian Northwest following the rainstorm.

River Conditions.

Heavy rains occurred over the Allegheny and the Monongahela River basins during yesterday afternoon and last night and, as a result, the rivers are rising. Stage at Franklin is 6.2 feet; Lock No. 7, 12.0; Pittsburgh, 14.2; Dam No. 2, 7.6; Dam No. 6, 11.6; Dam No. 9, 21.1, and Dam No. 12, 10.8 feet. The dams are down. The rivers will continue to rise today and tonight. Between 18 and 19 feet expected on the gauge at Pittsburgh Saturday forenoon. More rain is expected, which may cause a further rise.

Physicians Here For Convention

Physicians from all parts of the United States and Canada are in Pittsburgh today as delegates to the convention of the National Medical Society and the American Therapeutic Society. The convention, which is to last two days, opened this morning in the Roosevelt Hotel. Dr. Robert L. Anderson, president of the Allegheny County Medical Society, is scheduled to make the address of welcome. Dr. E. Boswell McGrady, of Pittsburgh, is president of the Therapeutic Society.

THRILL SLAYER TO PAY WIDOW

ATLANTA, April 5.—(INS.)—An echo of the amazing escapades of George Harsh and Richard Gallogly, erstwhile Oglethorpe University "thrill" slayers, was heard in the Fulton County Superior Court here yesterday.

Under a consent verdict, Mrs. Mary Belle Smith, widowed by the bullet of Harsh which brought death to Willard Smith, drug clerk, in an attempted robbery last October, was awarded $25,000 damages in her suit against Harsh.

Mrs. Smith had sued for $100,000.

Half of the sum awarded the young widow will go to her attorneys, who undertook the case under an agreement of 50 per cent contingent fee, according to revelations in court.

Both Harsh and Gallogly are serving life sentences for the murder of Smith and S. H. Meeks, another clerk.

MORROW, 3,150 MILES AWAY, LAUDS RADIO-PHONE TIE-IN

NEWARK, N. J., April 5.—(AP.)—Two thousand citizens of New Jersey, including industrial, political and civic leaders, sat down to dinner last night in six different cities of the state and listened in common to the voice of Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow, speaking in Mexico City, some 3,150 miles away. Telephone wires carried the ambassador's address to radio stations at Newark, Atlantic City and Camden, which broadcast it.

Engineers said this tie-in of telephone and radio was more difficult than the hook-up used to broadcast the inaugural speech of President Hoover.

The occasion was sponsored jointly by the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company and the State Chamber of Commerce.

The "key" dinner was held at the new state telephone headquarters building in Newark, which was dedicated last night on the occasion of the fiftieth anniversary of the telephone in New Jersey.

Ambassador Morrow reviewed the history of communication and transportation between Mexico and the United States, and spoke of the "well nigh perfect" mechanical instrument. He invited all his audience to "visit this country and see something of the charm of a nation which has the oldest civilization upon the North American continents," and added:

"You can come and still feel close to your home at any hour of the day or night. You may talk directly to your business associates or to your families."

Saved Officer's Life, but Alas! He Pays Fine

NEW YORK, April 5.—(AP.)—James Faulkner, of Irvington, N. J., feels he has been short changed by the metropolitan police. But there's nothing he can do about it.

When but 13 years old, Jimmy says, he saved the life of a policeman named Higgins and received a reward of 13 cents from admiring grownups to buy lollypops. Yesterday he was arrested by a patrolman Higgins for passing a traffic signal. He offered to return the 13 cents in lieu of a fine, but the magistrate couln't see such odd change entering into his court's bookkeeping and made it an even dollar.

The Higgins who made the arrest said he wasn't the one who had been rescued.

NO COW FOR BUTCHER FETE, NO FLAGS FOR DOCTORS

DETROIT, April 5.—(AP.)—Cause and effect are queer things and follow strange and devious routes. For example:

Because the Detroit common council, more than a year ago refused to permit Detroit butchers to welcome guests to a butchers' convention by erecting a large "ornamental" cow on the facade of the city hall, a forthcoming convention of fire department physicians will have to worry along without a $750, appropriation for "entertainment."

Such appropriations are so customary as to be almost unwritten law. The fire physicians were chosen as fit persons with whom to institute a new custom by Councilman Robert G. Ewald, a labor member, who expounded his views in an oration on "justice."

"I'm tired," said Councilman Ewald, "of buying flags for doctors and such people, while laboring men are not even permitted to hang a cow where they want it."

The council agreed. "After all," said Councilman Philip A. Callahan. "There wasn't any real harm in that cow."

Annual Banquet of Master Barbers Here

The local chapter of the Master Barbers of America held its annual banquet at the Roosevelt Hotel last night. Frank M. Levett, associate superintendent of schools, spoke on the progress of the Allegheny Vocational School for Barbers. George J. Emminger, head of the school, outlined the results of the two-year campaign directed at sanitary operation of barber shops.

Sign This Petition and Help to Cut Taxes

Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph

To the Congress of the United States:

We, the undersigned, respectfully urge that the Congress of the United States give immediate consideration to the proposition that there be a downward revision of all income taxes on all earned incomes such as salaries or fees, or commissions for personal services. We urge this because of the many instances where wage or fee or commission earners sometimes have just a few years of good incomes and prior to and after that period have substantially less incomes. Their period or better earnings which might give the average wage earner a chance to accumulate some capital is heavily taxed and they seldom have a new opportunity which might tend to make more useful citizens of them.

Labor in general, lawyers, doctors, architects, clerical workers, salesmen, dentists, engineers, journalists, accountants, actors, motion picture actors, singers, musicians, and all the other professional people are in the same plight in the matter of earned income as distinguished from earnings on capital, and since they represent a great percentage of the citizenry of the country, we beg the gravest consideration of this proposition. Each signer below hereby enrolls as a member of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph League for the Downward Revision of Taxes on earned incomes and will work with that newspaper toward the end stated.

Permission is hereby granted the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph to list the signer in the proper Labor, Clerical or Professional Division of the said League for presentation to our signatures to the United States Congress for the stated purpose.

The signer is not obliged to make any kind of contribution or to do anything except to give his moral support to this movement.

SENATE INQUIRY TOLD FEDERAL OFFICES SOLD

International News Service.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—A mass of documentary evidence, revealing the bartering of Federal offices in southern states, was poured into the record of the Senate's patronage inquiry today when a hearing was held on charges that postoffices have been sold in Mississipi, Texas, Arkansas and Tennessee.

The most interesting revelations touched upon the rule of R. B. Creager as Republican National Committeeman in Texas. One accusation pictured Creager as taking huge sums from Democratic leaders in an effort to defeat Mrs. Miriam A. "Ma" Ferguson when she won the Texas Democratic Gubernatorial nomination in 1924. Creager was charged with allowing Democratic leaders to name the Republican Gubernatorial nominee in return for $25,000.

The Mississippi evidence revealed huge collections by the Republican leaders—Perry Howard, Negro Republican national committeeman, and E. P. Booze, husband of the Republican national committeewoman—from postmasters. About half the postmasters of the state reported making heavy contributions to Howard's organization, either voluntarily or by solicitation. In many instances they told of paying the money in advance before getting postmaster appointments.

HOEY'S 'SASSER' SKIPS HEARING

John Fitzgerald, 35, of 805 Watson street, elevator operator at Central Police Station, failed to appear for a hearing today to answer a charge of disorderly conduct preferred by Police Inspector James N. Hoey.

Fitzgeral was arrested yesterday after he is alleged to have "sassed" Hoey. The two had an argument, according to witnesses. Hoey ordered Fitzgerald to leave his car and go home. Instead, Fitzgerald hopped in his cage and started up, leaving Hoey waiting at the door. He was arrested when he came down and released on his own recognizance. Magistrate Thomas Jones ordered the case held over.

Burgess Pfischner Feted in Millvale

A testimonial banquet was tendered Burgess E. B. W. Pfischner, of Millvale, last night in the Millvale Moose Temple, the affair marking the fifty-seventh birthday of the borough official. Prominent in politics in the county for more than 30 years, Mr. Pfischner has served as burgess of the borough for 20 years. County Detective James S. McGinley, Justice of the Peace, of the borough, was toastmaster, and Joseph Griffiths was chairman. The speakers were Sheriff Robert H. Braun, Charles C. Guenther, Thomas Nestor, Millvale postmaster; Justice of Peace Eugene Mehrlich, of Shaler Township, and Fred W. Jones, assistant general director of the Loyal Order of Moose.

Homestead Shooting Decision Delayed

Burgess John J. Cavanaugh, of Homestead, withheld his decision in the case of Theodore Tomasella, 19, of 201 Eighth avenue, West Homestead, who was arraigned in Homestead Police Court last night as a result of a street fight three weeks ago during which Tomasella was shot by Policeman Steve Barron.

Tomasella is said to have refused to move when the officer found him loitering with companions in Eighth avenue during the early morning hours of March 24. It was brought out at the hearing last night that an argument over the issuance of an automobile tag for illegal parking had preceded the shooting.

Heinz Veterans Guests at Banquet

Pittsburgh members of the H. J. Heinz Company Veterans' Association were guests at a banquet tendered by the company last night in the Heinz auditorium, Progress street, North Side. Sebastian Mueller, first vice president of the company, was the only speaker. Music and motion pictures were included in the program of entertainment. F. H. Beer, president of the association, was toastmaster.

'Autoist Is Killed In Crossing Crash

His automobile struck by a train at the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie Railroad crossing at Coraopolis, last night, John Ivkovich, 42, of 117 Ella street, McKees Rocks, suffered injuries which caused his death in the South Side Hospital an hour later. Ivkovich, whose automobile was wrecked, was extricated by railroad employes and rushed to the hospital.

Drug User Admits Guilt, Gets Parole

William J. Mangan, of South Eleventh street, was paroled for two years by Federal Judge Nelson McVicar when he pleaded guilty to violating the Harrison narcotic act by possessing drugs. He told the court he formerly used drugs, but had not done so for a long time.

Moonshine Hauler To Serve 90 Days

Abe R. Feldman, of the Hill district, convicted Wednesday of transporting moonshine, was sentenced to 90 days in jail by Federal Judge F. P. Schoonmaker today.

Roadhouse Man Convicted

William Carr, alleged proprietor of the Twelve-Mile House, in Kittanning pike, was found guilty of sale and possession of liquor in Federal Court today. Sentence will be pronounced later.

BORAH UPHOLDS HOOVER BAN ON OIL DRAINING

WASHINGTON, April 5.—(AP.)—Against persistent protests from the West to the order of President Hoover withdrawing public lands from oil operations, Senator Borah (R.), of Idaho, spoke out yesterday in defense of the Hoover conservation policy as "nothing less than ordinary prudence."

Referring to the concessions in the Russian oil fields, Senator Borah, an advocate of Soviet recognition, stated that Charles Evans Hughes as secretary of state "warned all men to stay away from these people—so these companies have bravely gone in and taken the risk and secured such concessions as will enable them to lay a solid foundation for a world monopoly in oil."

"I am in sympathy with the President's effort to conserve our oil," the Senator wrote. "It seems to me the order which he has made is the first step in that direction. It is true that it will retard the development of our oil fields in the West. But we can make no better investment as a state than to keep these oil deposits for future development. They will increase in value as rapidly as anything the state could possess.

Secretary Wilbur in answering a committee of attorneys representing a group of oil companies said yesterday that the President's oil conservation policy clearly contemplates the disallowance of unapproved permits for drilling on the public domain.

Real Strad Violin Sold for Only $80

YORK, Pa., April 5.—(INS.)—Rare violins are, apparently, not considered valuable in this community. At a recent public auction a violin, reputed to be a genuine Stradivarius, made in 1703, was sold to the highest bidder for the small sum of $80. The bidding started at $5. The violin had been in the possession of the family of the late Emery K. Eichelberger, of this city, for more than 90 years.

Sandino Proposes Nicaraguan Parley

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras, April 5.—(AP.)—The latest move of Augustino Sandino, Nicaraguan rebel, is to suggest a conference of all Latin American nations and the United States to "settle the Nicaraguan problem and the projected Nicaraguan canal." His proposal was made in a letter to President Irigoyen of Argentina.

CANADIANS ACT ON SINKING

WASHINGTON, April 5.—(AP.)—Word from Ottawa that the Canadian government had decided to make the sinking of the Canadian rum runner I'm Alone the subject of formal representation to the American government was interpreted by unofficial and diplomatic circles here last night as a move on the part of the Canadians to bring the anti-rum smuggling treaty of 1924 up for formal discussion.

The treaty was made between the United States and Great Britain and is binding on Canada. Divergent views are held by officials of the governments on just what points the treaty covers and it has been known for some time that both the British and Canadian governments, in connection with previous rum running incidents, have been anxious to discuss the divergent points with the Americans.

The unofficial Canadian view is that the case will be predicated on these points:

Whether the pursuit of a suspected vessel can be carried outside the one-hour limit of the treaty.

The nature of the pursuit, namely, whether the fact that the "I'm Alone," was sunk by another vessel than that which began the pursuit, constitutes "continuous and hot pursuit."

PIERSON DEATH LAID TO RUM

PALM BEACH, Fla., April 5.—(AP.)—A. Romeyne Pierson, wealthy Glen Ridge, N. J., clubman, came to his death from "natural causes," a coroner's jury decided here yesterday, after a two-day investigation.

Pierson died at his winter home here early last Tuesday under mysterious circumstances. Shortly before the verdict was announced, Dr. D. M. Jared, bacteriologist, who performed the autopsy at the inquest, submitted a formal report to the jury stating that an examination of Pierson's body showed that the immediate cause of the clubman's death was alcoholic poisoning.

Both Mrs. Pierson and a nurse, Miss Minnie Vincent, had testified Tuesday that Pierson was intoxicated late Monday night and that he spent more than an hour quarreling with his wife. He finally was persuaded to leave Mrs. Pierson's room but when he reached his bedroom, he stumbled and fell.

The nurse testified that she and Mrs. Pierson were unable to carry him to his bed and that Mrs. Pierson placed a pillow under his head, and covered him with a blanket. When Miss Vincent entered Pierson's room early Tuesday morning she found he was not breathing and summoned physicians.

P. R. R. Lets Contract For Office Building

PHILADELPHIA, April 5.—(AP.)—The Pennsylvania Railroad Company yesterday announced the awarding of a contract for an office building which will occupy an entire city block on the new Pennsylvania boulevard from Sixteenth to Seventeenth streets. It will rise 22 stories. The building will be constructed as a portion of the plan of the railroad company under an agreement with the City of Philadelphia for the erection of its main station in West Philadelphia and the removal of the elevated structure between West Philadelphia and City Hall.

7 Rules for $25,000 Temperance Contest

The purpose of the contest is to obtain a practicable plan, as a substitute for prohibition, which will secure better actual temperance conditions, which will be more easily possible of enforcement by state and Federal authorities, which will offer less encouragement to crime and tend less to debauch the public service, and which will not so outrage and violate the fundamental rights and personal liberties of American citizens.

The rules and conditions of the contest are simple and are as follows:

1—Every person is entitled to enter the contest, but no one person may submit more than one plan.

2—The practicable plan proposed as a substitute for prohibition must be set forth in an article containing not more than 1,000 words.

3—This contest will close April 30, 1929, and no plan which has not been mailed and postmarked on or before that date will be considered.

4—The articles submitted in the contest will be judged by a committee of eminent Americans, the personnel of the committee to be announced at a later date.

5—The full prize of $25,000 will be awarded to the contestant submitting the best plan as a practical temperance substitute for prohibition.

6—If other plans not awarded the first prize shall still be considered worthy of some compensation by the committee, a second prize of $5,000 and other prizes of $1,000 each may be awarded.

7—Articles submitting a plan to be considered in this contest may be sent to the temperance contest committee, care of the editor of any one of the following Hearst newspapers: Albany Times-Union, Atlanta Georgian, Baltimore News, Boston Evening American, Chicago Herald and Examiner, Detroit Times, Los Angeles Examiner, New York American, Omaha Bee-News, Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, Rochester Journal, San Antonio Light, San Francisco Examiner, Syracuse Journal, Seattle Post-Intelligencer, Washington Herald, Wisconsin News (Milwaukee).

PROHIBITION 60 YEARS AGO SHOWN AS FAILURE

In submitting an interesting entry in the Hearst $25,000 temperance prize contest, John Mahoney, of 4 North Sovereign avenue, Atlantic City, N. J., quotes an interesting page of prohibition history, published in The Nation, 13 years ago.

This quotation evidences how previous American attempts in various states to bring about temperance through prohibition, had failed. Mahoney cited them as an indication of the futility of any extreme measure on either a national scale or by states, since such a course invariably results in license, law-breaking and a worse state of affairs than such legislation seeks to cure.

WIDE DRY MOVEMENT

Referring to "the first breeze of prohibition," Mahoney quotes from the magazine of March 16, 1916:

"Sixty years ago, there was a movement for prohibition which seemed like the beginning of the end. In 1850, Vermont passed a prohibitory law and Ohio one prohibiting the sale of liquor to be drunk on the premises.' This seems to be a somewhat sensible basis for the solution of the problem. "In 1851, Illinois imitated Ohio, and Ohio put a prohibition amendment in her constitution. The next year Massachusetts and Rhode Island joined the procession, and Vermont strengthened her law. In 1854 Connecticut fell into line.

"The following year saw a great breach made in the liquor ramparts. Delaware, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, Nebraska, New Hampshire and even New York went 'dry.' No other year has witnessed so many victories for the cause. But defeat was only less swift.

STATES REPEAL LAWS

Illinois had already repealed her law of 1851. New York's statute was declared unconstitutional the year following its passage. Delaware repented in 1857. Indiana, Iowa and Nebraska in 1858. Rhode Island's excess of virtue held out until 1863. Connecticut's nine years longer, and Massachusetts and Michigan fell together in 1875.

"Of the 13 states which, between 1850 and 1855, had adopted prohibition, only three retained it 20 years later. Of these three, Ohio gave it up in 1888, and New Hampshire and Vermont in 1902."

Other views of thinkers on the uppermost subject in America are:

HENRY ALLEN OVERSTREET

Dr. Henry Allen Overstreet, professor of philosophy at the College of the City of New York, and author of "Influencing Human Behavior" and other volumes on psychology:

"The worst enemy we face in America today is one very special kind of prohibition—the prohibition to think honestly and critically about a federal law. Many of us believe that the Volstead act has been a breeder of a new kind of hypocrisy and a new kind of lawlessness.

"We are troubled about the situation. We are not interested in having a drunken America, but we are interested in having an honest-minded and law-abiding America. Therefore, we want the chance to discuss this obviously apparent failure of the Volstead act. We want to find out whether there is not a better way of accomplishing the end we all desire, namely, the achievement of a temperate America.

"For that reason, I can see nothing but good resulting from the Hearst $25,000 temperance contest. It will give us a chance to think this thing out. And wherever there is a chance to think a thing out, honestly and fearlessly, good must somehow result."

FRANK GARBUTT

Frank Garbutt, prominent business man and civic leader, Los Angeles:

"The prohibition situation is an intolerable condition that is undermining the integrity of the nation. Mr. Hearst's $25,000 temperance prize contest should accomplish much good by giving widespread publicity to the best constructive thought on the abatement of this unfortunate condition.

"The Volstead act was passed as an emergency measure to put an end to the evils of a liquor traffic grown insolent from its own power. It was passed by the votes of anti-liquor crusaders and fanatics, combined with right-thinking, upstanding citizens and those who had suffered from the abuses of the liquor oligarchy.

"An attempt to alter instantaneously the habits of living of over half of our people was certain of failure. Especially was this true of those who had learned from their fathers and mothers to regard light wines, beers and ales as a table necessity. It would have been as easy to legislate them into the belief that the use of meat as a food was criminal.

GOT HUGE PROFITS

"It was natural for those who did not possess pre-war stocks to seek a supply of what, to them, was a necessity. Hard liquor, lending itself with far greater facility to the business of bootlegging, soon increased the profits of this illegal business to the point where it created enormous revenues over-night.

"Unbelievable sums were available for bribery and corruption. Bribery, from the very nature of the business, became safe. An enforcement officer could "find" several times his yearly salary by industriously hunting in the wrong place at the right time. Popular opinion held that the only crime was getting caught.

"From this developed the clandestine use of inferior bootleg liquor by people who had never touched the legitimate article.

"Boys and girls of immature years and others of weak character became the victims of poisonous liquor, the best of which would eventually ruin any constitution.

"No amount of money the government may appropriate for prohibition enforcement can tithe the sums available as a reward for its evasion with the concomitants of bribery and corruption in their most evasive forms.

REMEDY UP TO PEOPLE

"The people have gotten themselves into this dilemma and there is only one way out. Remove the reward. Let the government furnish good liquor at a fair price to all who want it. The bootleggers cannot compete with this. No one will pay 20 times the price for questionable and vile bootleg liquor when he can buy guaranteed government tested stock at near cost.

"Bootlegging will die overnight. Bribery will cease for lack of both money and incentive. The use of hard liquor will decrease. Surreptitious drinking will be a thing of the past. Thousands of lives will be saved annually. Distributors will not drum up business because the government will be the sole distributor. Manufacturing will not increase because of the smallness of the profits and the lack of an artificially stimulated demand.

"I wish success to Mr. Hearst's efforts."

Joe Elliott, Filipino tenor, will sing, and members of Miss Utley's staff will assist in the service. Norris V. Watson, of the Christian Co-Workers, is arranging the meeting.

Alleged Marriage Swindler Is Held

The story of how E. E. Stevenson, of Woolrick, Clinton County, Pa., parted with $500 through answering a matrimonial advertisement and did not get a wife, will be aired in Criminal Court. Mrs. A. M. Campbell, widow, of 801 North Highland avenue, whom Stevenson charges with having swindled him out of $500 through a matrimonial advertisement in a newspaper, was held for court in $1,000 bond yesterday at a hearing before Alderman George J. Anderson. She was arrested Monday by county detectives on complaint of Stevenson.

CUPID'S VICTIM, POLICEMAN, GETS 'RIDE'

News that Wagonman Paul Vourron, at 58, had taken unto himself a second bride reached the West End Police Station, where he reports, yesterday. In no time at all a meeting of the best minds about the station evolved a plan for dealing adequately with the situation.

A few hours later, residents of the West End, Sheraden, Crafton, Ingram and McKees Rocks had an opportunity to witness the spectacle of a uniformed policeman handcuffed to a blushing woman, riding captive in a tin-bedecked automobile.

Later charges of committing matrimony were informally made against the couple, and they were lodged in a cell. They remained there two hours, and the happy pastime was marred by only one omission. No one, it seems, remembered to sing "The Prisoner's Song."

Residents of Sheraden had no difficulty in recognizing Wagonman Vourron as a resident of 3023 Merwyn avenue, in that district, and as the one-time cornerman of Corliss Station square. He has five children, four of them married, and has been on the police force for 27 years.

He had been a widower nine years when he met Miss Mary C. Ennis in Atlantic City last August. On Tuesday Miss Ennis, 36, became Mrs. Vourron in the Church of the Most Blessed Sacrament in Philadelphia.

HURT IN FALL, WOMAN DIES

Mrs. Rachael R. Gordon, 64, wife of James S. Gordon, Oakmont undertaker, died early today as the result of a fall in her home last December 24. She died in Pittsburgh Hospital, where she had been confined since the accident.

Mrs. Gordon was a daughter of Thomas and Evelyn Painter, old settlers in Westmoreland County. She went to Oakmont shortly after her marriage 39 years ago. She was a member of the Oakmont Presbyterian Church.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Gordon leaves a son, J. Paul Gordon, New Kensington undertaker; four daughters, Mrs. W. E. Caugherty, of Tarentum; Mrs. John M. Walker, of Leechburgh; Mrs. John R. Davis, of Oakmont, and Margaret Lorraine Gordon at home, and three grandchildren.

Lawrence Hospital Campaign Planned

NEW CASTLE, Pa., April 5.—It was announced by Mrs. J. He will be the speaker at the founder's day banquet of Phi Alpha Theta, national honorary history fraternity, at a dinner at the Faculty Club in the evening.

SCOUTS START TRAFFIC COUNT MAY 23

Boy Scouts will take Pittsburgh's fourth annual traffic count, on May 23, it was announced today. A call for 1200 Scouts to accomplish the task has been broadcast.

The information to be gleaned from the count is needed in conjunction with the pending installation of an electric traffic signal system in downtown Pittsburgh, according to Traffic Engineer Burton W. Marsh.

The Scouts are to be enlisted under the direction of Tom C. Venable, of the Allegheny County Council, Boy Scouts of America. They will be furnished with carfare and lunch money, and there will be prizes for the best workers.

Pottstown School Gets $300,000 Gift

POTTSTOWN, Pa., April 5.—(AP.)—James I. Wendel, head master of Hill school yesterday announced that Mrs. Alexander Hamilton Rice has made a gift of $300,000 to the school for the purpose of electing a general science building as a memorial to her son, Harry Elkins Widener. He graduated in 1903, and lost his life on the Titanic.

In addition to the usual scientific facilities the building will contain small private laboratories for the use of gifted students.

Washington Clubs Join for Banquet

WASHINGTON, Pa., April 5.—Frederick A. Godcharles, of Harrisburg, state librarian, heads the list of speakers at the combined service clubs' banquet in the George Washington Hotel Friday night at 6:30 o'clock. Auditor General Edward Martin, and Horace S. Kerr, director of Lions International, also are scheduled for addresses. Rotary, Kiwanis, Quota and Lions clubs will combine in the affair, which is being sponsored by the Lions.

More Land Bought For $300,000 Church

WASHINGTON, Pa., April 5.—With the purchase of additional property and the selection of the architect, the Second Presbyterian Congregation of this city is ready to proceed with plans for the erection of a $300,000 edifice at the corner of Beau and Penn streets. The properties purchased give the congregation a frontage of 185 feet and depth of 360 feet. The edifice is to be Gothic in design and of stone.

STATE SEARCH FOR MISSING BOY BEGUN

A state-wide search is being made for Jack Scully, 19, of 1417 Jancey street, East End, at the request of the youth's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond A. Scully.

Young Scully has been missing from home since Monday night, when he left word that he had obtained employment and did not expect to return until late. He is described as being 5 feet 9 inches tall, weighing 160 pounds and having sandy hair and dark brown eyes.

He wore a dark blue cheviot suit; light gray top-coat, gray hat, and black oxfords.

The Bureau of Missing Persons was notified Tuesday, and state police were enlisted in the search today.

Woodside Framing Reply to McGovern

County Controller Robert G. Woodside has begun to prepare his answer to the rule granted County Commissioner Charles C. McGovern upon him to show cause why the Controller's report for 1927 should not be stricken from the Common Pleas Court record. The Controller has 30 days in which to file his answer. He said yesterday that he "did not care to comment at this time" on the statement made by McGovern charging that "the independent audit of the county's fiscal affairs was no audit at all."

Extra Values for the Smoker

If you smoke, here's the "ammunition" at prices that will certainly please your pocketbook—two for one—plus one cent.

Once more the lowly penny takes the center of the stage. At all the Dow stores all this week the insignificant "copper" buys a second unit—in other words, you get two for one price, PLUS one cent.

These are real values and it is a real opportunity. The quantities in some departments are necessarily limited, so our suggestion is: Don't stop to "think it over," but "come on over."

NEIGHBORHOOD TERRORIZED BY SQUIRREL, 7 ATTACKED

CHICAGO, April 5.—(AP.)—Seven persons, four of them children, have been bitten by a red squirrel during the past three days. One woman was bleeding from 20 bites on the arms, neck and shoulder, when she ran into a police station yesterday and told of the attack.

Mrs. Marie Meyenberg said she was hanging clothes on the line when the squirrel jumped on her shoulder. When she tried to brush it away, she said, the animal began biting her. Her husband also was bitten, the squirrel leaping upon him as he sat on the porch.

Augusta Schrader, 6, was on her way to school when the squirrel jumped at her, biting her hands. Harry Franke, 4, was bitten while at play. Mrs. Rose Vogel, her son, Carson, and Lawrence Flournoy were attacked on the street.

Acting Police Capt. James Walsh, to whom Mrs. Meyenberg told her story, said it was the first time in 37 years' service he ever heard of a squirrel biting a person.

The Department of Health and the Police Department joined forces today in an effort to find and kill the squirrel. All the attacks were in the vicinity of the 1300 block on Addison street.

The seven who were bitten were in no danger, physicians said.

Assassin Shoots At Woman in Auto

YOUNGSTOWN, O., April 5.—An attempt was made yesterday to murder Miss Rose Guarmien, a prominent Italian resident of Warren, as she was riding in her car through Youngstown. A bullet fired at the car from an upstairs window pierced the windshield and passed between the woman and her brother, sitting next to her. Police are combing the Italian district for the alleged assailant.

YOUNG, MORGAN FOR WAR DEBT COMBINE

By OTTO D. TOLISCHUS.

(Copyright, 1929, by International News Service.)

BERLIN, April 5.—It was learned in high diplomatic quarters today that, in contrast with the official American attitude, Owen D. Young and J. P. Morgan, American delegates to the reparation conference in Paris, have practically accepted the allied principle of combining war debts and reparations as the basis of German payments.

The experts, it is declared, have abandoned any pretence of an expert investigation of Germany's capacity to pay. The conference, it is claimed, has become a bargaining meeting, or, as Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, in an uncontradicted statement, characterized it, "A horse trading deal."

WANT TO SPLIT DIFFERENCE

The Americans, it is understood, are merely trying to mediate between the Allies and Germany by proposing they split the difference that exists in their figures.

The allied minimum for German annuities is roughly 2,000,000,000 marks. The German maximum offer is 1,500,000,000 marks.

Young proposed 1,750,000,000 annually.

These figures are absent from written notes, but are implied in the "principles" they enunciate.

And Young accepted the German principle that Germany must pay the allied war debts, International News Service was informed. The remaining difference between the Americans and the Allies is confined to the amount that Germany must still pay for "reparations."

COMBINE OPPOSED

Dr. Schacht, head of the German Reichsbank and leader of the German delegation of experts, stresses that Germany has already paid more than 50,000,000,000 marks or nearly twice the actual reparations imposed by the Treaty of Versailles.

The American delegates are acting in an entirely unofficial capacity as the United States government refused to participate officially in the conference. However, the Washington Government, through official spokesman, has repeatedly made it clear that it would never consent to a linking of war debts and reparations into a single issue.

Anonymous Letter Aids in Liquor Raid

An anonymous letter was responsible for Mrs. Mary Zalaski, 28, of 1639 East Ohio street, being held for the grand jury, charged with violating the Snyder act in Morals Court today. Police Lieut. Zach Fleming testified he and a squad raided the Zalaski place yesterday after he received a letter complaining that the woman was selling liquor to persons in the neighborhood. A small quantity of wine was seized, Fleming testified.

FABIAN LAVELLE

Fabian, 12, is the honest little lad who tied up Broadway traffic when he tried to sell pedestrians and cab drivers a bottle of whisky he had found for $1. In police court, Fabian admitted he didn't know what whisky is, much less how to spell the word. He was freed.

Woman Wills $23,500 Estate to Two Sons

Her two sons, John Bright Ladley and Richard Horner Ladley, are named heirs to the $23,500 estate of Mrs. Bessie Ladley, of East End, widow of William L. Ladley, in her will filed for probate today. Harry Bright, a brother of Mrs. Ladley, was named executor.

4 Children Willed $25,000 by Mother

Mrs. Emily Rome, of Carnegie, leaves a $25,000 estate to her four children, Frank, Mabel, Dorothy and Walter Rome, in her will which was filed for probate today. Frank and Walter Rome were named executors.

LEOPOLD DIES; FATHER OF BOY SLAYER

CHICAGO, April 5. — (AP.) — Nathan F. Leopord, Sr., father of the boy who was sentenced with Richard Loeb to a life term in Joliet penitentiary for the "thrill" murder of Bobby Franks, died last night in a hospital. He had undergone a major operation ten days ago. He was 69 years old.

Mr. Leopold was a wealthy lake transportation magnate and highly regarded in Chicago business circles.

REFUSED MONEY AID

The discovery that his son and young Loeb had killed little Bobby Franks was a severe blow to him. When the two boys went on trial in 1925 he joined Loeb's father, who was also wealthy, in refusing to devote their millions to fight for an acquittal. They employed Clarence Darrow in their son's behalf, pleas of guilty were entered and the attorney directed his efforts to save the young slayers from the gallows.

LEAVES OLD HOME

After the famous trial Leopold, Sr., moved with his two other sons from the old family home, and two years later he married Mrs. Daisy K. Hahn, of Los Angeles. His first wife had died in 1921.

Leopold was born at Eagle River, Mich., in 1860. He came here in 1867 and entered the lake transportation business at sixteen.

A. H. Loeb, father of Richard Loeb, died October 27, 1924. Jacob Franks, father of the slain Bobby, died April 19, 1928. All three men were prominent in Chicago life up to the time that Bobby Franks was kidnaped and killed by "Dickie" Loeb and Nathan F. Leopold, Jr. All lived in seclusion thereafter.

MICHIGAN BILLS FOR DRY VOTE PRESENTED

LANSING, Mich., April 5.—Heartened by the Wisconsin prohibition referendum victory, wets acted in both houses of the Michigan Legislature late yesterday to force a like referendum in this state in November, 1930.

Cass J. Jankowski, of Detroit, presented in the Senate a resolution for a state-wide vote. In the House Robert Wardell, Detroit, introduced a similar proposal.

Wardell's resolution proposed a referendum on legalizing intoxicating liquors for home use, a plan patterned after the Ontario system.

DEMAND QUICK ACTION

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 5. — (AP.) — Immediate action will be asked by the wet leaders in the Wisconsin Legislature on the two bills providing for repeal of the state dry act as the result of the referendum Tuesday in which the repeal question carried by a majority of more than 140,000.

It was freely predicted by wet leaders that the repeal measure will pass the lower house without much difficulty, although a battle is expected in the Senate.

Austrian Chancellor Declines Re-Election

VIENNA, April 5.—(AP.)—Chancellor Seipel, who resigned Wednesday, was invited yesterday by the executives of the Christian Socialist party to accept re-election, but he declined. He reiterated that the political situation required that a new chancellor be named.

CATAPULT PICKUP DEVICE MAY AID PLANE REFUELING

ROOSEVELT FIELD, N. Y., April 5.—(AP.)—After tests of a catapult pickup device yesterday, Lieut. H. B. Clarke, manager of this flying field, announced that in about a month he would attempt to better the refueling endurance flight record of the Army plane, Qestion Mark.

The machine, invented by A. W. Carl and Henry Bushmeyer, is a circular contraption that can be wheeled about to any position and set up in a few minutes. A dangling rope from the plane releases the catapult just as the article to be picked up is automatically fastened to the rope. This throws the article toward the plane as the rope is reeled in and prevents shock.

Six tests were made by Clarke, packages ranging up to 40 pounds being picked up.

Too Much ACID

Many people, two hours after eating, suffer indigestion as they call it. It is usually excess acid. Correct it with an alkali. The best way, the quick, harmless and efficient way, is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained for 50 years the standard with physicians. One spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in stomach acids, and at once. The symptoms disappear in five minutes.

You will never use crude methods when you know this better method. And you will never suffer from excess acid when you prove out this easy relief. Please do that—for your own sake—now.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drug store.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade-Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

SMUGGLING BIG PROBLEM IN DOPE WAR

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Drug addiction is decreasing throughout the United States, according to a nation-wide survey just announced by the Federal Narcotic Bureau.

The survey further revealed that the average age of addict is increasing, indicating, officials declared, that few recruits are being added to the ranks of addicts.

The survey, which will be placed before President Hoover's law enforcement commission, was based on questionnaires sent to Federal narcotic agents all over the country. They were asked to poll the number of addicts in their territories and report the total to headquarters. From these reports, Col. L. G. Nutt, narcotics chief, has prepared a digest of narcotic enforcement achievements and problems.

90 PER CENT MEN

Generally speaking, Col. Nutt declared, the domestic drug situation is well in hand. In addition to the reported decreasing number of addicts, he said that less than 2 per cent of the drugs legally manufactured in America are diverted to illicit channels.

The average age of male addicts convicted of narcotic violations was found to be 35¼ years, and women, 32½ years. Of those convicted 90 per cent are men.

Only three years ago, Nutt stated, the average age of addicts was 27 years.

Of the total number of addict-convicts, 39 per cent are repeaters, charged with two, three or more offenses.

As in the past, the chief problem confronting enforcement officials, Nutt added, is to break up dope smuggling operations.

WOULD WORK ABROAD

"Nearly 100 per cent of the drugs used by American addicts comes from the factories abroad," he averred.

On the basis of the number of addicts shown in the survey, Nutt estimated that approximately 21 tons of morphine are smuggled into the United States each year. This is seven times the amount of morphine legally used.

How to smash this enormous illicit traffic has proved a particularly trying task, Nutt admitted. As one means of attacking it he suggested that Congress authorize the employment of narcotic agents abroad to shadow American smugglers and check the shipments of drugs from European factories.

Officials of the Customs Bureau disputed Col. Nutt's estimate of 21 tons of smuggled morphine, although they admitted the figure might conceivably go higher. They pledged fullest co-operation with the Narcotics Bureau in fighting the dope traffic. Of the seizures made by customs the largest amounts are smoking opium, with morphine second.

Hoover's Aid Asked For Missouri River

WASHINGTON, April 5.—(AP.)—Early development of the Missouri River was urged upon President Hoover and Secretary Good yesterday by a delegation from South Dakota, Iowa and Nebraska. The President was said to have been hopeful that the work might be started soon so as to make the river available for the transportation of agricultural products in the northwest region it traverses. It was cited that Army engineers have approved plans for opening the river as far as Sioux City, Ia., but the delegation asked that the development be carried to Yankton, S. D.

Duke Challenged In Painting Dispute

LONDON, April 5.—(AP.)—The Mail today says that A. L. Nicholson has challenged the Duke of Sutherland to show side by side the two Romney portraits to determine which, if either, is a copy.

The newspaper describes Mr. Nicholson as a well known London art dealer of 30 years experience, who has offered to refund to Howard Young, of New York, the price paid for his portrait. Mr. Young has accepted and is bringing the painting to England. The Duke asserts the picture is a copy and that he has the original.

MOUNT MERCY TO BE COLLEGE

College courses are to be added to the curriculum taught by the Sisters of Mercy here, to carry farther the educational work done at Mt. Mercy Academy, it was announced today. The school is to be known as Mt. Mercy College.

Announcement of the plan was accompanied by the statement that many parents here desire their daughters to continue their education in Catholic environment in an easily accessible day college of moderate tuition fees. The school will answer these needs, it is promised.

3 Held for Court In Theft of Auto

Three young men, arrested in East End early today for the theft of an auto, were held for court on a larceny charge in Frankstown Avenue Police Court. They are William Galvin, 21, of 1121 Morningside avenue; Bernard Becker, 21, of 278 Fisk street, and William Jones, 19, of 3710 Mintwood street. They were accused of stealing the car of Joseph Schenbachler, of Montier street extension, Wilkinsburg.

Hikers Plan Trip

The Pittsburgh Hiking Club, led by Charles Heisel, will begin its weekly Sunday trip this week from Avalon, it was announced today. Those attending were asked to take car No. 13 or car No. 14, leaving the city at 1:30 p. m.

HOOVER WHITE HOUSE DOG FAMILY RIVALS COOLIDGE'S

WASHINGTON, April 5.—(INS.)—President Hoover has been in office but one month, but in that short time he has collected himself an aggregation of dogs that vies with the kennels of the Coolidge administration, both for numerical strength and variety of breeds.

Six dogs now call the White House their home, headed by the veteran "Tut," Mr. Hoover's pet police dog, who was brought along when the new administration moved in on March 4.

The latest addition is "Pat," an Irish wolfhound, which was presented by a Mrs Smith, who has kennels in Virginia. "Pat" is 11 months old, but he almost equals a small Shetland pony in size.

Just before him came "Whoopee," a shaggy little Schnauzer puppy, the gift of Miss Frances Dillman, of Chicago.

Then there is a black and brown setter, which bears up under the high-powered name of "Englehurst Gillette." This dog was a present from Col. William J. Donovan, of New York, former assistant attorney general.

Another police dog holds forth in addition to "Tut." He is "Buckeye-Eye," and came from Mrs. Gertrude Hanna McCormick, of Cleveland.

The sixth dog is a setter called "High Boy."

"Tut" is the dean of these canine aristocrats and he brooks no interference in his duties as such. Principally, these duties consist of carrying the President's newspaper back and forth between the White House and the executive offices, but he goes at the task very jealously.

The saturation point has about been reached in the matter of dogs, it was indicated at the executive offices. And additions to the White House kennels will, in all probability, be "farmed out" to some of the secretaries.

Jug Business Hit By Jones '5-10' Rum Statute

BEAVER, Pa., April 5.—That the recently enacted Jones "5 and 10" law had materially affected the pottery business so that he had been compelled to lay off men, was testified to in court yesterday by John S. Sherwood, New Brighton pottery manufacturer. He had been called to testify in a case involving an employe, who was a jug inspector. Sherwood declared there had been a considerable falling off in the jug trade since the enactment of the Jones law.

Norristown Plant Swept by Flames

NORRISTOWN, Pa., April.—(AP.)—The Norristown Magnesia and Asbestos Company was swept by flames today with a loss estimated at $200,000. Alfred Volpe, a fireman, was slightly injured.

A watchman discovered the fire in one end of the long two-story building that houses the plant.

Upland Street Man Held for Moonshine

John Gazzo, 25, was held for court in Frankstown Avenue Police Court today on a charge of violating the Snyder act after police had testified that they found moonshine, a still and 25 barrels of mash in his home at rear 7301 Upland street.

Sought

CHARLES E. FIGLEY

Figley, 28, formerly of McKeesport, sought by Missing Persons' Bureau at the request of his brother, from whom he separated upon the death of their mother several years ago. He was known to have visited a railroad construction camp at Homestead three weeks ago. It is necessary to locate him to settle an estate.

JENSEN FLIES FOR DETROIT

Martin Jensen, world's solo endurance record holder, hopped off for Detroit today with his wife, Mrs. Margaret Jensen, and Noel Robinson, president of the Tide Water Oil Company, in the famous flier's Green Flash, the Bellanca monoplane in which he established the record.

They stopped off in Pittsburgh last night, arriving here from New York on the flight west.

The famous airman expressed the opinion that Pittsburgh's industrial pre-eminence would make the city prominent in aviation. He said an airplane factory or a branch factory where an established plane is built was all a city needed to give it aviation leadership.

ANNE'S SISTERS UP WITH LINDY

CUERNAVACA, Mexico, April 5.—(AP.)—All three of the daughters of Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow are air-minded. One of them in June will marry Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, foremost aviator. The other two, since "sister" is to have an airman husband, are losing no chances to get some air thrills for themselves.

Miss Elizabeth Morrow, sister of Col. Lindbergh's fiancee, Anne, flew with him yesterday for more than an hour. Their trip in his small two-seated plane took them over the Twin Volcanoes Popocatepetl and Ixtaccihuatl. Such a trip fostered the budding romance of Col. Lindbergh and Anne in the early days of their courtship.

Anne's other sister, Constance, who will return shortly to school in the United States, went for an airplane ride, too, though her's was not so long as Elizabeth's.

Rare Bull Frogs Stolen from Doctor

TOLEDO, O., April 5.—(AP.)—Police searched the city yesterday for the abductors of Mr. and Mrs. Rana Catesbiana, a very extra special pair of super de luxe Louisiana bull frogs who were spirited away from their tank apartment.

Their owner, Dr. Robert Wald, discovered the loss when he went into the back yard to look after the welfare of Mr. and Mrs. Catesbiana, who have figured in a series of biological experiments.

Two other bull frogs were left behind by the robbers. This proves, police believe, that the thieves knew their frog legs. Mr. and Mrs. Catesbiana were said to measure 18 inches in length and to weigh between three and four pounds.

Dr. Wald told police the frogs were such vital factors in some of his experiments that he could place their value to himself at $1,000.

Maid, Suicide, Slew Mistress, Verdict

CHICAGO, April 5.—(AP.) — Mrs. Helen Kelso, 70, died last night from injuries inflicted Wednesday, police said, by her maid, Mrs. Ida Peterson, 65, who became suddenly insane, beating her mistress on the head with a hammer and then killing herself with a razor.

A physician's examination had indicated for a time that a third party might have been responsible, but a coroner's jury held that the maid, who once had been an inmate of the insane hospital at Elgin, caused the dual tragedy.

LABOR HAZARD PROTESTED

HARRISBURG, Pa., April 5.—(AP.)—Vocational education of children was described yesterday as a hazard to the organized crafts by several speakers at the annual meeting of the Pennsylvania State Federation of Labor, here.

A charge was made by John A. Phillips, of Philadelphia, that the vacational bureau of the state department of public instruction, in recent years has failed to live up to the original "promise' to co-operate with the federation and other labor agencies in its regulations concerning the training of school children in the various trades. The result of the leniency of the bureau, Phillips, who is a member of the industrial commission of the department of labor and industry, said was the existing overflow of tradesmen and consesquent lower wages.

After hearing Phillips and others talk on the subject, the federation voted to appoint a committee to study the problem and suggest a program for remedying the situation.

Phillips, in his attack on the state vacational bureau, referred to York, where he said the union printing trade was deteriorating because permission had been granted for schoolboys between 14 and 16 years of gae, to enter into agreements to go to school during a certain period of time and then work at the particular trade they were studying for a simular period.

SLAYING LAID TO RUM RING

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., April 5.—(AP.)—Declaring unrelenting war on "the worst rum and murder ring in Florida," Sheriff W. B. Cahoon, on whose head bootleggers are reputed to have placed a price of $1,000, today redoubled his efforts to find the slayer of Joe Haywood, his former deputy, who was shot to death Wednesday night.

Haywood, a former Federal dry agent at Birmingham, Ala., since coming to Jacksonville as a deputy sheriff, had become known as the "terror of bootleggers." He, too, had a price on his head, authorities were informed, of $500.

Of 14 suspects who were in jail this morning, the Sheriff believed he had the slayer.

The Sheriff announced that the shotgun with which Haywood was killed as he sat in a car at a grade crossing waiting for a train to pass, had been found, and that it was the property of the Sheriff's office. The gun was found in possession of Bill Oglesby, who was held for questioning.

Meanwhile, Dan Hysler, reputed bootleg king of Duval County, was expected to surrender himself to the Sheriff's office today.

LAURA LA PLANTE TO CO-STAR WITH SCHILDKRAUT IN NEW TALKIE

By DOROTHY HERZOG.

(Copyright, 1929, by Premier Syndicate.)

HOLLYWOOD, April 5.

UNIVERSAL is so pleased with the advance comments on "Show Boat" that they're busy these days getting set for Director Harry Pollard's follow-upper. 'Twill be "The Barnstormer," a story of the American stage written by him. I hear tell 'twill be a million-dollar production and 100 per cent dialogue.

The plums in the pudding in terms of Universal exultation are Joseph Schildkraut and Laura La Plante. They are to be co-starred in "The Barnstormer," and 'tis expected screen audiences will be pepped over this particularly after seeing 'em in "Show Boat."

Joseph Schildkraut.

Joseph Schildkraut is a lad who knows his histrionic oats. Judging from his previous cinematic work, one might not suspect this. But Joseph is primarily a romantic character man rather than a dyed-in-celluloid hero. Not having had such roles prior to "Show Boat," he couldn't strut his stuff. In this film, he brings to mind his splendid performance in "Liliom," the play that launched him as a Broadway star years ago. And how his voice does movietone!

As for Laura La Plante, Laura has been frisking in farces and lighter-than-plot films for years. The gal can emote when the opportunity calls for emotions, and 'twould appear she, too, is benefiting by the revolutionary outlouds.

All of which, being merited salaams, is exceedingly cheerful.

Ruth Discusses 'Can Women Fly?'

RUTH ELDER, famous Atlantic flier, writes:

Almost the first thing considered by the woman novice is costume, and it is the least important. To begin with, a loud and bright-colored flying suit not only causes a reflection of the sun rays in your eyes, thereby making it hard to concentrate, but it also attracts the attention of everybody at the airport to you and what you are doing—and that is the last thing you want during the first part of your flying education. If you are serious in taking up this exhilarating sport and method of rapid transportation, you will want, most of all, to attract little attention to your initial efforts. A good flying suit of white lightweight canvas with good fasteners at the ankles, wrists and neck; a tight-fitting leather helmet, and a pair of goggles will be the most serviceable. You can let your flying attract your audience for you, and it will, whether it be good or bad! (To be continued).

If any readers of this colyum wish to get in direct touch with Miss Elder to ask her about flying, address her c/o J. E. Granger, Clover Field, Santa Monica, Cal.

Europe Lures Blanche Sweet

BETTY BRONSON returning to town from a motor trip and elongated week-end at Montecito. Um, she went with this English lad who came across to see her. Visited friends of his. Montecito is an ultra Santa Barbara suburb. Lindbergh has friends there, too! . . . BLANCHE SWEET hankers to set forth for Europe. Transplanting, this time. Not merely a visit. She has decided to sell her charming Bev Hills home if the proper offer presents itself. . . .

Betty Bronson

EVELYN BRENT and HARRY D. EDWARDS saying how-de-do at their Malibou Beach home to Mr. and Mrs. Campbell Gullen, Howard Greer, Jerry Maulsby and Mr. and Mrs. E. Struthers Bunch. Mr. Gullen, by the by, is an English actor and director of prominence here to megaphone "Passing of the Third Floor Back" for Fox. . . RICHARD DIX has sold his Malibou Beach cottage. . . . MRS. WILLIAM S. HART spotted on the balcony of her beach house with telescope to eye. She vowed that seals had come a-visiting from Catalina. And by jove they had.

MEET AGAIN :-: FIRST BUYER :-: AN ARMFUL

Friendships begun in Rome were renewed in Los Angeles recently when Mary Pickford, who recently completed her newest picture, "Coquette," greeted Vittoria Colonna, Duchess of Sermoneta. Mary and her husband, Douglas Fairbanks, were guests of the Duchess while in Italy.

So great is the demand for tickets to "The Broadway Melody" in Los Angeles that Sid Grauman decided to present midnight shows at his Chinese Theater. And above witness Marion Davies buying the first tickets sold for the first midnight performance.

Talk about puppy love—here is a whole armful of it. The girl is Dorothy Janis, youthful movie actress. The dogs—four in all—are six-week-old wired hair fox terriers. They are from the family tree of Duke the Great, grand champion.

Symphony Ends Season on Sunday

The Pittsburgh Symphony Society will give its final concert of the season on Sunday night in the Syria Mosque. Alexander Brailowsky, pianist, will be the soloist for the evening and will play Saint-Saens' Concerto in C Minor.

Willem van Hoogstraten, who conducts the New York Philharmonic Orchestra at the Stadium concerts and the Portland, Ore., Symphony Orchestra regularly, will be guest-conductor. The society was fortunate in obtaining Mr. van Hoogstraten as guest-conductor in the place of Emil Oberhoffer, who is ill.

The feature of the evening will be the performance for the first time in Pittsburgh of the symphony, "America," by Ernest Bloch. This symphony was awarded first prize by Walter Damrosch, Leopold Stokowski, Alfred Hertz, Serge Koussevitzky and Frederick Stock in the recent contest sponsored by Musical America for the best American symphonic work.

MARION DAVIES CAPTURES BERLIN WITH "THE PATSY"

BERLIN, April 5.—Marion Davies has captured Berlin critics as no other film star has in recent years.

Her characterization of "The Patsy" in the film which, under the title "Ein Maeden mit Tempo," had its premiere at the U. F. A. Theater Kurfuerstendamm Wednesday night, has won unanimous praise from the most diversely opinionated movie critics in the world, provoking even a begrudging comment from critics of the Bolshevik and extreme Nationalist papers, who are consistently condemning American films and film stars.

"Marion Davies is not only beautiful, but is a marvelous actress; a lively Patsy, bubbling over with all sorts of whims," says the Socialist Vorwaerts.

LAUD MIMICRY TALENT

The great afternoon daily, Mittag, says:

"This trivial comedy of a Babbitt family becomes a marvelous thing because of Marion Davies, who, besides exhibiting a splendid histrionic ability, reveals a remarkable talent for mimicry, as she imitates Dorothy Gish, Mae Murray and Pola Negri."

The Tempo, Ullstein newspaper, says:

"The drama is built up on the splendid acting of Marion Davies. The story develops to the rhythmic speed of her legs and the quick movements of her body as she displays with exceptional authenticity her mimicry and her varied histrionic talent."

"Marion Davies, the Cinderella of a comfortable home, is a singularly sweet blonde, with a splendid art for mimicry. She is never seen in the usual stilted, beautiful poses that mar so many American films," is the opinion of the Nachtausgabe, a powerful Nationalist afternoon daily.

PRAISE MARIE DRESSLER

The Achturn Abendblatt, Democratic newspaper, has it:

"The film is one of social seriousness, clever and splendidly unceremonious, in which, above all, Marion Davies is an excellent creator."

The Weltamabend, Bolshevist organ, says, through its critic:

"Marion Davies shows a great talent for burlesque."

The critics also praise King Vidor for his splendid handling of a "Babbitt theme," and characterized the film as the best portrayal of the American type of humor.

Marie Dressler, too, won favorable comment from several critics.

The Vossische Zeitung's critic wrote:

"Marion Davies is excellent. With her talent for parody, she bursts the frame of the picture."

STOCK PLAY, TUNES IN BILLS

"The Big Pond," the second offering of the George Sharp Players, is scheduled to open Monday night in the Pitt. In it Pauline MacLean plays the role of an American girl who brings her foreign born admirer to this country to learn American ways. Then he becomes wealthy almost overnight.

In the Alvin, opening Monday, "Good News," musical comedy of college life which enjoyed a prosperous engagement in this city earlier in the season, will be presented. The cast includes Will Ahearn, Dorothy McNulty, Joseph Allen, Max Hoffman, Jr., Margaret Breen, Peggy Bernier and others.

Leatrice Joy, star of the movies, comes in person to the Davis, Monday, as a vaudeville headliner in a novel skit, in which she will be assisted by Mildred Brown.

Ziegfeld's musical triumph, "Rio Rita," with the original New York cast, will return to Pittsburgh for one week, opening Monday evening, April 15. Seats will go on sale Monday morning.

Pianist

Alexander Brailowsky, pianist, will be guest soloist in the Pittsburgh Symphony Society's concert in Syria Mosque on Sunday night.

Thrift Builds Civilization

by

A. L. Humphrey

President

Westinghouse Air-Brake Company

I like the words of Abraham Lincoln —

"Property is the fruit of labor. It is a positive good in the world. That some should be rich shows that others may become rich and hence it is a just encouragement to enterprise. Let not him that is houseless pull down the house of another, but let him work diligently and build one for himself."

Thrift is a philosophy, a principle, and a habit. Thrift makes for character as well as for power. Thrift builds civilization and defends it. Thrift guarantees and conserves all that is constructive in the life of the individual and the nation.

With the farm as a background for his active career, Mr. A. L. Humphrey early developed an interest in mechanics which carried him progressively through the various departments of railroading to the office or Superintendent of Motive Power. He became affiliated with the Westinghouse Air Brake Co. in 1903 and is now President of that great institution. From 1923 to 1925 Mr. Humphrey was President of the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce. He is a Director of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Humphrey says thrift is "a philosophy, a principle, and a habit" that "makes for character as well as for power"—truth well exemplified in his own busy and fruitful life.

In presenting this series of editorials by Pittsburgh's leading business and professional men, the Union Savings Bank hopes to show that thrift and saving are essential to success.

To save is to prepare. Many of our most successful depositors built up their savings by regular deposits of small amounts. In this easy way any person can accumulate a competence. Our Purpose Club is a great help in forming the habit of regular saving. Ask about it.

M'VICAR ADDS TERMS IN JAIL TO DRY FINES

Fines, jail sentences and paroles were plentiful Thursday in Federal Court for violators of the national prohibition law. With few exceptions, Judge Nelson McVicar imposed heavy fines, with either jail sentences or paroles. The fines for the day aggregated $5,700. Twenty defendants entered pleas of guilty.

The imposition of both fines and paroles was a new procedure in disposition of cases under the prohibition act. Under the provision of the paroles the defendants must abstain from the use of intoxicating liquors, obtain reputable employment, must not depart from the jurisdiction of the court, and must report at regular intervals to Federal Prohibition Officer George O'Brien.

Violations of the paroles will bring defendants back into court for sentences on counts of the informations or indictments on which the paroles were given. The heaviest sentence of the day was imposed on Frederico Iarlorior, who was ordered to pay a fine of $500 and undergo one year in jail.

He pleaded guilty to selling and possessing contraband liquor in a store at 71 Washington place last November and December. His statement to the court that he had not been arrested since the Federal raid, was contradicted by a prohibition agent, who told of a more recent arrest on a state warrant. The record sentence of the day was then imposed.

C. A. Cauffield, proprietor of a club on Railroad street, Johnstown, who pleaded guilty to sale and possession of liquor, was let off with a $100 fine and a two-year parole, when a prohibition agent testified that Cauffield had aided him in investigations he was making in Johnstown. Carl Edwards, bartender in the club, was given a two-year parole.

All the other fines ranged from $300 to $500, many with additional jail sentences or paroles.

STEEL PATENT SUIT FILED

NEWARK, N. J., April 5.—(AP.)—The Bethlehem Steel Company yesterday filed another suit in federal court against the United States Steel Corporation, Carnegie Steel Company and the American Bridge Company, all New Jersey corporations, alleging infringement of patents.

A preliminary injunction restraining use of the patent in question was also asked.

In earlier actions involving $250,000,000, the Bethlehem Steel Company acted jointly with the American Universal Mill Company, of Scranton, Pa. The suit filed now seeks an accounting of profits so that damages asked may be trebled.

PATRICIA PITT'S COMMENT ON PITTSBURGH'S SOCIETY HAPPENINGS

Taylor Allderdices Plan Dance December 23 for Daughter, Nancy

FOLKS returning from Florida, and we who've been in town all winter, too, are finding something poignant in the northern spring-time. The flamboyant foliage of the South may be richer than anything Pennsylvania can offer, but the South cannot vie with a northern April in delicacy of color and line of the landscape. What is there about yellow-green buds and the fragile green leaves crowning hedge-rows these days that makes a wordless song come to our lips?

Motoring through Pennsylvania hills is becoming a paramount interest to many of us. And the golf enthusiasts, whom we have always with us, are on the qui vive.

With such spring-like thoughts, one might think plans for the coming winter would pall on our spirits. Not at all. With all the joy that's in the air, everyone is planning with new zest for the scintillating season fall will usher in.

ALL sorts of entertainments for the charming young debutantes are being thought of and definite arrangements made. One of the most popular buds, I venture to say, will be Nancy Allderdice, daughter of the Taylor Allderdices. Among the many fetes in her honor will be a tea dance her father and mother will give in the William Penn on December 23. Her sister Jane made her bow last winter, and shared the popularity which seems to be an attribute of all the Allderdice daughters.

OUT-OF-TOWN spring weddings are exceptionally interesting this year, since so many of our folks are in demand as bridal attendants.

Now there's the wedding of Mary Marvel, daughter of the Josiah Marvels, of "Nanticoke," Wilmington, and Frank M. Donohue, Jr., son of the late Dr. Frank M. Donohue and Mrs. Donohue, of New York, which will take place April 20 in the Wilmington Trinity Church.

Two of the ushers will be Pittsburgh men—George L. Craig, Jr., of Kipling road, and Frank E. Rutan, Jr. Mr. Craig married Kathleen Casey several years ago, you know. Mr. Rutan is the son of Mrs. Frank E. Rutan, of Sewickley and Philadelphia. For several years the Rutans have spent their winters in Philadelphia, but both the girls, Martha and Elizabeth, came back to Pittsburgh to make their bows to the social world.

NOW has come the time for the swan song of the Palm Beach social season. Mid-April will see most of the golf clubs and large hotels closed. Among the last of the entertainments in Palm Beach this year was a dinner the Alfred G. Kays, of Pittsburgh and New York, gave Wednesday in their southern home. The guests of honor were the James P. McKinneys, of this city, who are the house guests of the Frederick G. Blackburns, of Kinsman road.

A FEW members of the school set are still in town. Ceora Hufnagel, daughter of the Frederick B. Hufnagels, is spending the Easter vacation with her father and mother. Ceora is going to Miss Wright's School. I've been wondering for some time if Ceora would be a debutante in the fall, but I understand now that she probably will make her bow in the fall of 1930. And speaking of 1930, I'm reminded that the prospects for that season are most alluring.

* * *

MRS. HERBERT ALLEN REED, of Beechwood boulevard, will give a dinner dance tomorrow night in the University Club in honor of her niece, Miss Gertrude Doyle, of Beaver. Miss Doyle's marriage to Wallace Brownlee Hunter will be solemnized Thursday.

MISS ALBERTA VOIGHT and Miss Mary States are chairmen for the benefit bridge party to be held tomorrow afternoon in McCreery's by the Phi Theta Phi fraternity of the University of Pittsburgh. Miss Gladys Park is chairman of reservations.

A THREE-ACT comedy drama, "Deacon Dubbs," will be presented tonight by the Beechview United Presbyterian Church in the Beechview school auditorium, Alton street. Mrs. Daisy Hinkley is directing the cast.

AT a bridge party given Tuesday night, announcement was made of the engagement of Miss Alice Gertrude Bailey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Bailey, of Edgewood, to Christopher James Hughes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hughes, Swissvale. An early fall wedding is planned.

THE Glee Club of the Presbyterian Hospital School of Nursing will give its annual recital April 23 in Carnegie Music Hall. Earl B. Collins, director of the club, is in charge of rehearsals.

MISS MARGARET SEGAL is chairman of the candy committee for the bridge party to be given tomorrow night by the Women's Association of the University of Pittsburgh in the Faculty Club. She is assisted by a group of women students.

A BENEFIT card party will be given tomorrow afternoon in Oppenheim-Collins' auditorium by Court Allegheny No 664, Catholic Daughters of America. Mrs. Anne H. Markey will be in charge of euchre; Mrs. Margaret Byrnes, "500," and Mrs. Stella Scanlon, bridge.

* * *

MR. AND MRS. J. M. WECHSLER, of McKeesport, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Frieda Fisher, to Oscar Feinberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Feinberg, of Greensburg.

A SALE of home-baked goods will be held tomorrow in the North Side Market by the Auxiliary to Observatory Post No. 81, American Legion. Mrs. Kathryn Wilson and Miss Esther Franz are co-chairmen.

Pastor From Rome Arrives Tomorrow

THE Rev. Paolo Bosio, pastor of the Cornelius Baker Memorial Church, Piazza Cavour, Rome, and Mrs. Bosio will arrive in Pittsburgh tomorrow to be guests of the Pittsburgh branch of the American Waldensian Aid Society. The Rev. Dr. Clarence Edward Macartney, president of the local branch of the society, has arranged this preaching schedule for Signor Bosio: Sunday morning, Shadyside United Presbyterian Church; Sunday evening, Point Breeze Presbyterian Church; Monday night, Italian Presbyterian Church, Larimer avenue; Wednesday night, First Presbyterian Church. The visitors will be honor guests at a tea which the Waldensians will give Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. R. E. Withers, Aiken avenue, and on Wednesday afternoon at the missionary meeting of the women of the First United Presbyterian Church, North Side.

Signor Bosio, who was awarded the British Military Cross and the Distinguished Service Order for his services during the war, is pastor of the largest congregation of any evangelical church in Italy. His father was one of the first Waldension ministers to preach in Rome and Sicily. Signor Bosio was born in Florence in 1891. After leaving the University of Florence in 1913, he spent a year at the University of Edinburgh. He was substitute pastor in several fields until he entered military service in 1915. Signor Bosio enlisted in the combat service in the mountain artillery and in one year was promoted several times and soon had commaand of a battery. He served all along the Austrian front and received numerous decorations. While chief liaison officer with the British gunners he won the British M. C. and the D. S. O. for helping save all the British guns during the retreat following the tragedy of Caporetto. For his later services at liaison officer for the British, French and American troops he was made a Knight of the Crown of Italy. After demobilization and a pastorate of three years in Turin, he was appointed to the new church in Rome (the gift of Mrs. John S. Kennedy, of New York), where his congregation is largely made up of young artists, students, army officers, government officials and business men. Mrs. Bosio is a native of Switzerland. Both she and her husband speak several languages.

STUMBLING BLOCK TO CHURCH UNION LOOMS

SIDEWALKS OF PITTSBURGH

by HAVEY J. BOYLE

FLAVIUS ANICIUS JUSTINIANUS, known by boyhood barbarians as Uprauda, followed his old uncle on the throne, and found the legal code in pretty much of a mess in the Eastern Roman Empire. He was a man of considerable erudition himself, but he was busy with many other matters, and so he turned over to Tribonian, known by all legal students, the task of drawing up a code. In the year 553 the Metropolitan Commission (I beg your pardon) Tribonian and several other lawyers submitted what they deemed a presentable code and Justinianus thought it pretty good.

It was, students will tell you, the greatest monument to the legal genius of the Romans and it was grafted on the English common law; in the United States you will discover many principles that Tribonian thought just back in 553.

TO SKIP a few years, bringing us down to the comparative yesterday, what Tribonian set forth was printed in 1488 in Latin, one of the early books printed 32 years after Gutenberg had invented the art of printing.

It was printed in the town of Nurnberg, Germany, a center at the time of art and culture, by Johann Fust and Peter Schoffer. The book found its way into a monastery, where all great works were hidden in those days, and a monk in 1543 inscribed in the book a note saying it was then the property of the monastery of Altominster, Bavaria, Germany, a monastery founded by an Irishman named Alto in the year 750.

What Tribonian set forth a long time ago, what Fust and Schoffer printed in 1488, four years before Columbus came over, may be examined in the law library of Allegheny County today. The book was presented to the library by Attorney Charles W. Dahlinger and while it bears the marks of antiquity, it is in a remarkably preserved condition.

THE binding is of wood, covered with leather. Through such a strong binding, due to its antiquity, there are the penetrations made by the vandal worms that feed, apparently, on precious literature. While the minute penetrations are precise enough to satisfy an engineer, indicating the worm in question spent much time on its task, it apparently got weary half-way through the volume or perhaps it up and died.

Incidentally, Oscar H. Emrich, librarian in the law library, who has handled many thousands of books, has never seen a book worm at work or play and if it weren't for the fact that small holes do get into books he would seriously question whether any book worm, outside the human variety, exist.

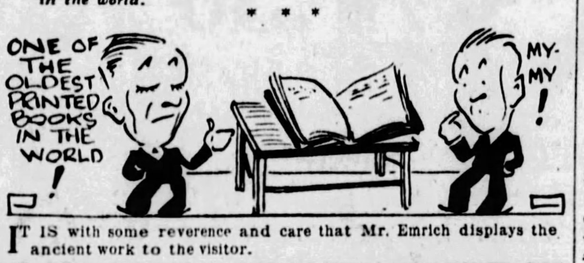
The incidental story the book in Mr. Emrich's charge could tell would be one of romance, war, intrigue and comedy down through the years it has come. Printed in Latin, with the title page in the back instead of in the front of the book, this volume may be ranked as one of the oldest printed works in the world.

* * *



IT IS with some reverence and care that Mr. Emrich displays the ancient work to the visitor.

SINCLAIR, FLINN, BELL NAMED OIL 'ANGELS'

The late George H. Flinn, H. F. Sinclair, John A. Bell and David L. Gillespie were named in testimony today as the financial "angels" who took over a pool of 70,000 shares of Guffey-Gillespie Oil Company's stock, when the market crashed.

E. N. Gillespie, defendant in a suit by David Lawrence, Democratic county chairman, who seeks an accounting for $80,000 he and his friends put into the pool eight years ago, testified that Flinn and the others had purchased the pool at $12 a share. It later declined to $6 a share.

The pool was managed by E. N. Gillespie. He testified he was unable to produce records of his dealings with brokers in connection with the pool because his former partner, J. M. Guffey, had taken charge of the company books. He had tried without success, he said, to get possession of checks and other records.

Others who were in the pool with Lawrence included State Senator James Coyne, the late Senator John P. Harris, the late County Controller John Moore, Attorney R. B. McGinness, formre County Commissioner James Houlahan and former City Treasurer, Larry Goshorn. It was testified that Lawrence had taken over Goshorn's stock.

HIT BY TRUCK, BOY UNHURT

Three-year-old John Sussman, of 2928 Larkins way, South Side, narrowly missed death under wheels of a truck this morning. The boy was knocked down as he was sideswiped by a truck, but at St. Joseph's Hospital, where he was claimed by his mother, Mrs. Charles Sussman, he was found to be uninjured.

The lad darted from behind an automobile into the path of a truck driven by S. L. Gross, of 2540 Brownsville road, at Carson and South Thirtieth streets, police reported. Gross swerved his truck to avoid striking the boy. His machine skidded on the wet street and a rear wheel was snapped off.

Thrown to Floor of Trolley, Asks $10,000

Mrs. Amby Balderson and her husband, Thomas Balderson, have brought suit against the Pittsburgh Railways Company for $10,000 damages Mrs. Balderson alleges she sustained when the car was started before she was seated, throwing her to the floor and injuring her about the body, breaking her right fibula. The accident occurred November 30, at Penn and Highland avenues, where she boarded a car to go to Greenwood street.

Auto Hit by Train, Sues for $25,000

Joseph Moore has filed suit against the Pennsylvania Railroad for $25,000 damages for injuries received when the coupe in which he was riding December 29, last, was struck by a train of the defendant company at the Leesdale crossing on the Washington branch of the road. The plaintiff alleges in his bill of particulars filed in Common Pleas Court, that his skull, hands and other parts of his body were injured.

GIRLS SUGGESTED AS NATION'S MOST TYPICAL

CHARLOTTE SINGER

According to her nominator, Miss Singer "embodies not only the traits and characteristics of one, but of all those who have expressed their ideas of the Typical American Girl in your column."

MARY JANE STUNKARD

Miss Stunkard is from Mount Pleasant, where she is a senior in the Vocational High School and secretary of the Athletic Association. She is also an "all-around good sport."

HELENE KISH

Miss Kish's photograph comes all the way from McKeesport. She is fond of music and literature, likes to write stories, herself, too. She is, above all, a "home-loving girl."

LOLA BURRALL

This Leetsdale girl is a graduate of Stephens College, in Columbia, Mo. A versatile young lady, her accomplishments include "writing, drawing, painting, swimming, singing and scouting."

TWO DAYS ONLY LEFT IN QUEST

Only two more days of the quest. Translated, that means about 60 hours, from noon today until midnight, Sunday. And that, in turn, means 3,600 minutes!

Letters are coming to the Quest Editor in every mail, for people seem to realize that there will be no time-extension this Sunday.

Last Sunday, the announcement of the additional prize trip to Paris and other famous European cities, forced the Quest Editor to postpone the closing date, because he knew many girls would be disappointed if they missed nomination in a contest involving such a wonderful prize as all that!

Probably the best letter in today's mail nominates Lola Burrall, 625 Taylor avenue, Avalon. Marion Scott, the writer, says that Miss Burrall is sure to win, because she took medals for typing, prizes for short stories and advertisements, public speaking and swimming while she was in high school. She was a member of the Theta Tau Epsilon sorority at Stephens' College, out in Columbia, Mo. This tallented young lady has also painted scenery, played the piano in theaters and the organ in church, sung over the radio, travelled widely and designed clothes!

Send in that nomination NOW—if you delay longer, you may miss the closing time mail.

Auto Hits Woman On Walk, Sues For $50,000

Rose Roy and her husband, Mike Roy, Rankin, entered suit for $50,000 damages for personal injuries to Mrs. Roy when an automobile of the Rankin Baking Company ran onto the sidewalk and into the doorway of 110 Fleet street, Rankin, February 2, knocking her down. Her back, head and abdomen were hurt.

NATRONA MAN ARRESTED

William J. Friel, Jr., former deputy collector of internal revenue at Natrona, was brought to Pittsburgh from Youngstown, O., this morning on a federal warrant charging embezzlement.

The alleged crime occurred in March, 1927, according to United States deputy marshals who had been unable to locate Friel since his indictment by last November's grand jury. He was indicted on 22 counts, charging embezzlement of funds from $5 to $20, the whole totaling $280.

GOODWILL DRIVE DATE SET

The Pittsburgh Goodwill Industries will open next Tuesday a campaign to collect castoff clothing through the schools, to continue for three days, it was announced today by the Rev. Dr. Albert G. Curry, director.

Trucks are to call at the schools to gather bundles brought by pupils, and they will be sent to homes when requests for them are telephoned to Grant 3717, it was announced.

The clothing will be reconditioned by aged and infirm men and women who are furnished work through the clothing drive. Then it will be sold in the three Goodwill stores, to persons of small means.

Burns Cause Death Of Steel Worker

Burned about the body while at work in the plant of the Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation, South Side, Andrew Craig, 23, of 806 Parkwood street, South Side, died this morning in the South Side Hospital. Craig was lighting a furnace, when a hot brick fell on him, igniting his clothing.

Deserted Eight Times, Wife Is Given Divorce

After her husband had left her eight times and she had him arrested once and paid his fine, Julia Horvat, 1314 Medley street, asked for a divorce and was awarded a decree from Horvat in Common Pleas Court yesterday.

It was Mrs. Horvat's second trial at marriage. The couple were married in 1916 and, according to the evidence, Horvat was addicted to drink. On the occasion that Mrs. Horvat had her husband arrested, she testified that he had gone down to a saloon to engage an Irishman in a fight and when she went after him he fought her. The arrest cost her $21.98, which she claims she paid. Her testimony showed that she was the victim of frequent beatings and quarrels.

BURGESS WILL DIRECT BOUTS

Burgess Grant Ritchie, of Avalon, will direct the seven boxing bouts tonight in Avalon Borough Hall, under auspices of the North Boroughs Post 116, American Legion. The matches follow: Billy Evans, Avalon, against John Durson, Pittsburgh Lyceum; Ed Haley, Pittsburgh Lyceum, against Ben Pulley, Willow club; Paul Balint, North Side Athletic Club, against Syl Pastoris, Pittsburgh Lyceum; Dan McCabe, Twenty-seventh Ward Athletic Club, against John Hazel, Pittsburgh Lyceum; Joe Uhrin, Homestead Library, against Chris Calley, Willow club; J. Fingee, Pittsburgh Lyceum, against Bob McDowell, Willow club. William Simendinger, of the A. A. U. will referee.

Nephew Remembered In Shaler Twp. Will

The will of George C. Byerly, of Shaler township, just filed for probate, leaves $1,000 of an $8,900 estate to a nephew, Chester Byerly, and the remainder in equal shares to three sisters, Sarah, Hazel and Garnet Byerly. Another sister, Lyda, is named executor.

FOSTER DRIVE TO BE PLANNED

The executive committee of the Stephen C. Foster memorial building fund will meet today at a luncheon in the William Penn Hotel. E. T. Whiter, vice president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and chairman of the memorial committee, will preside.

The committee will discuss final plans for the public phase of the appeal, which will open Monday, April 15 and be conducted throughout the Pittsburgh district.

A tea will be held next Monday in Kaufmann's auditorium for the members of the Tuesday Musical Club, who will take part in the appeal. This will be followed by a meeting on Thursday for members of the entire working organization, when final preparations will be made for the campaign.

Hundreds of workers will be engaged in the public effort. The objective is $500,000, which will be used to construct the memorial building on ground donated by the University of Pittsburgh on the Cathedral of Learning quadrangle in Oakland.

2 North Side Girls Bitten by Dogs

Two North Side girls were bitten by dogs near their homes last night. Owners of the animals were ordered by police to keep them tied for 10 days for observation.

Injured on Trolley, Sues for $25,000

Mrs. Eva Brady, injured on a Pittsburgh Railways Company street car when she boarded one at Oakmont, has brought suit in Common Pleas Court against the company for $25,000 damages. The accident happened February 21, last. She alleges that she was thrown to the floor before she reached a seat safely and sustained concussion of the brain as well as injuries to her back.

DIVIDED REPORT MAY CAUSE BREACH

The right of the church to express itself on problems of public morals and government is likely to prove a stumbling block to union of the United Presbyterian and Southern Presbyterian churches, it was indicated today.

A report of a special committee on closer relations with the Southern Presbyterian Church will be made at the general assembly of the United Presbyterian Church, to open May 29 in the North Church, Perrysville avenue.

REPORT DIVIDED

The report, according to representative United Presbyterian clergymen, will show lack of unanimity on the proposed basis of union. The two local presbyteries, the Allegheny and the Monongahela, among the foremost in the denomination, urged that the privilege of the church making clear its position on moral and civic questions be upheld.

The Southern Presbyterians, on the other hand, are said to be opposed to the church taking any part in discussion of secular matters.

HOPE FOR COMPROMISE

Unless an acceptable compromise can be reached on this point, United Presbyterian ministers who have followed the merger move, say they are not optimistic as to early union of the two denominations.

Preparations for entertaining the assembly are under way at the North Church, the Rev. Dr. John E. Simpson, pastor. The Rev. Dr. W. A. Spalding, of the Oregon presbytery, is the retiring moderator. No pre-assembly discussion is being heard of prospective candidates for the forthcoming moderatorship, it was said.

Bellevue Church Names 6 Elders

At the annual congregational meeting of the Bellevue Presbyterian Church Wednesday night the following elders were elected to serve for three years: C. M. Winter, Milton Petrie, R. R. Moore, S. B. Burkhart, J. E. Dermitt and G. E. Campbell. Trustees elected for the same term were Harry Mathews, J. M. Jahres and W. D. Teuteberg.

Charges Not Proven, Divorce Is Denied

Setting forth that Joseph H. Brewer, 35 St. John street, McKees Rocks, a locomotive engineer, did not sustain allegations made against his wife, Martha A. Brewer, Judge James H. Gray has refused the husband a divorce. At the time of the hearing the husband testified that his wife stayed out frequently at night and that she had left him and gone to Baltimore.

Daughter Is Left Bulk of Estate

A daughter, Mrs. Mary E. Mangham, is named principal heir of the $16,000 estate of her mother, Mrs. Emma Jackson, Bingham street, South Side, in her will just probated. After three sons, Robert L., Charles S. and Harry E. Jackson, are given $1,000 each, the remainder goes to the daughter. She and her brother Robert are named executors.

Brighton Rd. Church Elects Three Elders

Three elders and two trustees were elected at the annual congregational meeting of the Brighton Road Presbyterian Church, North Side, Wednesday night. Elders chosen were Albert Klicker, James J. Muna and J. E. Pennington. Trustees elected were Charles A. Dunbar and Charles A. Hedges. The Rev. R. H. Allen is pastor.

AUTOIST HELD FOR ASSAULT

Donald McGlashen, 24, of East Pittsburgh, was held for court, charged with aggravated assault and battery in an automobile accident, by Justice of the Peace George C. Blair, of Wilkinsburg, today. Fred Hohman and George Colbough, of Monroeville, testified that while walking in Monroe road, near Turtle Creek, March 16, they were struck by a car driven by McGlashen. Colbough testified he was unconscious in Braddock General Hospital for three days and lost the hearing of his left ear. Hohman suffered lacerations, he testified.

AUTO KILLS SON, ASKS $50,000

For the death of their 13-year-old son, Daniel Kozlowski, who was run down by an automobile owned by O'Neil, Fedigan & Elford, Inc., March 6, last, Valentine Kozlowski, and his wife, have filed suit against the firm for $50,000 damages. The accident occurred at Wabash avenue and Neptune street, the boy being hurt so badly that he died a short time following the accident. It is alleged in the bill of complaint filed in Common Pleas Court, that the automobile which struck the youth, was operated in a reckless manner.

C. OF C. MEMBER STRESSES RADIO IN SCHOOL VALUE

"Your contemplated project to place a radio in every school room in Pittsburgh should prove a great forward step in our educational system, provided propes care is taken in the kind of programs selected. The far-reaching good to be accomplished and the real value of the radio in the education of our youth cannot be over-estimated.

These are the words of Leo G. Griffith, member of the Educational Committee, of the Chamber of Commerce, Board of incorporators, of St. Paul's Orphan Asylum and of a similar board of St. Francis' Hospital and president of the Pittsburgh Bond Club.

Mr. Griffith goes on to say:

"Think what it will mean for the superintendents of the public and parochial schools to speak to all of the thousands of their pupils at the same time, as they sit at their desks, on some important phase of school work, making the spoken message a much more vital thing than the written bulletin.

"By making the programs for the schools selective, there can be brought to the children over the radio, the great current world events happening daily. One of the great needs of our present educational system is in supplementing the written word of the text books with a fuller knowledge of the practical things which are being accomplished daily in art, science and business.

"What the blackboard and the compass have been in the past, to help visualize for the child the things written in the school books, so the radio in the future will, to a far greater degree, visualize not only the great events of the dead past, but more important the wonderful things that are happening throughout the world now in the living present.

"May your slogan, 'A Radio in Every Schoolroom in Pittsburgh give the impetus for a movement towards the realization of this slogan in the near future—'A Radio in Every Schoolroom in America.'"

Mr. Griffith in these enthusiastic words indorses the Sun-Telegraph-Stanley-Warner Brothers' Theaters' campaign to place a radio in every schoolroom of the Pittsburgh district. To every class obtaining 125 13-week subscriptions to the Sun-Telegraph will go an eight-tube, $138.50 No. 53 Atwater Kent Electro-Dynamic self-contained radio set of latest improved design.

These subscriptions may be obtained from anyone. Those who purchase the Sun-Telegraph daily on the streets also will be classed a new subscribers, by agreeing to take this newspaper from the carrier for three months and leaving an order blank at any Stanley Theater, turning it over to a school child, or sending it to the Sun-Telegraph offices. Collections will be made by the carriers, weekly or monthly.

Order blanks are in the possession of many children already, and may be obtained at any Stanley Theater.

Approval

LEO G. GRIFFITH

Mr. Griffith has approved of the Sun-Telegraph-Stanley-Warner Brothers' Theaters' Radio-in-the-schools campaign.

Will Rogers Says

NEW YORK, April 5.

When anything happens in Washington, they call in the experts of that line to confer on it. Now, to get this vice presidential table manners controversy settled, I guess Secretary of State Stimson will go into a huddle with Emily Post and decide how to put the place cards.

If this controversy was in New York society instead of being in political life, they would solve the problem very easy by having Curtis marry somebody. They marry for a lot less reasons than that here.

Certainly lucky for Lindy that Mr. Morrow is not ambassador to Chile, or the Argentine.

Yours, WILL.

WHAT'S ON THE AIR: WAR SECRETARY TO BE HEARD

MEDLEY OF RAIN SONGS, EVELYN HOEY FEATURED

By DARRELL V. MARTIN, Radio Editor.

PARTICULARLY appropriate for the kind of weather we have had the last few days in Pittsburgh, WJAS will offer a timely feature tonight at 8 o'clock, called "April Showers," which will consist entirely of rain songs. Before you glance over the program we hasten to assure you that Wendell Hall's "It Ain't Gonna Rain No Mo'," is among them, but it will be sung without the official sanction of Mr. Brotzman, who sees rain—and more of it—for Pittsburghers.

Secretary of War James W. Good will tell something of his department and Senator Daniel F. Steck, Democrat, will speak about "Work of the Senate," at 10:30 p. m. over WCAE.

The Review over KDKA, at 9 o'clock will offer Evelyn Hoey, musical comedy star, in "Dinah." Popular Jessica Dragonette will sing "Love is the Best of All," from Herbert's "Princess Pat," during the Theater Memories concert over KDKA, at 9:30 p. m.

The charming and whimsical "Animal Crackers," with a new vocal arrangement, will surprise listeners on the Kodak Hour, at 10 o'clock, from WJAS, during the Luther Trio concert. The Foster Medley is another highlight of this billl.

The clarinet rendition of "The Swan," WCAE, at 8, should please the musically fastidious.

Radio Hostess' Story in Sunday Sun-Telegraph

Frequently listeners call radio stations for information and often wonder what type of girl is at the other end of the line. They wonder what she looks like, and sometimes when she displays an almost uncanny knowledge of facts and affairs, wonder if she really is human like the rest of us.

Radio Rex, who is peeking into the lives of Pittsburgh radio people, has unearthed some information about one of these girls and it will be disclosed in the Radio Section of the Sunday Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph. Marcella Deverson, hostess at WJAS, is the subject.

"Love's Best"

JESSICA DRAGONETTE

"Love is the Best of All" from Victor Herbert's "Princess Pat" will be sung by Jessica Dragonette, popular actress-soprano, tonight at 9:30 o'clock over KDKA.

BIBLE LEADERS TO MEET AT JOHNSTOWN

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., April 5.—On Saturday and Sunday, April 13 and 14, Johnstown will be host to a large group of Adult Bible Class leaders with every section of the state represented.

It will be the event of the annual convention of the Pennsylvania State Adult Bible Class Federation, of which John W. Vickerman, of Allegheny County, is president, and which includes in its organization a similar active organization in every county in Pennsylvania, headed by the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School Association, with headquarters in Philadelphia.

Dr. O. W. Warmingham, of Boston University, will conduct the worship services, and make several addresses.

Other speakers are Dr. W. L. Mudge, of the Federal Council of Churches, and Dr. J. W. Claudy, of the Department of Moral Welfare, of the Presbyterian Church.

The Sunday afternoon service will be a patriotic service, urging the support of President Hoover and law enforcement, with Prohibition Administrator John D. Pennington, of Pittsburgh, and G. [illegible] W. Stewart, of Indianapolis, as speakers.

Cambria County alone has guaranteed 500 delegates and it is expected that Allegheny County will be represented by many Adult leaders and teachers.

STOMACH TROUBLE QUICKLY ROUTED BY NEW KONJOLA

"Glorious Was the Relief Famous Medicine Gave Me After All Else Failed," Said Happy Man.

"What is there about this new medicine, Konjola, that makes it the most talked-of remedy in Pittsburgh and vicinity?" This question and many others are asked daily by men and women who have read or heard of the many amazing accomplishments of this super-remedy. Those who would find the answer to this question are urged to call, without delay, on the Konjola Man, who is at the Dow Drug Company (formerly McCulloch's), Penn Avenue and Sixth Street, Pittsburgh, and hear his personal explanation of the merits of Konjola. He will tell you why three carloads of Konjola were sold in Philadelphia in three weeks; why more than a million bottles of this master medicine were sold in one state in four months. There can be only one reason for this astounding success and that is that Konjola contains real MERIT; that it does all that is claimed for it. The results that Mr. E. D. McKnight, 931 Rumsey Street, Wilkinsburg, Pa., a short distance from Pittsburgh, obtained from a brief treatment, hold a world of hope and cheer for all who suffer. Mr. McKnight, radiant with new and glorious health, recently called on the Konjola Man, and said:

"Glorious was the relief this famous Konjola gave me after all other medicines and treatments failed. I expected some benefits from Konjola as it was so highly recommended, but I was hardly prepared for the remarkable manner in which it ended my ailments. My health slipped away from me when my stomach and liver became disordered and upset. Nervousness resulted; sound sleep was out of the question, and I always felt completely tired out. My work was drudgery; I was unfit to take care of it properly and was of no great benefit to my associates.

"I was skeptical about Konjola, for in fact, I had little faith in any medicines. I continued to get worse, and knowing that something had to be done, I decided to give this medicine a trial. It was so highly recommended that I somehow felt it might benefit me. But, as I said before, I was hardly prepared for the surprise the first few days of the treatment gave me. Konjola went right to work on my ailing organs, new strength and energy flowed through my system. Konjola cleansed and regulated my stomach and invigorated my liver, so that both ailments completely vanished. My nerves were calmed and quieted and sound sleep was restored to me. Today I can hardly realize that I ever suffered so much. Indeed, Konjola is the master medicine—it deserves all the praise it is receiving."

A rare case, you ask? Not at all, not a bit of it. The files of this medicine are fairly overflowing with the glad, happy indorsements of men and women made well by Konjola. This medicine presents an opportunity for gaining back your lost health—make up your mind today to find out for yourself about its exceptional merits.

The Konjola Man is at the Dow Drug Company (formerly McCulloch's), Penn Avenue and Sixth Street, this city, where he is meeting the public daily, introducing and explaining the merits of this

Warriner Is Disappointed After Queenie Refuses To Dine With Him

(From a Scenario by Edmund Goulding.)

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

Eddie Kerns, song plugger, has written the music for "The Broadway Melody," a big revue to be produced by the famous Zanfield. For two years Eddie has been engaged to "Hank" Mahoney and now he sees his way clear to marry her. She and her younger sister, Queene, are playing in vaudeville and Eddie summons them to New York and tells them he has managed to place them in the revue. They are overjoyed, but Eddie suddenly discovers that he's lost his heart to Queenie who has developed into a startling beauty in the two years since he saw her last. He keeps his secret from "Hank" and the girls turn down a long vaudeville contract for a chance to make good in the revue. Zannie, after seeing the "Mahoney Sisters" perform, decides that he could only use Queenie. She, however, appeals to him to also give her sister a chance in the show. He consents. "Hank" believes that she put it over. During a dress rehearsal Eddie shows the sisters the big ad in the newspaper announcing their coming to Broadway. When Hank kisses Eddie, Queenie cries. Zannie gives Queenie a place in the revue. She makes an impression and the two "angels" of the revue invite her out to dine after the show. Dore, one of the show girls, tells Queenie to watch her step with Worthington. Eddie questions Queenie about "Warry" and tells her to keep away from him. Ignoring Eddie's protest she goes out with Warriner. When "Hank" arrives home with Eddie she discovers Queenie in bed and is overjoyed to find she did not go out with "Warry."

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER XI.

HANK MAHONEY'S ecstatic sobbing when she discovered that Queenie had not gone anywhere with Francis Warriner continued for a full minute. Then, with happy, tear-streaked face, she ran out to Eddie with the news. He had poked his head in at her first cry, but had discreetly returned to his chair in the sitting room—a look of satisfaction replacing the glum blueness which he had shared with Hank until the great discovery.

He knew she could not have spent more than five minutes in Warry's society. And on Broadway they count time as the essence of many things—and by it they measure faith. The best proof that something fearsome has not happened is that it could not have happened. The Hardened Artery is loath to give much weight to any less absolute evidence.

"She didn't go—she didn't go," repeated Hank. "Oh, Eddie, we did her a lot of dirt the way we talked." Her voice came down to a whisper as she added. "And she must have heard every word of it—well, anyway, it shows her we're sincere and that we love her, doesn't it, honeyman?"

Eddie nodded as he added, sotto voice:

"She must o' handed Warry the ice—high, wide and swift . . . is she—h'm—is she gonna get up?"

"No, she says she's got a headache. We can go out now an' put in some gas an' oil. My appetite's come back."

Eddie, with a shrug, knowing he wouldn't see Queenie the rest of the night anyway, consented. Hank called into the darkened bedroom saying they were going out for a bite and she'd be back soon.

They went to a beanery of the all-night type which attracts minor performers and sat down to a glazed-top table, took up their paper napkins and ordered their butter cakes and half-and-half.

Not a hundred yards distant in the costliest grillroom the Times Square region boasted, sat Francis Warriner and Stewie Worthington.

"Unusual kid, that one," Warriner was saying as he poured from a silver flask into a highball glass steaming with cracked ice.

"Unusual for you, you chicken rustler. Oh, boy—what a sweet turndown you drew — and I win the $1,000."

"Oh, yes—quite forgot that. I'll write you my check for it . . . Waiter, pen and ink!—by the way, how does that make her stand"

"Well, I gave her half of the $1,000 bill—the nonnegotiable half, of course. She was to get its mate when she sat down with us, which she didn't go through with. So she's out a grand and you're out a grand and I'm in a grand and a half — that doesn't sound right, but it's a fact—ha-ha—I was always dumb in arithmetic. But it pays to be foolish at figures."

"Wait a moment—I don't get the transaction clearly, myself. You were to have given her the other half, making $1,000. Then I was to have paid you the same amount for losing the bet. Now you've given her, in effect, nothing. And I'm still to pay you?"

"Cert. My $1,000 is my $1,000, and I get yours because I won it. She'd have gotten mine had I lost it."

"But I'd have gotten nothing—you win and are in $1,000, and if I'd won I'd have been in nothing."

"Nothing but the girl, you flathead!"

"I see—I see now. I was always apt at figures—feminine ones, I mean."

"I think she's a little bonehead. Why couldn't she have sat here with us, listened to my drooling and your slick line, fed herself to the grade of chow she's probably never even smelled, and been in what to her must be a flock of mazuma?"

"That's just the theory. It's to what high-pressure salesmen call 'reduce sales resistance.' Giving her a $20 note would be merely wasting the twenty; but grands don't grow on halltrees. Then there's the further psychology of the bill itself. Few people ever carry that amount about in currency and not one in a million ever does in one bit of paper.

"Why, I know many rich people who not only have never had one, but have never seen one. Indeed, a $1,000 bill is far more effective than, let us say, 20 fifties, and in turn they click louder than 50 twenties.

"If a girl accepts it's worth the $1,000 to find out—that means she is amenable—can be reached—is a potentiality. But if she turns down such an alluring treasure for the mere return of having a pleasant meal, that's a rather decisive tip—she's what the girls call 'Miss Hard-to-Get'—and maybe even ungettable."

"Oh, Warry—be yourself. Such thoughts are sacrilegious. Say it ain't so, Warry—don't tell me any girl is ungettable. It's too, too, terrible. It's wicked . . . your lengthy answer is all cockeyed, if you ask me. You know what went democratic with our little half-a-grand trick?"

"No. Give the little boy a nice big tell. Speaking from the wisdom of the many you've bought and the plenty you've given up, you should speak as Sir Oracle. Now, what, oh Sapient Sap of Boobylon, went sour with my $1,000-William proposition?"

Warriner took a sip of his highball, lit a cigaret, and smiled.

"There may be something in what you say, Stewie," he agreed. "Out of the mouths of babes and suckers cometh oft wisdom. There may be something in what you say—$1,000 is not all the chicken-feed on earth, and by the same token that I said it was a lot, more is yet more so. These gals are beginning to roost high, eh, Stew?"

"That Zannie spoils 'em. They think when he blows his glorified brand into their bottle they are a seat on the stock exchange or a seagoing yacht or something. The high price of blondes is getting toward the saturation point. Zannie should be enjoined against glorifying them at our expense. The way his elevated gold-diggers rate themselves is positively immoral. I think it comes under the head of a conspiracy in restraint of trade, and is, therefore, unconstitutional. If not, the old Constitution should be amended, which is the last word . . . pass the flask."

Warry smoked for a moment.

"Stewie," he resumed, "I'm no unsophisticated sophomore. My trust in mankind, especially the female of the species, is a microscopic phenomenon. I'm hardboiled, skeptical, cynical and I believe even Schopenhauery. But—now don't throw anything—somewhere in the back of my cranium rests a conviction that this little Queenie Mahoney — this half-baked, small-time, baby-faced, undertrained ingenue—cannot be bought."

Stewie set down his glass—an extraordinary thing for him to do—and registered horror.

"Warry," he exclaimed, 'do you realize that in a statement, a heinous statement like that, you strike at the very structure of Broadway society? Why—you could be arrested for uttering such blasphemy. Have you gone Red? Put down that bomb. You aren't Schopenhaury; you're Tolstoic—or you're blotto. What's IN this hooch?"

Warry smiled, but picked it up again—

"And what's more, Stewie, old bum, I don't think she can be had at all!"

"Now I know you're drunk. They can all be had. There are 345,678 ways, and no gal can stand out forever . . . say! You're not going to quit"

"Quit? That your coated tongue should utter such a word! Of course I won't. A Warriner tries but never surrenders . . . now, I told you of the attitude of her hatchet-faced sister at the dressing-room door. There was also another party there—Eddie Kerns, that hick song-writer. He said very little. But he looked plenty.

"Now, I think he is the catch. If it weren't for him you'd be out your grand note and I'd be out on a grand evening."

"You mean she—is that way about him?"

"In a big way. Girls like that do things like that. No matter how far we may get, no matter how we may fascinate them and reward them, we are still aliens. We do not spell matrimony, that's one thing. But it's deeper than that. We are not their people. We are of another station. Now, she and a ham like Kerns, they get off at the same station. She thinks his solid gold tooth is the class because it's his; she thinks my imported town car is just a prop. She knows I have at least a million. But she can't visualize that much. Her mind and imagination don't run beyond four figures. All he has, she can get; she knows she'll never get all I have.

"And I doubt whether she really craves it, any more than you do to be an emperor. You know it isn't in the deck, so you waste no time playing or sighing for the unattainable. Why should you and I go after Queenie Mahoney, when we could be stalking a real queen—Marie, now, is a widow. Have we sent her any torn grand-notes? We have not. We, too, reach for what we think we might hook. We wouldn't be comfy with a queen, anyhow. And the Queenies aren't at ease with us, by the same wrinkle.

"That is the most dangerous sort of competition, Stewie. I'd rather try to outbid or outwit bank presidents, senators and princes than go into competition for a frail like that against that crude, self-satisfied 'dese an' dose' tinpanner, Eddie Kerns . . . Still, I'm no airedale, but I'm a bulldog . . . no Warriner ever stopped chasing a skirt while there was one of those 345,678 chances still open."

"Attaboy—now you talk like a gentleman, a sportsman and a Stewie Worthington. More power to you. I'm with you to the finish. And I'll bet you a grand that you'll win."

Merely Margy, An Awfully Sweet Girl :-: Story by Lloyd Mayer :-: By John Held, Jr.

"My dear, I'm ALL-of-a-bib-and-TUCKer, no less! I mean I'm comPLETEly SUNK at this point because I've been having the most FRANtic argument with that oaf BULL about this matriMONial situation he's making with this POISonous FEmale who inVEIGled him into REScuing her from DROWNing and then sort of COYly invited him to MARry her—can you COPE with it? HONestly, I couldn't be more upSET, because I was sort of TRYing to make the poor goofer realize it was ALL for the BEST, but he was TOO paTHETic about it, my dear, because when I PLAYfully suggested we might have a DOUBle WEDding, my dear, he gave a luGUBrious MOAN and said he'd rescued ME from drowning and I didn't make him marry me and he wished I HAD, whereupon I remarked in philoSOPHical ACcents that things NEVer came out the way you WANted them to, but it's simply no USE trying to conSOLE the big oaf, my dear, because he thinks he's too YOUNG to be married ANYways because he told me with the most PETrifying exPRESsion of comPLETE deSPAIR that he hadn't seen LIFE and he WANTed to before he settled DOWN! HONestly, my dear, I'm conVINCED we've got to DO something about this PROBlem at this point, my dear, and I'm going to get together with ARab this MINute about the situation, my dear—I mean I ACtually AM!"

Sauce for the Goose :: By JULIA RANDOLPH :: Daily Short Story

MARY AGATHA would really have liked her husband's family quite well, if it had not been for one major exception—they persisted in descending upon her unheralded.

"We didn't know we were coming until the last minute," a flock of them would explain uproariously. Or Lucile, Bob's oldest sister, would whisper chummily, "I didn't write you, dear Mary Agatha, because I didn't want you to go to a lot of trouble. Now just anything will do for us."

After which announcement, Lucile or one of her three enterprising offspring would repair to the kitchen at five minute intervals, wide-eyed and alert for culinary developments.

Mary Agatha explained sweetly that she would prefer to make her preparations ahead, so that she might have more time with her guests, but all to no avail. Then she had sought to enlist Bob's aid, but Bob had murmured feebly:

"Say, Cile, let us know the next time you are coming," to which Cile had rejoined nonchalantly:

"I never know a moment ahead what I am going to do."

Mary Agatha knew that Lucile was really the prime instigator of these periodical invasions, for she possessed a big touring car, into which she assembled the near of kin, and descended upon Mary Agatha for a restful Sunday.

Mary Agatha realized that she had made a big mistake on the occasion of her first visit. Eight of the Lewises had breezed in at noon on the second Sunday she spent in her new home, and she, with a bride's eagerness to display her skill and facility, made fluffy biscuits, added inexhaustible dressing and gravy to her chicken, and concocted a salad of pineapple and mayonnaise.

Now she dreaded the advent of week-ends, for she could not plan a restful day, nor could she invite her own friends.

One memorable Sunday she invited a young married couple, mutual friends of hers and Bob's, to Sunday dinner, and had moulded four salads, and prepared four lemon tarts. The Lewises swarmed in full force that Sunday, and Mary Agatha's poor little dinner was a wreck. With crimson cheeks and tears hot against her lids she opened cans and spliced salads hoping rebelliously that the Lewises wouldn't get enough to eat, so they would never come again without advance notice. She had been too mortified to touch a mouthful of the remnant of her dainty little dinner, and she couldn't remember a single remark her guests had made. They had been completely squelched by the Lewises.

Even when the Lewises did not come, she brooded about the possibility of their coming. What could she do to make them consult her conveniences sometimes rather than their own always. She had intimated, and finally stated clearly her position, but the Lewises were not open to suggestions.

Sundays had become a bugaboo. She waited tensely, nervously alert at the sound of every stopping car, at the shrill cry of a child's voice.

Today was an extremely hot Sunday and she had gone into their upstairs den, as the morning breeze seemed to be from that direction, with a new magazine.

She could not interest herself in the story she was reading. Thoughts about the Lewises kept going around in angry circles. Suppose they should come today. She was indignantly sure that Lucile would not like to have a crowd come upon her unawares, for Lucile was an economical housekeeper and observed a careful budget.

The dull screeching of brakes was wafted to her on the breeze. She sat up quickly, every muscle taut, listening intently—the Lewises—she heard them spilling out into her yard, overflowing her porch. She sat very still with her hands folded in her lap. She could not bring herself to go down and welcome them yet.

"Mary Agatha," Bob's voice called jovially. "The folks are down here."

"Yes," she answered mechanically. "I'll be down.

Perhaps it was 10 minutes later when she went down. It had seemed longer than that, and she had managed to calm her anger.

She greeted them pleasantly and kissed those who volunteered their lips.

Then she managed to find a comfortable rocker and rocked and talked easily. She supposed it must be about 11:30, but it didn't matter. She rocked and talked for an hour—and hour and a half. The eyes of Lucile and the children were growing wider and wider, and now and then the children whispered surreptitiously to their mother. Bob was looking a little uncomfortable.

Fred, Lucile's husband, glanced at his watch, and said doubtfully:

"How about all of us going over to the hotel for dinner?"

"I think that would be nice," Mary Agatha responded with emphasis, jumping up from her rocker and slipping upstairs to get her hat.

As she powdered her nose she was seized with sudden consternation.

"Suppose Bob feels that he must pay the check?"

She knew that if he did they wouldn't have enough money left for the grocery bill. She picked up Bob's coat and carried it down to him, humming a little tune.

Lucile hung back somewhat unwillingly, but the children were capering around delightedly at the prospects of the hotel and food, so at length they all piled into the touring car.

At the hotel the waiters had to place two tables together for them. Mary Agatha ordered lobster a' neuborg and alligator pear salad. Lucile hesitated about her order, glanced doubtfully at Fred, then duplicated Mary Agatha's order. The children were ordering lavishly.

At the end of a meal that was fully satisfying and restful to Mary Agatha, she saw Bob's hand go into his pocket for his billfold.

Bob's hand came away from his pocket waveringly, and it was Fred who finally reached for the check.

When Lucile and Fred glumly departed from Mary Agatha's less than an hour later, that young lady smiled triumphantly to herself.

"I miss my guess if the Lewises come down for another unexpected dinner," she thought gleefully.

"Honey, I wish you'd help me look for my billford," Bob called to her in a troubled voice.

"It's on the dresser," Mary Agatha rejoined complacently. "I laid it there this morning."

Meditations of a Wife

By HELEN ROWLAND

The "Perennial Bachelor"

A GOOD husband is the noblest work of woman. But bachelors, like poets, are born and not made.

If a man lives and dies with his bachelor's buttons on, it is not because he never intended to marry, but because nature never intended him to marry. NO man ever marries intentionally!

* * *

When a man escapes the noose, up to forty, it is not because he is filled with caution and cynicism, but because he is filled with the carefree spirit of Pan—which never can be caught and tamed by any woman.

HELEN ROWLAND

It is not because he never loved one woman a lot—but because he loved so many women a little.

* * *

It is not because "the right woman never came his way;" but because when she did he was always "on his way" to call on the wrong woman.

* * *

Not because he dreaded the storms and struggles of married life—but because he dreaded the "dead calm" of domesticity.

Not because he waited too long to look for the Ideal Love—but because he began looking for it too early—and too often.

Not because he never met the kind of woman he could live with—but because he never met a woman he could not live without.

Not because no woman ever tried to get him—but because so many women tried to get him that it spoiled all the joy of the love-chase.

Not because he never had an impulse to tie himself to a woman for life—but because he never had the heart to disentangle himself from all the other women in his life.

That is what keeps a man a bachelor—not his inability to fall in love, but his marvelous agility in catching his balance and crawling out of it—just in time!

Marriage is a matter of chance or choice; but permanent bachelorhood requires skill, luck, dexterity, eternal vigilance—and natural genius!

The Perennial Bachelor is born, and not made!

April Showers -:- By Fanny Darrell

"April showers Bring May flowers."

THUS goes the old rhyme. But April showers brings lots of other things, too. Sometimes the showers from April's daughter chase away all the hurt of the misunderstanding and brighten and freshen the love which graces her heart.

And then the temper showers that chase away the sun of her bright smiles and cloud her pretty countenance. These don't bring flowers to her eyes, they dull and kill all the sweetness of her and Love weeps that one of his dreams is destroyed.

And then the mischievous little showers that flurry around and spoil Miss April's new finery! Oh, they're impudent those showers, but who cares! The world's too lovely a thing on an April day to worry about much, because you always remember the loveliness that comes after the rain.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. ROYAL S. COPELAND

Do Rheumatic Pains Forecast Weather?

IS THERE any scientific foundation for the belief certain persons have that they can "feel" the onset of bad weather? It is a common thing for rheumatic persons to say they can "feel in their bones" that the weather is to change. I am asked frequently if there is any sense in this.

DR. COPELAND

It is probable that barometric pressure has its effect upon the body. If it really has, a rising or falling barometer would have its effect.

Before a storm the barometer falls. This release of pressure lessens the escape of water from the body. It interferes with the free action of the skin. Perspiration is lessened.

Just how this is accomplished may be crudely likened to the effect of pressure on a sponge. If you squeeze it, the water runs out. If you release the pressure the water stays in the sponge.

In a sense, this is what happens to the body by lessening the atmospheric pressure upon its surfaces. With the decreased barometric pressure the fluid does not escape in the usual quantities.

In consequence, what we may call the normal "water balance" is disturbed. This causes certain effects upon the sensory nerve endings in the skin. As a result there is a disturbance of the nerve centers. Restlessness is the observed response.

A few weeks ago a Chicago physiologist, Dr. C. S. Smith, contributed an article to the American Journal of Physiology. In this he points out that:

"The restlessness of various animals that is often noted before a storm might be accounted for by the low barometric pressure and the consequent water retention. With an animal that is particularly sensitive to this condition there is thus given a foreknowledge of approaching bad weather, so that migratory birds are away before there is any sign in the sky of weather change. Hogs usually bed themselves down and cattle on the range become restless and seek shelter, hours before there is any evidence of impending change in reaction that will impress the senses of man."

This scientist explains on the same grounds the claims of persons who suffer with rheumatism or any one of several other disorders that make the nerves particularly sensitive, that they can tell the approach of bad weather. They suffer increased pain or have other symptoms that cause them to "feel it in their bones." Perhaps weather and the water supply of the body are related in such a way that the atmospheric changes are actually felt.

It may well be that the barometric conditions are more important that we suspect. One of my doctor friends has preached this doctrine a long time.

It is a fact that a physician's rounds on a bright, sunshiny day, may find every patient restless and uncomfortable. There may be no obvious physical reasons for these unpleasant symptoms.

It may well be that the state barometer is responsible. That is what my doctor friend has believed for years. This most recent theory confirms his conclusions.

Answers to Health Queries

"YOURS TRULY." — Q. What causes a pain in the left breast, would you advise me to see a physician?

A. Consult your doctor for a careful examination.

B. L. W.—Q. Why is it every time I eat radishes I get a sore throat?

A. You probably have an idiosyncrasy for them. Avoid eating them.

W. A. P.—Q. What do you advise for indigestion and constipation.

A. First of all correct your diet. Eat simple well-cooked food. Avoid foods unduly rich in fats and starches.

Correct Manners

By MRS. CORNELIUS BEECKMAN

Correspondence

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

1. Is it better to use jet black ink when writing letters? Just what kind of ink should one ask for when buying it for correspondence?

2. Is my stationery in good taste or is it too large for a woman to use?

3. What is the correct way to head a letter? I have seen and heard of so many different ways, but am in doubt as to which way is best. A. F. B.

YES, black ink is considered the best kind of ink to use. If you will send me an addressed envelope, I will be so happy to tell you of the "perfect" black ink that I have used—most happily—for several years. And it does make writing a joy! It never clogs a pen.

2. Your letter paper is of a perfect size for your handwriting. I like the paper, except the over-decoration in the weave.

3. For a business letter or a letter to someone who must be informed of your address and the date on which the letter was written, this is the best form:

504 Westchester Street,
Ilion, New York,
May 15, 1929.

There should not be abbreviations in the heading (as you abbreviated the name of your state). The heading may be split, the address being written on the top of the sheet and the date at the bottom of the letter, to the left of the signature.

If you are writing to a close friend it would hardly seem necessary to write your address. And you might write, "Thursday, the first of May," for the date.

Evening Dress Essential

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

Am I right in assuming that a church wedding taking place at 8 o'clock in the evening calls for strictly formal clothes? Does that include the mother of the bride (her father is dead), also mother and father of the groom? Does that apply to other guests?

A reception will follow the ceremony to which about 40 guests have been invited. I have been told that I am wrong about this, but it would seem silly to me to see the bridal party in evening clothes and not the family.

2. Also the bride intends to have an usher and a bridesmaid walk up the aisle together at the recessional, which I do not think is good form, or is it? There will be four of each.

3. In case the bride's mother wears an afternoon dress, which I am quite sure she will, as she has already bought it, will it still be correct for my husband and me to wear evening clothes? I am the mother of the groom-to-be. F. R. P.

IF the wedding is to be formal (that is, if the bride and groom are to be dressed formally) all members of the wedding party and all guests should be dressed in formal evening clothes. This is the most formal of occasions—an evening wedding with the bride and groom formally dressed—and the way that guests show respect for such formality is to dress according to the spirit of the occasion.

2. At the well-planned, cosmopolitan wedding, the bridesmaids and ushers do not walk together, either in the processional or the recessional. They walk together, two by two, in the processional, after the ushers, who also walk two by two, and they walk together in the recessional, two by two, before the ushers, who walk last in the recessional, two by two.

3. If you are sure that the wedding is to be a formal, I advise you to wear formal dress, hoping that the mother of the bride will change her plans.

Matron's Signature

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

1. Supposing that my name is Kate Elwood and that I marry a man named Williams. How shall I sign my name in thanking people, especially those whom I do not know, for wedding presents? Shall I sign Kate Elwood Williams, or Kate Williams?

2. What is the proper way to use the large spoon, known as the dessert spoon? The dessert spoon with my silver is rather large and looks more like a tablespoon. READER.

IF the wedding presents are received before you are married, you of course sign your maiden name. And all wedding presents received before the wedding should be thanked for before the wedding. But if the presents are received after the wedding, you sign your thank-you notes with either form. The more usual form is Kate Elwood Williams, for this form registers both names of the maiden name, and the last name of the married name.

2. Dessert spoon has many uses, principally for desserts like compotes of fruit, puddings and so forth; and I like it, too, for soups instead of the usual round-bowl soup spoon.

Love's Awakening

A Continuation of Love's Embers

By ADELE GARRISON

Katherine Advises Cure for Mother Graham's Tantrum

I WENT out of my mother-in-law's room as unobtrusively as possible, and softly shut the door behind me. As I went down the hall, I heard the decided click of the lock and at the sound my heart dropped precipitately to the region of my heels.

I knew what that sound heralded—a long-drawn out spell of sulkiness in which Dickey's mother would play the role of a suffering martyr, would have to be coaxed to eat, even to come outside her room.

It had been a long time since she had indulged herself in a tantrum of this sort, and I would have marveled at her losing her temper so completely over so trivial a cause, had I not remembered that it never had been the big issues which had aroused her rancor, but some petty little incident hardly worth a controversy but for the principle involved.

There had been a time when I would have met her tirade with frigidity and waited for her to make the first overture of friendliness. But that time had passed with her rapidly advancing years. She was an old woman, and though for the peace of the household I could not permit her to develop the petty tyranny with which so many old people terrorize their households, yet I could temper my firmness with deference and kindly consideration.

There was no use doing or saying anything, I knew, until the first gust of her anger had passed. I did not worry over her threats to stop eating, to write to her daughter, Harriet, asking for asylum or to summon Dicky home. I had heard them all many times, and learned that she never would carry out the last two threats, and could be cajoled from the first one when she became really hungry. But I dreaded the narrow path of caution which I must tread for the next week or two lest I again rouse her anger.

I was glad indeed that the Brixton visit was so many days away, that Harry and Dicky were gone and Lillian and Marion on the eve of departure for their trip to the mountains. My father was keeping very much to his room and the book of reminiscences he was compiling for the secret service. There would be less in the household, besides my mother-in-law and myself, only Katherine and Mother Graham's two idolized grandchildren, Junior and Mary. Her self-imposed martyrdom would not be fed by the opportunity to exhibit it to a large audience.

At luncheon I told my father, Lillian, Marion and Mary of the change, then went on to the little balcony where Katherine sat watching Junior in his first playtime outdoors since his fall from the apple tree. She looked at me at first casually, then more intently as I came over to her. She drew up a chair for me.

"It isn't true," she laughed, "or if it is, it isn't as bad as it seems. Nothing ever is. Sit down and tell me about it."

"It's Mother Graham," I said despondently, and when I had finished telling her of my encounter with my truculent mother-in-law, she gave a soft prolonged whistle.

"I thought she'd got religion," she commented. "She hasn't had one of those outbursts in years."

"Do you suppose it will hurt her?" I asked, anxiously voicing the uppermost thought in my mind. "She's so old and frail, you know. And she says she won't eat."

"Don't worry about that part of it," the little nurse retorted with a slight smile. "To my certain knowledge she has tea, coffee, condensed milk, and a choice variety of canned soups, jams, crackers and biscuits in the corner cupboard of hers, and that tiny electric grill to heat anything on. She can get on very nicely for a much longer time than it will take for her to consent graciously to come down to her meals again. And, as for the rest of it, let me tell you frankly that if you encourage this sort of thing at her age you'll make of her a tyrant who cannot be crossed because the thwarting might kill her. You must make a stand now or never."

Tomorrow's Horoscope

Saturday, April 6

THE affairs of this day may be complexioned by subtlety and intrigue, according to the fairly important place of the eccentric planet Neptune in opposition to Luna. There is danger of fraud, misrepresentation and malice. But with wariness and good judgment there are many symbols of substantial progress, returns for industry and fidelity, with advantageous changes and satisfactory new agreements or contracts. The domestic, social and affectional relations should also be satisfactory.

Those who birthday it is may plan for a year of return for industry, application and loyalty, with new arrangements and probably changed environment. But in all agreements they should be on guard against subtlety and fraud. The personal affiliations should prove happy.

A child born on this day may have many fine talents and sterling qualities, but, nevertheless, its nature may be subtle, intriguing or possibly given to peculiarities of thought and action.

Sunday Dinner

By PRUDENCE PENNY

Cream of Tomato Soup.
Roast Lamb, Mint Sauce.
Duchess Potatoes, Buttred Peas.
Bird's Nest Salad.
Strawberry Short Cake.
Coffee. Peppermints.

THERE'S a zest and a tang which Tomato Soup supplies to any menu, therefore, we'll have it for our Sunday dinner. To make it scald a quart of milk with a slice of onion, then remove the onion and thicken the milk with four teaspoons of flour diluted with cold water until thin enough to pour, being careful to see that the mixture is free from lumps; cook 20 minutes, stirring constantly at first.

Cook a half can of tomatoes with two teaspoons of sugar for 15 minutes, add a quarter teaspoon of soda, and rub through a sieve; combine the mixture and strain into a soup tureen over one-third cup of butter, a teaspoon of salt and an eighth teaspoon of pepper.

GAGE the appetites of your family, then buy a big enough roast of lamb.

Wipe the meat with a damp cloth, dredge it with salt, pepper and enough flour to give it delightful crust, and put in a hot oven, on the roasting rack. Allow twenty minutes to the pound for cooking, and baste quite often.

Serve with a mint sauce. Just in case you want a recipe for the mint sauce—let me give it to you.

MINE SAUCE—Add a tablespoon of powdered sugar to a half cup of vinegar; when dissolved, pour over a quarter cup of finely chopped mint leaves, and allow to stand 30 minutes on the back of the range to infuse. If the vinegar is very strong, dilute it with water.

To fashion a bird's nest salad, you will need 3 large tomatoes, 1½ cupsful of creamed cottage cheese, salt, ⅛ teaspoonful of white pepper, ¼ teaspoonful mayonnaise dressing. Halve the tomatoes and scoop out the centers. Season the creamed cottage cheese with the spices. Chill thoroughly; then form into balls the size of large marbles. Put three balls into each tomato half, and serve with mayonnaise.

IT IS altogether fitting and proper that strawberry shortcake be our dessert. To make the shortcake, mix and sift twice 2 cups of flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon of salt, 2 teaspoons sugar.

Work in a ¼ cup of butter with the tips of the fingers, and add gradually ¾ cup of milk. Toss on a floured board, divide into two parts, Pat, roll out and bake 12 minutes in a hot oven in round layer cake tins.

For the sauce cream together one-fourth cup of butter and one cup of powdered sugar.

Into this stir a cup of mashed strawberries, and then fold in the stiffly beaten white of an egg. Beat until the mixture is smooth and foamy. Decorate the top of the cake with whipped cream and whole berries.

GRANDMOTHERS are always famous for cookie jars. I don't know why cookie jars skip a generation and betake themselves to grandmothers, but that seems to be the case.

And as long as there are grandmothers, bless them, there will be cookie jars filled with all kinds of surprises.

I want to give a few cookie recipes to grandmothers and mothers can try them too, if they wish.

FRUITED SQUARES — Three eggs, unbeaten, 1 cup sugar, 2 tablespoons melted shortening, 1 cup dates cut medium fine, 1 cup nuts, 5 tablespoons flour, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon baking powder. Add sugar to eggs and mix. Add the shortening; stir in the dates and nuts then the flour, salt and baking powder sifted together. Spread about one inch thick in well greased shallow pan. Bake in slow oven for one and one-half hours. Cut in squares and roll in powdered sugar.

223 Hospitals Warn!

Harsh toilet paper may cause trouble

380 Doctors and 223 Hospitals, recently questioned, agreed that "inferior bathroom paper is injurious."

FREQUENT cases of inflammation — and sometimes even serious infection are caused by harsh, coarse-grained toilet paper.

Yet many toilet papers sold to housewives today are utterly unfit for bathroom use. Some are glazed. Some are rough-surfaced. Some are even chemically impure—made from reclaimed waste materials.

For your family's sake, don't take chances with the paper you buy. Ask for ScotTissue or Waldorf. Hospitals and doctors approve and recommend these soft, linen-like tissues. They are specially processed to meet all medical standards.

To Make Inexpensive Glassware Sparkle Like Costly Kind

Simple New Way Does Wonders and Is Kind to Pretty Hands—Use Any Kind of Soap

Even the most inexpensive table china and glassware can be made to look far better than its price in a simple way. It can be given the brilliancy and sparkle of the most costly kinds; and glassware particularly is judged by its sparkle.

Simply add one teaspoonful of the cleansing preparation called CLIMALENE to your water. Use the same soap you ordinarily do, but use only ONE-FOURTH the usual quantity. Wash as usual.

This preparation is a grease dissolvent, while soap is, strictly speaking, a grease. Thus it gives shine and sparkle while soap often leaves a greasy film that's hard to get rid of even with the most careful drying.

Most hotels use this method to make glass and china gleam. Housewives like it not only for this reason, but because it acts to soften and whiten skin fabric of the hands.

Results are surprising. Try it. Get at any grocery store in 10c or 25c package. Just ask your grocer for CLIMALENE.

Paul Waner Finally In.
No Excuse for Delay.
Earlier Trip Possible.
Steffen Here Tomorrow.
Sewell Pursuing Scott.
Home for Celtic Five.

ONLY THREE PIRATE POSTS AWARDED

WHILE it is gratifying to know that Paul Waner has at last signed a Pirate contract, and that Pittsburgh's baseball skies for 1929 have cleared in consequence, except for the existing uncertainty as to the condition of Pie Tryanor's injured hip—much more important than Waner's signing—the pleasure that local fans feel at the happy termination of the much-discussed holdout is not unmixed with resentment that the agreement on terms arrived at in Fort Worth yesterday was not reached a great deal earlier.

Paul Waner

That Paul Waner, like Lloyd, eventually accepted a compromise and penned his name on a new Buccaneer pact, was not in the least surprising. It had been a certainty from the start that he would do so, and there never was the slightest cause for worry that he would not be in the lineup before opening day arrived. All baseball holdouts do that. They are very bold with their retirement talk (though there is rarerly in evidence anything to which they might retire) as long as the training season is on and it doesn't cost anything to hold out and get a lot of advertising. But when the time draws near at which a continued holdout would mean a loss of salary they all make haste to get in line. The retirement stuff has become a tiresome lot of annual bunk, and experienced fans refuse to become steamed up over it.

IT was certain that Paul Waner would not be different from the rest, that he would come down in his terms, and that a compromise would be reached that would bring him into the fold. Waner himself naturally knew this better than any one else and his refusal to take earlier steps toward a confab gives the fans ground for complaint.

This because the delay meant a loss of valuable training time for which no excuse can be offered. The trip that Waner voluntarily made to Fort Worth yesterday to meet President Barney Dreyfuss could just as well have been made to the Corsair camp on the coast several weeks ago. Waner knew the club would have stood the expense of such a trip. Instead of doing what he could to help the management hasten matters toward a settlement, Paul delayed the agreement by unbusinesslike tactics. It may be news to some of the fans that it was not until last Friday that he even told the club what salary he wanted.

THE outcome of yesterday's conference in Fort Worth shows how easy it is to reach a mutually satisfactory agreement on a disputed question if they will only get together and talk things over.

The same conference could have been held weeks earlier, with the same result, if Waner had been able to see the wisdom of transacting his own business affairs and following his own judgment, instead of listening to self-appointed managers and advisers on the outside.

Barney Dreyfuss

IF Paul had followed the former course he would have had two or three weeks more of good training and practice and would be in far better shape for the opener, now only 11 days off than he can possibly be after his late start. Fortunately Paul is not of the type that has lot of weight to take off, and an outfielder of his build can whip himself into playing shape quickly. But there should have been no necessity for late haste. The agreement reached yesterday could have been reached early in March. Waner had a perfect right to hold out until doomsday if he had so desired, but when he meant to cut his terms and seek a conference eventually he should have done so early enough to assure his fitness for the start of the pennant race.

THE most important question now is as to how the make-up of the team will be affected by the signing of the older Waner. Paul, of course, will play right field, but what bearing that will have upon the remainder of the lineup can be determined only by the practice games yet to be played. Even now only three positions are definitely filled. Those are the two outfield posts to be guarded by the Waners and first base, to be covered by Earl Sheely.

It has been Manager Bush's intention, in the event of Paul Waner's signing, to shove Grantham to second or third base and use Adam Comorosky in the third outfield berth, but whether he will stick to that plan now, with Traynor's injured hip interfering with him as a shortstop, or will shift Traynor to third, use Sparky Adams and Dick Bartell at the two midway posts (a combination that does not look impressive), and send Grantham to left field is a question. Donie himself doesn't know yet what the answer will be.

WHEN the Carnegie Tech football players are called out next Monday for their first spring practice session, Coach Bob Waddell will be in charge. Judge W. P. Steffen, advisory coach, will be in Pittsburgh tomorrow, but will return to Chicago tomorrow night. A total of 45 candidates will come out for the spring drills. Of these, 20 will be boys who played on the freshman team last season.

Harry McCurdy, of Monongahela, Pa., is to be groomed for Howard Harpster's job at quarterback, and Alexander Ducanis, of East Binghampton, N. Y., center for last year's plebes, is slated for Saul Mielziner's job at the keystone. A strong candidate for end, and one of unusual size for a wingman, is Murray G. Armentrout, of the 1928 plebes team, standing 6 feet 2 inches and weighing 184 pounds. He is a Pittsburgh boy, a graduate of Shadyside Academy and the Hunt Prep School.

Joe Sewell

WHO'LL be the major league baseball player to beat Everett Scott's standing record of having taken part in 1,307 ball games in the big show? Joe Sewell, of Cleveland, looks like the best bet. At least, Sewell is nearer to Scott's total than any other pastimer now active in the fast set. According to Ed Bang's statistics, Joe has played in a total of 938 straight games up to date. That's a long way from 1,307, it is true. It spells a difference of 369 games, and Sewell will have to keep going for almost two and a half seasons without a miss in order to catch up. But at that rate he is far ahead of the rest of the pack.

SEWELL is the only player in either of the main loops who has played 150 or more games per season for more than three consecutive years. He has done it eight years in a row. Only Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig have played in 150 or more games for three seasons in succession, and Paul and Lloyd Waner, Fresco Thompson and Heinie Manush are the only others who have taken part in 150 or more contests in the last two campaigns.

Sewell would have had a chance to beat Scott's great continuous-playing record this year but for the action of Manager Tris Speaker in benching him for a short time in a shake-up of the Cleveland team in September, 1922. But for that benching, Sewell now would have

PAUL WANER SIGNS; MATES JUBILANT

By CHARLES J. DOYLE,
Staff Correspondent.

FORT WORTH, Tex., April 5.—The National League is still smarting from the October doings of those Yankees, so it may be that the poor Tigers will have to take the rap for Babe Ruth and company. A few days back the Pirates took a sweet fall out of the Yanks and now they are out to follow up in the wake of the Cubs in making things unpleasant for Bucky Harris and his Jungaleers.

With two victories over the Tigers to their credit, the Buccos today will try to add to their string and with Burleigh Grimes ready to go anywhere from five to nine rounds, there is reason to believe that the American League will have to bite the dust again.

BUCS BRACE UP

The whole tone of the Pirates is up several notches today as the result of the signing yesterday of Paul Waner, holdout outfielder, whose punch is a big part of the Buccaneer attack.

Every member of the Pittsburgh club is convinced that Brother Paul is needed to put the Pirates in the flag fight, and when he was sighted yesterday there was general rejoicing. The money positions have a big lure for the boys of the diamond and Paul's mates think that he will be the means of putting an extra kick into everybody's sock.

Paul left last night for Ada by auto. He will return today or tomorrow. If he reaches the camp tomorrow he will find the team in Dallas, the Bucs being scheduled to move to the sister city at 7 o'clock this evening.

TO TAKE THINGS EASY

The wee slugger has 10 days in which to point for the big stuff. He will take things easy for two days in Dallas and will then hop to Shreveport next week, where the Tigers will be met in three contests. It is probable that Paul will swing into action about this time, if he doesn't play in Dallas.

The Tigers were aware of their plight after finishing with those fence-busting Cubs and now they are in no man's land with not much to cheer them, inasmuch as the Pittsburgh pitchers seem to be close to top form.

KREMER LOOKS GOOD

Remy Kremer and Joe Dawson took the measure of the Bengals yesterday at the Fort Worth park, the score being 3 to 1. The count really should have been 1 to 0 in favor of the Pirates, but the loose fielding and questionable umpiring interfered with the ultimate result.

Kremer and Owen Carroll looked like a pair of first-class right handers as they battled over the bigger portion of the fight. The only bonefide tally of the contest was made on a double by Hemsley and a single by Bartell. In his six rounds, Frenchy gave indication of being close to top form. He could have gone the entire distance had Manager Bush requested as much toil. Joe Dawson finished, and running true to his form of the whole trip, was effective.

P. WANER AT GAME

Manager Bucky Harris performed at third base for the Tigers in the absence of Marty McManus, who recently was spiked by Hack Wilson. Harris, by the way, has a big infield worry, the shortfield being a troublesome spot.

Barney Dreyfuss and Paul Waner, after their two-hour conference, which culminated in the signing of Brother Paul, were interested spectators at the game.

The Pirates and Tigers will be apart for two days after today. The Bucs will move over to Dallas, while the Jungaleers will remain in Fort Worth. The big league scraps will be resumed in Shreveport next week.

KERR TO SPEAK

SHARON, Pa., April 5.—Andy Kerr, football coach at W. & J., will be the main speaker when fans honor the Sharon High basketball team, runners-up for the state title, Thursday at a banquet here.

Back on the Big Time :-: By Bob Reamy

NOW LET THE SEASON GO ON!

The Waners are back in the Pirate fold. The Holdout Act is over and the Poison Act of the baseball diamond is ready to knock the National League populace goggle-eyed once more. Lloyd Waner, the younger of the brothers, ended his holdout campaign more than a week ago and joined the club before it left California to work its way back east for the opening of the National League season in Chicago, one week from next Tuesday, and Brother Paul signed at a conference with President Barney Dreyfuss, of the club, at Fort Worth, Tex., yesterday. Now to resume our pennant doping where we left off last summer!

BUSH FAVORS KREMER FOR OPENER

By CHARLES J. DOYLE,
Staff Correspondent.

Ft. WORTH, April 5.—Either Burleigh Grimes or Remy Kremer will work the opening game of the season for the Pirates, judging by the form shown by these two worthies. And there is another big consideration as to why a right-hander will oppose the Cubs, in the jump-off game. The McCarthy clan probably will shellac any southpaw that goes against them on account of its array of righthand swingers.

Kremer, right now looks like the better bet of the two, but the ticket might go to Grimes on the big date. However, either one of the veterans should acquit himself creditably. Hill also is a consideration.

BOYS VISIT RUTH

Babe Ruth made a big hit with a flock of newsboys in Ft. Worth Wednesday. The newsies swarmed around the desk of the hotel which quartered the athletes. The clerk was in a quandary when they told him they wanted to see the Bambino. Finally, he rang Babe's room in an effort to take care of the situation.

"Send them all up to my room," roared the Babe, when the clerk told him of the rush of newsboys at the desk. Up they went and had a 30 minute picnic with the great player.

Aside from the reasons that lured Paul Waner to Ft. Worth, it is a fact that the call of the diamond must have been working up quite a fever within the breast of the little slugger, for Paul, it developed, brought his glove along.

It may be that the rightfielder figured he would come to terms with Barney Dreyfuss without much dickering, but the two were closeted for almost two hours before the announcement of Paul's signing was made. The game was just about ready to start and Paul did not get a workout.

MAY PLAY TODAY

There is a chance that Brother Paul will return in time for a session today, but he will have to hurry. He came to Fort Worth by auto and returned to Ada, by the same transportation, the distance each way being almost 200 miles. In the event that Paul does not show up today, he will be in Dallas tomorrow.

"I think I can get in pretty good condition in a week," said the slugger. And he looks the part of a well-conditioned player. Paul's weight is just right according to his own statements, he tips the beam at 155, in his street clothes. He has played some little ball this season just to keep his hand in.

With the star hitter in the fold and with Traynor apparently on the mend, the Pirate outlook is becoming rosier. Traynor is taking treatments from a local specialist, who has given him every encouragement.

Sharon Basketball Star Fractures Ankle in Game

TIGER RANDALL BOXES RUDY TONIGHT

By HARRY KECK,
Sports Editor.

Victor in his last start, when he was on the short end of 10-to-1 betting in his bout with Dominick Profio, the knockout star, in the same ring, Tiger Joe Randall fights in the Moose Temple windup tonight to retain his newly-won position against the assault of Young Rudy, of Charleroi, in the 10-round main event of a snappy card arranged by Promoter Francis Flynn.

Billy Dacey.

Randall has been training in Charleroi, Rudy's home town, with Willie Davies, the flyweight ace, and his stablemate, for tonight's battle, and his manager, Jim Buchanan, looks for him to win easily and surprise the fans with his improved form. Buchanan was one of the few persons who had faith in Randall's chances against Profio, and was not startled by the Tiger's victory that night.

Jackie Murray, Negro welterweight, of the Hill, and Johnny Vivio, of Bloomfield, box the semi-final; Billy Dacey, young light heavyweight of the Hill, meets Frank Monroe, Fair Haven veteran, in the second event, and Johnny Smackey, of Canonsburg, and Johnny Michaels, of Swissvale, battle in the opener.

RISKO BOXES VON PORAT

Johnny Risko boxes Otto Von Porat at Boston tonight. Dick Evans meets Henry Firpo and Young Guido tangles with Johnny Hahn at Oil City, and Maxie Strub boxes Harry Felix in Erie.

Big night for the amateurs. Shows are listed at the Moose Temple, Carnegie, under the auspices of the Carnegie K. of C.; Avalon Borough Hall, under the auspices of the North Boros American Legion, and Millvale High School, under the auspices of the Cardinal Club, of Millvale.

KDKA Broadcast Heard by Byrdmen

Radio Station KDKA's broadcast of the Tommy Loughran-Mickey Walker fight in Chicago a week ago was heard by the men aboard the S. S. Eleanor Bolling, the supply ship of the Byrd expedition, at Dunedin, New Zealand, 11,000 miles away, it has just been learned through a message picked up by George H. Hamilton, of Oil City, an amateur operator, and sent on to the station.

The message follows:

"For KDKA, Pittsburgh. What a fight between Mickey Walker and Tommy Loughran tonight. The crew certainly did enjoy it. Program received 100 per cent readibility; no fading. We all thank the NBC. With best Easter greetings. Signed, Greenlie, S. S. Eleanor Bolling."

SCHENLEY GOLF OPENING IS POSTPONED

As a result of recent heavy rains, the opening of the Schenley Park public links has been postponed until Monday, April 15.

The Schenley course was to have been thrown open to the golfing public tomorrow, but when Al McBride, Schenley pro, inspected the layout today he found the fairways soft and the greens soggy. When he returned to the clubhouse Al promptly changed the opening date from April 6 to April 15.

TRI-STATE CAGE PLAY OPENS

WASHINGTON, Pa., April 5.—With 41 teams competing, the third annual tri-state basketball tournament in the Washington Armory here opened last night, six games being played. Play will be resumed this afternoon and continue through Saturday in three classes under A. A. U. sanction.

The Monessen Rangers, the Alpha Tau Omegas of Washington, the Washington Y. M. C. A. and the Washington Moose passers were winners in the opening senior games while the Ellsworth H club and Rexall juniors were winners in the junior division, the latter by default.

FIFTEEN EVENTS ON AQUATIC PROGRAM

By JESS CARVER.

Under the personal direction of Pat J. Corr, the fifteenth annual University of Pittsburgh scholastic and university swimming championships will open tonight in the Trees gym pool. Pat, of course, hasn't been in charge of the meet for all the 15 years of its duration, for I doubt not that at some time, the pleasant and still youthful Irishman competed in the events himself, but he has been the major domo since he became varsity swim coach at Pitt, which is all of four or five years.

Pat Corr

There are six events on the program for university and school swimmers, and three special relay races, one for senior high school teams and two for junior. The meet is open to all students of the university and all splashers in the city and district high schools.

Bill Wright, of Pitt, and George Vallowe, of Homestead High, were the stars of last year's meet. Wright took three first places in the university event and Vallowe won two scholastic championships. Only one record went by the boards, Valentine, of Pitt, setting a new mark in the 440-yard free-style when he negotiated the distance in 5:41.

Following is a list of the 1928 victors, and by the same token, the present champions:

DEFENDS HEAVY TITLE

BERLIN, April 5.—(AP.)—Ludwig Haymann successfully defended his German heavyweight championship last night by defeating Rudi Wagner, the challenger, on points in a 15-round bout at the Sports Palace.

SMALLWOOD, GIZZY FIGHT TO DRAW

Two human windmills, Chet Smallwood, of Akron, and Battling Gizzy, of Donora, provided thrills galore in their 10-round main bout at the Palisades, McKeesport, last night, and at the end of the slugging bee Referee Red Robinson called it a draw after the judges, Jock Simco and Jim McLaughlin, disagreed. Every one of the 10 rounds fairly bristled with real action, and both boys went to their work with full speed in every round, appearing just as fresh in the tenth stanza as they did in the first.

In the other half of the double windup, Phil Scello, of McKeesport, won easily over Bobby Green, of Akron, taking practically every one of the 10 rounds, but weakening to such an extent in the last session that he was unable to apply the knockout wallop, despite the fact that he hit Green with everything but the ring posts.

LOTS OF ACTION

The Smallwood-Gizzy match sent the fans home in a happy mood. Seldom is such action provided in a bout. While the Ohio southpaw appeared to have the edge at the close of the fight, the draw decision was not harmful to either one. Early in the fifth round Smallwood opened a cut, an inch long, over Gizzy's left eye, and throughout the remainder of the bout the blood flowed freely from the opening and hindered the Donora fighter considerably. Smallwood made it his business to land a hard right on the injured eye at every opportunity, and the wound was not given any time to heal, except for the one-minute periods between rounds.

Gizzy took the first round of the fight by a slight shade, although Smallwood, by his southpaw style, got plenty of practice on Gizzy's head and mid-section. The Akron entry grabbed the honors in the second, third and fourth rounds, leading the battle all the way and landing repeatedly with as beautiful a one-two punch as ever has been seen in a Tube City ring.

He also excelled in the infighting. Gizzy brought blood from Smallwood's nose in the fourth round, after landing a hard right, and this punch seemed to bother Chet during the remainder of the round.

TRIES FOR KNOCKOUT

Smallwood also took the seventh and eighth rounds, and the ninth was even. Gizzy made a determined effort to win the bout by a knockout in the tenth round, throwing plenty of punches at Smallwood and the Akron flash was not sorry when the bell ended the bout. The final round was Gizzy's by a nice margin, but Smallwood appeared to have piled up a big enough lead in the early rounds to win him the decision.

The style of the fighters, particularly Gizzy, reminded the fans of the late Harry Greb. The Donora boy was swinging almost all the time, but Smallwood's short, hard punches landed more often and had the more telling effect. Gizzy was injured considerably. After the fifth round the blood, flowing freely from his injured eye until the end of the fight, almost blinded him.

SCELLO VICTOR

Phil Scello, fighting for the first time under the direction of his new manager, Reed Brown, won easily from Smallwood's stable mate, Bobby Green. Although reluctant at first to lead the battle, the Tube City Italian learned early in the bout that the Ohioan had nothing except a confusing style, and he went after a knockout victory.

However, Green took everything Scello had during the 10 rounds and came back for more. In the late rounds, both slugged rather freely, with Scello having the better of practically every exchange. Phil tried hard for a knockout in the tenth round, but his punches lacked steam and Green survived until the final bell. Both judges and the referee voted for Scello. The fighters weighted 148¼ pounds.

PORTO BEATS ANGELO

In the second bout, Frankie Porto, of Glassport, weighing 128 pounds, carried off the judges' decision over Young Angelo, of Swissvale, 125½ pounds. Throughout the six rounds, the boys put up a nice boxing exhibition with Porto landing the most blows. Most of Angelo's punches were blocked by Porto, who made the former Swissvale amateur's face a target for his sharp shooting left.

Eddie Brannon, Pittsburgh Negro, won the judges' decision over Al Waldek, of Tarentum, in the six-round opener. Brennan weighed 134, while Waldek came in at 131½.

Fight Results

Dempsey Tells Boys Not to Smoke

DETROIT, Mich., April 5.—(INS.)—Mt. Clemens felt the inspiration for bigger and better things today following the visit of Jack Dempsey, who told the Kiwanis Club he has five sites in mind in Macomb County for a boxing arena.

At a meeting in the Mt. Clemens High School earlier in the day, Dempsey spoke to the boys on temperance, warning that to smoke or drink before the age of 30 was injurious.

MISS COLLETT VICTOR AT PINEHURST

PINEHURST, N. C., April 5.—(AP.)—Miss Glenna Collett, of Providence, R. I., national women's champion, today added the North and South women's championship to her group of trophies by defeating Miss Virginia Van Wie, of Chicago, 4 and 3. Their cards:

Miss Collett—
Out ..... 4 4 5 3 6 5 4 5—41
In 4 4 5 5 4 3

Miss Van Wie—
Out ..... 5 4 4 4 5 5 4 6—42
In 4 5 5 6 5 3

Miss Collett won the first hole with a par 4 while Miss Van Wei, whose third shot overran the green, was taking a five. Miss Collett's second shot went into trap to the right of the green, but she exploded out of it and placed her ball five feet from the cup, then sank the putt.

Glenna again outdrove her opponent 50 yards, but they halved the hole with par fours. Miss Van Wei sinking a 25-foot putt from off the green. Miss Van Wei evened the count on the third with a par four, while Miss Collett was taking a five. Miss Van Wei got a bad break on her third when she rimmed the cup with a 30-foot putt from off the green.

VIRGINIA EVENS SCORE

Miss Collett made it one up again by sinking a 40-footer to win the fourth with a par three, while Miss Van Wei missed a short putt for a four. Both were in the traps on the fifth and took four to get on the green. Miss Van Wei sank a long putt for a five and the hole, evening the score gain. They halved the sixth with fives, Miss Collett missing a chance for a birdie by rimming a four-foot putt.

The seventh was halved in fours. Miss Collett drove into the trap, but recovered dead to the pin and missed a three-foot putt. Miss Van Wie's drive was over, but she came back to halve the hole.

Both third shots were over the green in the eighth and they sank four-foot putts to have the hole with par fives. Miss Collett got a 290-yard drive on the ninth, but sent her second into the trap beside the green. She chipped out and laid her ball 20 feet from the pin. Miss Van Wie's third shot was way over the green and Glenna took the hole with a five.

Lazzeri Swats Two Homers as Yankees Win

WACO, Tex., April 5.—(AP.)—More than 12,000 fans, a record turnout for this city, crowded into the local Texas League park yesterday to see the Yankees defeat the home team by 13-to-3 in eight innings. The overflow crowd got so out-of-hand in the ninth that the umpires had to call the game before Waco could take its final turn at bat, and the score reverted to the end of the eighth. Nothing was lost, except a double by Durocher. Tony Lazzeri got two home runs and Lou Gehrig one.

CITY LEAGUE OFFICIALS NAMED

Tom Birks, of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, was elected president of the City League at a meeting of team managers last night. It was decided that the handling of all league games should be entrusted to members of the Pittsburgh Umpires' Association.

Paul Kurtz, Jack Sell, Cal Bolster and Jack Baird were named to serve as members of an arbitration board, and Jimmy Rooney, Fred Alger and John Dunsky received schedule committee appointments.

Tom Carson, Bill Geer, Ed Miller, Bill McGrady and Pinky Martin, the latter representing Book Shoe in the absence of Huck Finn, presented a new set of league rules, which were adopted by the managers.

TO OPEN IN MAY

The league probably will open its season the first week in May, and expects to furnish local sandlot fans with a high grade of baseball.

The Commercial and Industrial league will meet this evening at Wagner's at 7:30 P. M. At this session the managers expect to complete all arrangements for the new campaign. Eight well-balanced clubs are expected to form the circuit this season, including Gimbel's, Kaufmann's Joseph Horne's, Bell Telephone, Frigidaire, National Printing, Carnegie Steel and Union Stockyard.

REINECKERS READY

The W. L. Reinecker smoker in the Herron Hill High school was a great success. Manager Jock Collette lined up some great talent for the boys, and a large crow attended. From the backing on hand it is very evident that the Reineckers should be very much in the limelight again this season.

Betting Machine Latest Addition To Golf

FRINTON-O N-SEA, England, April 5.—(AP.)—A betting machine called a "totalisator," made its appearance at the first professional golf tournament of the season yesterday, attracting support from the gallery. Tickets to the number of 242 were sold by the traveling pari-mutuel machine at two shillings, sixpence.

Archie Compston was the favorite, followed by Stewart Burns and Henry Cotton, Backers of George Duncan, the winner, were paid 22 shillings, and a penny, just under eight to one for each ticket.

GAVUZZI WINS LAP IN PYLE MARATHON

BALTIMORE, April 5.—(AP.)—Pete Gavuzzi, British entrant, was the first of the transcontinental runners to reach the finish mark of today's lap of the race from Havre de Grace. He made the 44 miles' run in 5 hours 38 minutes and 15 seconds.

John Salo, the Passaic, N. J., policeman, and Guisto Umek, Italian entrant, tied for second place in finishing today, coming in together and timed at 5 hours 56 minutes and 17 seconds for the lap.

Schenley Park Club Tourney Tonight

The Women's Schenley Park Golf Club will hold a tournament today at the Downtown Indoor Golf Links, Smithfield Building. It is expected 50 will turn out for the event, which is also to serve as a practice session for the season at Schenley, which opens tomorrow.

DIXON DAVIS CUP TEAM CAPTAIN

PHILADELPHIA, April 5.—(AP.)—Fitz Eugene Dixon, Philadelphia, has been named captain of the United States Davis Cup tennis team. He succeeds Joseph W. Wear, Philadelphia, who temporarily assumed charge in France last summer after William T. Tilden had been declared ineligible.

Dixon is also chairman of the special selection body of the Davis Cup committee, of which Wear is chairman.

It also became known that candidates for the team will spend a week here next month in final practice before meeting Canada in the first round of the American zone play.

The players will be the guests of the Huntingdon Valley Country Club, near Willow Grove, Pa., and will work out daily on the six new clay courts of the club beginning May 6.

So far, four players have accepted the invitation of the club. They are: John F. Hennessey, Indianapolis; Wilmer Allison, Austin, Tex.; John Van Ryn, Orange, N. J., and Frederick Mercur, Harrisburg, Pa.

BENCH SHOW AT INDIANA

INDIANA, Pa., April 5.—The Indiana Kennel Club will hold its third annual bench show tonight and tomorrow at the state armory here. The show has been licensed by the American Kennel Club.

HYATT ELECTED '30 PANTHER CAGE LEADER

Charles Hyatt, class of '31, student in the college of the University of Pittsburgh and as good a basketball player as has stepped on a collegiate court during the last decade, will captain the Pitt basketball varsity next year. Chipper Cholly was a unanimous choice of the nine lettermen at the annual court banquet at the First Baptist Church, Oakland, last night.

The affair last evening was the most successful basketball banquet Pitt has enjoyed for some years. Dr. Carl Wallace Petty's rousing address would bring the glow of success to a meeting of poorhouse inmates. Personally, I'd rather hear Dr. Petty talk than anyone else you can mention. Hear him once and you'll feel the same way.

No college, university or high school athletic banquet committee can do better than to secure Dr. Petty as a speaker. He's a true all-America bet.

CARLSON, HASTINGS SPEAK

The invocation was delivered by D. C. Shumaker, secretary of the University Y. M. C. A. Toastmaster William C. Arthur, '17, was introduced by Charles Ray, Jr., chairman of the banquet committee. Andy Hastings, football and basketball star of a decade ago, Director of Athletics W. Don Harrison, Bill Parsons, basketball captain 1926, and coach H. C. Carlson completed the list of speakers.

SCHEDULE HEAVY

Director Harrison announced a partial list of the games to be played by the varsity next year. The schedule is not yet complete, there being three and possible four games to be arranged.

Notre Dame will be met twice, the Panthers playing the Irish both here and at South Bend. Three games are listed with Carnegie Tech, as usual, two with Wash-Jeff, West Virginia and Penn State; one with Indiana, Northwestern and Iowa away from home and one with Ohio State here. Syracuse, Temple and Fordham are to be met abroad and the Army will be played again, this time at West Point.

Games are pending with two other Western Conference teams for Pittsburgh and with one of the Eastern Intercollegiate League members. It is also possible that Westminster will be met, which will give the Panthers a schedule of about 24 games.

Among the points brought out at the banquet, aside from the fact that Monty Montgomery and Ed Baker are the club's heftiest eaters, was that Ross Ferraro the only basketball player in captivity able to sleep in the hammock of a Pullman car.

And it gives me great pleasure to report that there was but one instance of bun tossing; George (Bud) Moore, who looks more like Harold Teen every day, flinging one at the very inoffensive Al Becker of the old P. R. R.

1,254 straight games to his credit and would need only 51 games to beat Scott's mark.

SEWELL'S present string of 938 successive games was started on September 15, 1922. Since that time he has not failed to take part in any championship game played by his club.

Since he entered the American League on September 20, 1920, to try for the position made vacant by the death of Ray Chapman, he has played in 1,254 games, or only three less than his team has played.

Nat Holman

THE famous original Celtics, the last word in basketball, are to be together in New York again next season, under the managership of Jim Furey. The permanent home, lack of which caused them to scatter, with the majority playing on the Cleveland Rosenblums, is to be supplied, according to David Verschleicher, president of the club, who says he has completed arrangements to have next winter's schedule of games played in the new sports arena at Sixty-seventh street and Broadway, New York, owned by his father. It will accommodate 10,000 basketball spectators. Many floor fans in this district are of the opinion that same Pittsburgh basketball man, after the town hall is erected, could make a ten-strike by gaining control of the Celtics, which is said to be possible, and bringing the team to this city to make its home here. It was in McKeesport, on the South Side and elsewhere in this section, that the Tamaquas, the Celtics of their day, found a lodging place more than a quarter of a century ago.

AFTER beating the Ft. Waynes four straight in the American League play-off, the Celtics will play for the world championship tonight against the crack Negro five of the Renaissance Club at the Seventy-first Armory in New York.

Captain Nat Holman will be backed up in the Celtic lineup by Dutch Dehnert, Pete Barry, Johnny Beckman and Joe Lopchick, with Dave Banks, Honey Russell, Bob Grody and Ray Kennedy in reserve. The Rens will start with Captain Hilton Solcum, Eyre Saitch, Clarence (Fat) Jenkins, Walter Sanders and Cappy Ricks. Ricks scored 22 points in a game against the Visitations in New York the other night.

Ike McFowler Stops Smith in Third

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., April 5.—(AP.)—Ike McFowler, of Johnstown, knocked out Yankee Jack Smith, of New York, in the third round of a scheduled 10-round bout here last night. McFowler weighed 194, Smith 226.

Young Zabish, Pittsburgh, and Harry Taylor, Johnstown, fought a six-round draw. Johnny Chiodo, Johnstown, won a judges' decision over Andy Stahma, Braddock, in a six-rounder.

Germans Suspend Schmeling's Manager

BERLIN, April 5.—(AP.)—The German Boxing Association, acting as judge and jury in the controversy between Max Schmeling, heavyweight, and his manager, Arthur Buelow, yesterday decided to suspend Buelow's license as manager until further notice. The association took the ground that Buelow's attitude toward the German Boxing Association and toward German boxing in general had been insulting.

The decision, although it does not interfere with the financial engagements between Buelow and Schmeling, entitles Schmeling to make his own contracts. The New York State Boxing Commission has been notified of the decision.

Freddie Pusch, former Beaver High School all-around athlete and at present one of Bob Thorn's trained Seals at Grove City, figure to be one of the two or three best if not THE best discus thrower in the district. He has been getting good distance in his trials this spring, averaging around 120 feet. With Gibby Welch out of the picture, 130 feet will just about win any tri-state meet.

LEADERS FALL IN TRI-STATE PIN TOURNEY

There was a great displacement of leaders in last night's rolling in the tri-state duckpin tourney on the Strand Alleys, Forbes street, Oakland. The N. A. C. L. No. 1 team, of Homestead, spilled 2,484 pins and went into the lead in the five-men event. Culler and Murray Fowler, of Donora, totaled 1,218 pins, a new record for duckpin tournament bowling, and topped the field in the two-men event. They hit 377, 394 and 447 for their record-breaking event. Their last game, the 447 score, is the high two-men game of the tourney, and Culler, hitting 259 as his contribution, stands high for the best single game of the classic.

Furthermore, Culler, starting with the tenth frame in the first game, made 25 marks in a row, either strike or spare, to take the lead for Hilary Wertz's special prize of $25.

The new singles' leader is Casey, who bowls on Johnny Casper's No. 1 team, from Brownsville. He hit 191, 203 and 210 for a 614 total. The Logan Lumber quintet's 929 for a single game in the five-men event was the only high that didn't fall last night.

The pace is quickening in the classic rolling and today and tomorrow will no doubt see further new highs. Last night's scores:

SHOOT AT WILKINSBURG

The Wilkinsburg Gun Club will hold a trophy spoon shoot tomorrow afternoon, beginning at 2 o'clock. The club grounds are located on the Laketon road on the outskirts of Wilkinsburg.

BEN LOEFFLER NEW VALLEY HEIGHTS PRO

By VERN SWARTSFAGER.

The first couple of changes in the lineup of district club professionals for the ensuing season have come to light.

I learn that the Valley Heights Country Club, near Oakmont, has signed one of the Loeffler as professional there this year. But Loeffler, pioneer radio golf instructor of the world, as he is kiddingly, although deservingly, referred to, has been given the job held last year by Harry Zimmerman, one of the trio of brothers I mentioned the other day. Harry, you know, was Valley Heights' first pro—which makes Ben its second.

John Graham.

Loeffler will be on the job at Valley Heights after April 15, and intends to keep up his connection as golf instructor and head of that department for a local downtown sporting house. This is made possible through two efficient assistants.

'ANDERSON PREXY

J. T. Anderson has been re-elected president at the Valley Heights Country Club, with E. Woodings as vice president, George See as secretary and R. B. Blackburn, treasurer.

E. Woodings will remain as chairman of the green committee, and with him will be associated D. Gregg and C. C. Lee.

Several changes have been registered at Valley Heights. A new trap has been placed in front of the fourth green, with other traps throughout the course now under construction.

The club is contemplating constructing nine new holes—to make 18 in all—in the near future, having purchased ground for same.

In the club house the showers have been tiled, and the club renovated. About 25 new members will open the season this year with Valley Heights. A new membership inducement has been inaugurated with a $100 initiation fee and $77 a year dues at the infant club.

MANLEY TO MONTOUR

Jimmy O'Donnell, pro at the Edgewood Country Club, back from a tour of Florida, announces that Johnny Manley, former assistant to Jack Oke at Highland, who was to have assisted him this season, has affiliated with Montour Heights, down near Coraopolis, and, as a result, O'Donnell has signed George Dissenbaugh in that capacity.

Dissenbaugh has been assistant professional to J. Munro Hunter at the Indian Springs Golf Club, Washington, D. C., for three years, having served a five-year term as assistant pro at the Saranac Lake Country Club, in New York, prior to that time.

BRANDS COUSINS

Take this moment to make a little correction. Speaking of the Brands, Fred and Horace, I believe we mentioned recently they were brothers, when, as a matter of fact, they are cousins. Cousins are one thing and brothers another—and so Horace and Fred are cousins.

The South Hills Country Club links are in splendid condition. It was my pleasure to take a quick look at them the other day, and the greens and fairways are coming along splendidly. Members have been playing on them for several weeks, I was told.

GRAHAM FORMALLY NAMED

The formal announcement of nominations of officers of the Western Pennsylvania Golf Association for 1929 have been sent to member-clubs by Secretary George Ormiston. The election, itself, which is a mere formality, will take place at the Keystone A. C. on Thursday night, April 18.

John Graham, of South Hills and Oakmont, is slated to succeed Chester H. Lehman, of Westmoreland, as president; J. Bernd Rose, of Allegheny, former president of the State Association, vice president; George A. Ormiston, of Oakmont, secretary, and James W. Barber, of Chartiers Heights, treasurer. Ormiston and Barber have held their official posts for a nummer of years.

The executive committee for this year will include Fred Weppner of Stanton Heights; E. E. McCoy of Longue Vue; W. K. Frank of Westmoreland, and Leslie W. Young of Allegheny. Young will serve one year to fill in the vacancy caused by J. Bernd Rose's election to the vice-presidency.

London Calls Edith Cross In 'Frisco

SAN FRANCISCO, April 5.—(AP.)—"London calling Miss Edith Cross" announced a San Francisco telephone operator. For a few minutes thereafter the girl tennis star, who will pair with Helen Wills, champion, in the big European tournaments this spring, told an official of the London Tennis Club all about herself, her game and so on.

The interview, over an 8,000-mile stretch, occurred Wednesday night. It left Miss Cross somewhat breathless, but she managed to express the opinion that "they certainly must take their tennis seriously over there."

"She is the third National ranking woman player and will leave in a couple of days with Miss Wills to represent the United States in the tourneys abroad.

TIGER RANDALL BOXES RUDY

out as a welterweight, has found he no longer can make even the middleweight limit of 160 pounds, and his future battling will be done as a light heavyweight, according to word from New York.

Paul Pirrone, of Cleveland, and Russie LeRoy, of Fargo, N. D., have been matched for the semi-final to the Tommy Freeman-Gorilla Jones 12-round bout in Cleveland next Tuesday night. In the other bouts, Jimmy Borde, a French boxer will meet Joey Goodman; Pablo Blance, a Cuban featherweight, will oppose Johnny Holstein, of Buffalo, and Frankie Rio will box Billy Ineman.

BILLICK TO TRAIN HERE

Dan Billick, Duquesne featherweight, who returned home yesterday from New York, will work out here today for his semi-final bout with Jackie Dugan, of Cleveland, on the all-star card of four eight-round bouts at Motor Square Garden next Monday night. Phil Goldstein, local lightweight and stablemate of Billick, boxes Ray Newton, young knockerout, of Mansfield, O., in the windup. Leo Kyburski and Johnny Windsor meet in the second bout, and a substitute will be signed to take the place of Buck McTiernan, who has a bad left hand, against Allen Beatty in the opener.

Morgan Keeps Title In Tame Battle

LOS ANGELES, April 5.—(INS.)—Tod Morgan today retained the world junior-lightweight championship after winning a decision over Santiago Zorilla in a tame 10-round bout here last night.

Morgan kept a jabbing left in Zorilla's face throughout, and the Panama Indian took it all without a quiver.

The affair dragged so much that Referee Jack Kennedy told the fighters if they didn't snap out of it he was in favor of calling it no contest.

AVIATION AIDS BIG BUSINESS

PHILADELPHIA, April 5.—(AP.)—Aviation eventually will create a new departure in "big business," Charles B. Sudborough, vice president in charge of traffic of the Pennsylvania Railroad, predicted in addressing the Atlantic States Shippers Advisory Board. The board represents shippers, receivers of freight and railroads serving the Middle Atlantic states.

The speaker said there was not the slightest expectation that aviation would supplant the railroad, but declared it would be a valuable supplemental agency.

An increase in all lines of business during April, May and June, especially in staple products, was predicted in reports submitted to the convention.

BAD BREATH KEPT HER HOME

Humiliation Ended by World's Tonic

"For weeks I stayed at home every day suffering. I would not go near my neighbors because I knew my breath was so foul they would notice it. To make matters worse, though I seldom sweat, I detected bad odors coming from my body. My skin was getting dull and sallow, and my eyes were yellowish. I had severe headaches at times in the top and back of my head. I would sit holding the back of my head with my hands every time I went out in company. I had dark circles under my eyes; my ankles were swollen in the daytime. I was so humiliated I did not want anyone to see me.

"All these things seemed to come from a bad stomach. My food soured on it, and it got so bad I hated to eat anything. With this I suffered a great deal. I had sharp pains through my shoulders and neck. I got so weak I did not want to do anything, and every effort I made hurt me. During this time I took a lot of medicine, but if it had any effect I could not see where it helped." This sad story was told to a druggist in Pittsburgh by a lady who was purchasing a bottle of World's Tonic. She said: "All these uncomfortable things disappeared when I began taking World's Tonic. It seemed as if it was made just for my case. The first bottle helped me, and this is the fourth that I am buying today. It is doing me so much good that I will never be without it in the house. I eat with a relish now. My food does me good. My breath is clean, the body odors have disappeared, my eyes have cleared up, and I have real strength for my household work.

"The experience I had really scared me. I shudder to think what it would have led to. World's Tonic relieved me so quickly and thoroughly that I cannot say too much for it." This new valuable medicine can be obtained at all Dow Stores (formerly McCulloch), or any other first class drug store. (A-67)

HEARING MONDAY MAY SEND THOMPSON CASE TO LIMBO

The J. V. Thompson bankruptcy case, which 12 years ago shook Uniontown, Pa., to its financial foundations will soon be a matter of dusty records and documents. Referee i Bankruptcy, Watson B. Adair has set Monday as the final date for presentation of claims and filing of a petition to clear the record in the case.

Within a month the final distribution of the assets possibly may be made to the creditors, whose claims total approximately $18,000,000.

Evidence was produced by Attorney A. Leo Weil which showed that "hidden assets" rumors attributed to the princess, concerning an alleged sale of $3,000,000 worth of coal property by Thompson, were based on a legitimate sale of property in West Virginia by the trustees in bankruptcy to the Piedmont Coal Company.

The Sun-Telegraph Fifteen Cent Pattern

A PRETTY SUMMER FROCK

This will develop well in the new printed silks, georgettes and chiffons. It is also good in organdie and silk crepe. The flare skirt is mounted on an underbody to which the sleeves are joined. One may have the fitted sleeve or the bishop sleeve with soft fulness gathered to a band cuff. The waist fronts are lapped in surplice effect, and are draped at the hips in upturned plaits below crosswise slashes that hold gathered fulness in blouse effect. A huge sash bow ornaments one hip.

The pattern for this pleasing style is cut in 6 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. To make the dress for a 38-inch size will require 4¾ yards of material 39 inches wide or wider. For vestee of contrasting material ¼ yard cut crosswise is required 39 inches wide. The underbody of lining requires 1¼ yards 32 inches wide. The width of the dress at the lower edge with fulness extended is 2⅞ yards.

STOP BAD BREATH

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after 20 years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take nightly for a week and note the effect. 15c, 30c, 60c. All druggists.

MARKET JUMPY OVER CREDIT SITUATION

NEW YORK, April 5.—(AP.)—Frequent shifts of speculative sentiment in today's stock market reflected the widespread uneasiness still existing over the credit situation. Reactionary tendencies predominated at the opening as a result of rather heavy liquidation by nervous investors and speculators who were alarmed at the threat contained in the Federal Reserve Board statement published this morning, but these offerings were readily absorbed and the market showed a tendency to rally when the call money rate was lowered from 8 to 6 per cent.

Steel shares were kept in the forefront by operators for the advance, in view of the optimistic predictions being made by leaders of the industry on first quarter and the first half year's earnings. U. S. Steel, which is shortly expected to announce the offering of additional common stock to retire its funded indebtedness, was in brisk demand, rallying from a low of 185½ to 188⅝, where it was up more than 2 points above last night's close. Bethlehem crossed 112 for the first time since the "war brides" boom of 1917. Superior crossed 71 to a new peak, but had difficulty in maintaining its gain after the spirited advance earlier in the week. Vanadium was marked up more than 4 points and Ludlum 2, with most of the other so-called independents selling a point or more higher.

CHICAGO BOARD

CHICAGO, April 5.—Owing to beneficial rains in parts of the southwest, wheat prices here averaged lower early today. Liverpool wheat quotations higher than looked for were practically ignored as being due to transient oversold market conditions there. Opening unchanged to ½c off, Chicago wheat rallied somewhat, but then underwent a general sag. Corn, oats and provisions also were easy, with corn starting at ¼c decline to ⅛c advance and subsequently receding all around.

Kansas reports telling of heavy rains extending from Dodge City west to the Colorado line did much to tip the wheat market balance at times today in favor of the selling side. Some Nebraska points also noted rains, and there were reports of scattered showers in Canada. On the other hand, freak weather was reported prevailing over all Europe, with the season there cold and backward, and rain badly needed.

Considerable notice also was taken today of advices that European importers were bidding for United States hard winter wheat, but that an advance in cash premiums had restricted sales. It was added owing to the fact that quantities of Argentine and Canadian wheat afloat unsold were smaller, Europe soon was likely to purchase more from North America to meet requirements for prompt supplies.

SUGAR MARKET.

NEW YORK, April 5.—Raw sugar was less active early today and no sales were reported. Prices were unchanged at 3.58c for spots, duty paid.

Raw futures opened 1 point lower to 1 point higher and held steady throughout the forenoon on covering and a little trade buying. The list at midday was net unchanged to 1 point higher. The better tone to spots and reports that the pool in Cuba had sold 50,000 tons away from the United States at better prices than obtainable here, probably had some influence on sentiment, although trading on the whole was light. Operators were inclined to limit fresh commitments and await further developments in the spot market.

In refined a fair withdrawal demand was reported, but there was no improvement in new business. Prices were unchanged at 4.90c for fine granulated, with second hands available below this quotation.

Loans Decline $87,000,000.

Loans to brokers and dealers by New York Federal Reserve Bank member banks totaled $5,562,000,000 April 3 against $5,649,000,000 March 27, a decrease of $87,000,000 for the week. The peak to date was $5,793,000,000 on March 20 and the low for 1929 was $5,312,799,000 on January 9. Member bank borrowings from the New York Reserve Bank April 3 amounted to $135,000,000, against $204,000,000 a week ago and $162,000,000 a year ago. The detailed statement follows:

The Federal Reserve system ratio April 3 was 71.5 per cent against 71.3 a week ago and 72.1 a year ago. The New York Bank's ratio was 81.0 against 77.3 last week and 74.3 last year. The consolidated statement of Federal Reserve banks on April 3 shows increases for the week of $5,700,000 in holdings of discounted bills, of $3,100,000 in member bank reserve deposits and of $13,500,000 in cash reserves. Bills bought in in open market decreased $33,700,000, government securities $1,300,000 and total bills and securities $29,300,000.

Convertible Issues in Favor.

A large volume of convertible issues was responsible for a material increase in the amount of new bond and note financing in March, according to the monthly bond review of Lawrence Stern & Co. The review stated that 73 per cent of the total volume of new corporate and foreign issues in March aggregating $498,052,100 were of the convertible type, or carried warrants for some form of participation in junior equities. Including tax exempt offerings, new financing during the month totaled $600,579,692—exceeding February by 49 per cent but falling approximately 15 per cent below March, 1928.

"Although the volume of new bond financing during March," commented the review, "registered a very considerable increase over the preceding months, it cannot be said that there has been any discernible improvement in the bond market as a whole. The increased volume of new issues, when analyzed, even serves further to emphasize the lack of interest in straight bond investments, since a very large part of the month's volume was registered in securities which, although coming within the bond classification, partook in a greater or lesser degree of the nature of stocks. In the listed bond market, new lows were registered in some cases and for the most part, the list was dull, without any tendency toward firmer prices. An exception to this condition existed, to a limited degree, in the high grade and medium grade rails—in which classifications there appeared from time to time a fairly impressive volume of buying. This buying was generally attributed to the long expected appearance of institutional purchases; and it is believed that, in spite of the dull appearance which has prevailed throughout the market, there is a rather considerable quiet absorption of high grade issues by institutions which are taking advantage of present low prices."

Recommend Window Glass Tariff.

It is learned from authoritative sources that the Tariff Commission has made an exhaustive report to President Hoover which tends to substantiate claims of American window glass manufacturers that their business is being ruined by foreign competition. However the present special session of Congress is nearly completed and it is unlikely that with a new tariff bill to be drafted that the President will exercise the flexible provisions of the present tariff act and increase the duty on imported window glass to assist American manufacturers. It will be remembered that, following the report of the Tariff Commission of a like nature in regard to plate glass, President Coolidge proclaimed a substantially higher duty on all types of plate glass. Stephen Porter, congressman from Pittsburgh, when apprised of the fact that the Tariff Commission had made its report to the President, stated that every effort will be made to impress President Hoover with the importance of immediate action on the report and raise the tariff on foreign window glass, etc.

Commodity Price Index Declines.

The general level of wholesale prices declined slightly during March, and at the beginning of April it was at the lowest point since August, 1927, according to Bradstreet's Index Number of commodity prices. The April 1 index number was $12.8691, a decrease of 1 per cent from the preceding month and of 4.1 per cent from the like date a year ago. Only two groups of commodities showed gains during the month, these being metals, which reflected the spectacular rise in copper quotations, and live stock. Two groups of commodities—building materials and chemicals and drugs—showed no change, while nine revealed decreases. The heaviest declines were in hides and leather and the miscellaneous group, the latter being accounted for by the reaction in rubber prices. Breadstuffs, provisions and fruits declined, as did textiles, coal and coke, oils and naval stores. Of 106 commodities quoted, 20 were higher in price, 31 showed declines and 55 were unchanged. The index number on April 1 showed a decline of 38.3 per cent from the record high of February 1, 1920, but represented an increase of 21.2 per cent over the post-war low of June 1, 1921.

Coast Gas Market Troubled.

Several miniature gasoline battles now being fought in Los Angeles provides possibilities of the outbreak of another general gasoline war, and they are being watched closely by representatives of the larger companies. At present they are restricted to neighborhood battles, in which dealers in products of the major companies have cut their prices to meet the competition of unknown or bootlegger gasoline. This has resulted in a range of prices from 15 to 18½ cents in that city, the upper figure being the standardized price of gas except where the fights are going on.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, April 5.—(AP.)—Cotton opened steady today at a decline of 5 points to an advance of 1 point and showed net losses of about 6 to 8 points in the early trading under further liquidation, with local and commission house selling.

This appeared to be influenced by relatively easy Liverpool cables and reports of favorable immediate weather conditions in the South. There was some nervousness over the possibility of unsettling conditions developing over the week-end, which caused covering.

General business was comparatively quiet and the market held fairly steady, but within a point or two of the lowest at the end of the first half hour.

Private cables reported continental and Bombay buying, supplied by liquidation in the Liverpool market. They said the Spinners' Association in Bolton had recommended a continuation of short time in the Egyptian section for another four weeks.

After selling about 6 to 10 points net lower under the early offerings, prices steadied on some trade buying and covering. The latter was promoted by apprehensions over weather developments over the week-end, although there opinion differed as to whether rains in the southwest would work eastward.

Prices recovered their early loss and by midday were net unchanged to 7 points lower. May was relatively firm, selling up from 20.25 to 20.48c. The new October contract advanced from 19.73 to 19.85c.

Concerns Doing Most for Workers Most Successful.

—By B. C. FORBES—

SEVERAL corporation announcements indicate how industry is being humanized.

The significant thing is that the most successful corporations are the ones that figure most prominently in this evolution.

TAKE these happenings: Andrew W. Robertson, the new head of Westinghouse Electric, tells me that among the first things he did was to investigate the company's relationship with its workers and that a plan calculated to appeal strongly to all ranks is receiving the indorsement of the directors.

President A. P. Sloan, Jr., devotes much attention in the just-issued annual report of General Motors to emphasizing the vital necessity for offering such financial rewards as will attract the best men in the country and adds that when the present arrangement for rewarding executives expires, a new plan will be presented to the stockholders for their approval.

General Electric's 1928 report of its employes securities corporation shows that, all told, 34,000 employes are now investing in the company's securities on which, through special arrangements, they receive a more liberal return than outside security holders.

Graybar Electric has just distributed a common stock dividend which goes entirely to its own employes, the first instance of a large enterprise being bought lock, stock and barrel by the workers, including the humblest employes as well as the highest executives. President Ketcham states that all records have been broken by the company since it was sold to the workers.

The Philadelphia Inquirer, one of America's leading newspapers, announces an offering of 49 per cent of its stock "primarily for the purpose of giving the employes, many of whom have devoted their lifetime to the upbuilding of the newspaper, an opportunity to share in the earnings and ownership of the company." The paper will celebrate its one-hundredth anniversary on June 1, and this stock issue is described as a "surprise centennial reward" for employes.

The Pennsylvania Railroad reports that it paid out in pensions last year $6,083,540 to the 9,059 ex-employes who are now on the roll of honor. This company in the last 28 years has paid total pensions exceeding $58,000,000 to 21,936 employes.

Several Standard Oil companies have established very liberal plans for helping workers to provide for their old age.

The American Telephone and Telegraph Company has more of its employes buying its stock on easy terms than any other concern in the world.

Not long since very striking figures were given here revealing how liberally Sears Roebuck has planned for the financial well-being of its workers who aspire to attain a competency.

The United States Steel Corporation was among the first to set aside stock for sale on easy terms to its employes and those who have taken advantage of the plan over a series of years have fared very well.

THE sensational success achieved by General Motors adds peculiar interest to what its president now says concerning the wisdom of sharing profits with those mainly responsible for these profits being earned.

"Stockholders must necessarily appreciate," declares President Sloan, "that, irrespective of the number of millions of dollars that the corporation may have invested in real estate, buildings, machinery, inventories or cash, and while recognizing the essential part that such investments play, yet, after all, the ability to capitalize that investment in the form of a satisfactory profit from year to year depends upon the loyalty, efficiency and effectiveness of the operating organization.

"It is essential, in developing a personnel of the degree of ability required to cope with the corporation's tremendous operating and financial problems, that the more important executives should be placed in a position from the standpoint of financial reward comparable to what they would occupy were they conducting a business on their own individual account. In no other way, it is believed, can the corporation attract to its organization the type of executives absolutely essential to its continued progress."

General Motors also has an employes' savings and investing plan, a group insurance plan, a preferred stock plan and a housing plan for its workers.

HUMANE treatment of workers works.

NEW YORK CURB MARKET

NEW YORK, April 5.—(AP.)—The curb market was unsettled today by further uneasiness over the credit outlook resulting from the new warning issued by the Federal Reserve Board last night.

Special interest was attached to initial trading in the new Ford of Canada B stock, which is to replace the present stock. Trading started at 58, and ranged later between 56½ and 59. The present stock ranged from 1,125 to 1,147 during the forenoon. Motor stocks were generally firm, save for Auburn, which yielded 3 points. Durant moved up 2 points, and Checker Cab was in demand at higher levels.

A number of industrial issues were well bought. Gold Seal Electric moved up more than 2 points. American Cyanamid B was firm. Aviation issues, however, were heavy, losses in this group running from 1 to 4 points. Goldman Sachs trading eased.

The oil stocks were again weak, Humble sagging 3 points and Standard of Indiana a point. In the utilities American Superpower issues showed pronounced strength, the A and B shares both moving up over 4 points, but Electric Bond and Share encountered selling pressure.

Mines were irregular. Phelps Dodge and Newmont selling off, while New Cornelia and Noranda gained.

Following is the list of transactions on the New York Curb Exchange, giving all stocks and bonds traded (00 omitted in sales column of stock list; 000 omitted in sales column of bond list):

PITTSBURGH CO. MILLS RUNNING FULL BLAST

By GEORGE H. SNYDER.

THE Pittsburgh Steel Company is operating its plants practically at capacity. Both blast furnaces are in production and 11 out of the 12 open hearth furnaces are working. The idle furnace is being repaired.

Demand for both seamless tubing and wire, the principal finished products, is heavy. Some decline in the buying of pipe in the oil fields has been experienced, but shipments of other types to consumers have continued large.

The high rate of automobile production has kept the consumption of the smaller sizes of tubing required by this industry, moving in heavy volume.

THE wire business is in its active season with good buying for both fencing and building purposes. Pittsburgh Steel has developed several special wire fabrics for use as backing for plaster or stucco. Products are also being marketed for the reinforcement of concrete construction.

THE present fiscal year will be one of the best in the company's history. In the six months ended December 31, 1928, net profit was $1,743,270, after all charges, which was equivalent to $5.43 a share on the 253,500 shares of common stock.

This was greater than in the entire fiscal year ended June 30, 1928, and nearly as great as in the year before.

EARNINGS in the quarter ended March 31, which will be reported within a few weeks, are expected to be somewhat greater than in the previous quarter, when net was $837,448, or $2.58 a share. Production is being maintained at substantially the same rate as in the other quarters of the fiscal year, although the "back log" of unfilled orders is not as great.

There is good reason to believe that the present quarter, the last of the current fiscal year, will maintain about the same rate of earnings.

JUDGING from this, the company can be expected to earn over $10 a share on the common stock in the year ending June 30, 1929.

This will be greater than in any previous year since the consolidation with the Pittsburgh Steel Products Company in 1925, although the two companies have, in a few years in the past, shown combined earnings greater than those expected this year.

THE growth in earnings has been achieved in spite of the fact that interest charges for the past year have been increased by the sale of $11,000,000 of 20-year 6 per cent debentures. These were issued early in 1928, to retire the old funded debt of nearly $5,000,000 and to finance the construction of plant improvements. The refinancing, however, improved the immediate position of the common stock, since heavy annual sinking fund requirements were reduced.

SO FAR during the present fiscal year, dividend requirements on the $10,500,000 of 7 per cent preferred stock for an entire year have been earned with a large margin in each of the individual quarters. In the six months ended December 31, the year's requirements were earned nearly two and a half times.

With earnings about two and a half times the dividend rate of $4 a year on the common stock, the company's cash position has been materially improved. On December 31 current assets of $21,365,276 were nearly 10 times current liabilities. Working capital of $15,349,496 was $3,865,463 more than on June 30, 1928.

THIS increase in available cash is making it possible for the company to carry out a large number of important improvements to its plant facilities, although the exact nature of these has not been made public. At some time in the next few years a by-product coke plant will be constructed, but the beginning of this work is not contemplated at present.

Chicago's Reserve Bank Rate Stands

CHICAGO, April 5.—Although directors of the Chicago Federal Reserve did not and will not meet today, according to official statement, it was said at the local bank that the rediscount rate remains unchanged at 5 per cent. Bank authorities would make no comment. This unusual procedure is considered substantiation of Washington reports that application by local bank for a 6 per cent rate has been denied by the board. It also is considered an apt illustration of the dominance of the Federal Reserve Board over the directors and governors of the individual district banks.

FINANCIAL NEWS AND VIEWS

Further Rallying Tendencies

The market cringed under what it thought was another threat from the Reserve Board this morning, but rallied subsequently when various interpretations of the Board's latest pronouncement classed it as "not so bearish," but certainly not bullish. The Reserve stated it was receiving bank co-operation in paring down the big brokerage credit total and many in the Street believed this meant the Board was fairly well satisfied with results so far. The list sagged off at the opening, rallied sharply and then followed a rather even course, the bulls apparently not desiring to force the issue from their side and the bears evincing an inclination to pull in their short commitments on th possibility of the general credit disturbance being over the peak. Practically all classes of securities joined in the rally with rails participating substantially in anticipation of a favorable decision from the Interstate Commerce Commission on the Van Sweringens' plans for the big Chesapeake & Ohio consolidation. Steels were in demand and there were several favorable developments affecting this group, among them an analysis forecasting a melon on United States Steel common. Oils quieted down awaiting further moves in connection with the curtailment conferences. Coppers moved with the general market. Money was easy again, dropping back to 6 per cen following the 8 per cent renewal, but the 6 per cent figure did not create the enthusiasm as followed the posting of that rate at the close yesterday. Call money was obtainable in the outside market at 5 per cent.

Steel Melon Predicted.

U. S. Steel common reached new high ground on the current movement. A brisk demand was created by an analysis of the extraordinary character of U. S. Steel's current earnings made by M. J. Meehan & Co., which stated that estimates of earnings for first six months of 1929 will reach $9 to $11 a common share. Figuring on a basis of an offer to common stockholders of one share for every six held and the redemption of bonds, it seems entirely probable that earnings for 1929 will be between $17 and $20 a share on the 8,302,000 shares of common that will then be outstanding, the analysis says. Earnings of only $17 a share on 8,302,000 shares would mean an addition to surplus after dividends at the current $7 common rate of about $85,000,000 and would bring the total surplus at the end of 1929 not far from $800,000,000, or practically $100 a share on the increased stock. It is hardly conceivable the directors would carry $85,000,000 to surplus in a single year while paying out only $57,000,000 or so to common stockholders.

Atlantic Refining.

The report of Atlantic Refining Company for the first quarter, to be published within the next few weeks, is expected to show profit of approximately $3,560,000 after all charges, equal, after preferred dividends, to slightly more than $1.60 a share on 2,000,000 shares of $25 par common outstanding. This would compare with $4,940,013, or $2.29 a share in the fourth quarter, 1928, and $1,357,357, or 50 cents a share on the present capital for the first quarter, 1928. Although earnings were lower than in the final quarter of 1928, due to lower gasoline prices, the showing was exceptionally favorable when compared with the initial three months last year, net being up 162 per cent in a period normally the poorest of the year. With increasing demand for gasoline, and likelihood of a stiffening in prices, it is expected that the showing for the second quarter will be moderately better. In the first six months of 1928 net income totaled $5,689,987, or $2.50 a share on the present common capital.

The Glass Situation.

The National Glass Budget says: "Manufacturers apparently are firmly set on disposing of the window glass on the October basis. Buying of glass from the producers has been lacking in pep, nevertheless there has been no change in the discounts. There is every indication that during the second quarter of the year, the ordering of glass will be of the hand-to-mouth policy. There is a very good demand reported for rolled and wired glass products."

Mary Garden Sees Opera Doomed By Talkies

NEW YORK, April 5.—(AP.)—To the predictions of those who have said talkies have doomed not only the speaking stage, but even the art of screen acting, Miss Mary Garden, yesterday added a forecast of her own.

"Sooner or later," she said, "the talking movies are going to finish opera, not only here, but all over the world."

She added that she was "simply mad," about them and that she would make a talkie herself when she found a suitable vehicle, an opera picture in English.

"No longer will people be content to sit as formerly for three hours hearing people sing a tongue they do not understand," asserted the Chicago Opera's soprano. "English will be the language used in the operas put on by sound movies."

Obituary

J. Edgar Thompson

J. Edgar Thompson, 59, for 15 years secretary and treasurer of the Ohio Valley Trust Company of Coraopolis, died in his home in Thorn Run road, that borough, yesterday. He was well known in banking circles in this district, having been associated with the Coraopolis institution for 28 years. He was born on the North Side and had resided in Allegheny County all his life. He was a member of the First Methodist Episcopal Church of Coraopolis. Mr. Thompson leaves his wife, Mrs. Mary Thompson; five sons and four daughters.

Edward C. Kline.

Edward C. Kline, 31, former president of Homestead Borough Council, died this morning in his home, 131 Tenth avenue, Homestead. He was born in Pittsburgh and moved to Homestead more than 22 years ago. He was a member of St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church. He leaves his wife and two daughters.

Mrs. Harry E. Hugus.

Mrs. Sarah A. Harrison Hugus, 75, wife of Harry E. Hugus, died on Wednesday at her home, 1136 Portland street. Mrs. Hugus was a lifelong resident of the Pittsburgh district. She was a member of the East Liberty Presbyterian Church. She leaves her husband, a daughter and a son.

NO CURVES? NO JOBS!

The harsh command to go home and fatten up was shouted at chorus girl applicants by Charles Cochran, English producer. "I do not intend that my audience shall have to look twice at young ladies on the stage to tell whether they are boys or girls," he said....

Chorus Girls Fed at Expense of Producer

Your Own Business

In the Classified Ad Columns of this paper you will find a column headed "Business Opportunities," Classification 12.

Many a man can trace his success in life back to the day he read of a little business for sale under this classification. It didn't take much money, and it gave him the opportunity to put his energy and ability to work—and gradually his mammoth factories developed from that small beginning.

You, too, may find there the opportunity that will start you on the road to fortune.

In them you will discover real money-making opportunities in many lines of business, and just the one that suits you.

If you have a little money you can use, begin now, read "Business Opportunities" faithfully, and your reward will soon come.

A FLAW ON THE GEM

SOME years ago we noticed a lump on the back of our skull which since has grown to quite a dignified mound.

"Bugs" Baer

You get a lot of sympathy from doctors and friends. We asked Ring Lardner his opinion, as we knew he was an authority on lumps.

Ring asked, 'Have you been thinking lately?"

When he was answered in the affirmative, Ring diagnosed it as a bone bruise.

We forgot how we got the lump. It happened around 1919 and may have been accumulated in a struggle for law and order.

We have got a fainting recollection of looking for some euchre prizes in the sawdust on a barroom floor. In those old days when a man got in the rough, his opponents wasted no time choosing between a spoon, a brassie or a niblick.

Anyway, the lump has acquired a little more authority each year until now it requires either an operation or another hat.

A man cannot go around the streets wearing two hats. Doc Brennan, who recently removed Damon Runyon from an appendix, tells us the lump is not dangerous but admits that it is very untidy.

Doc Brennan also removed our appendix about three years ago, assisted by Dr. Amey and a couple of boyhood friends. It was such a magnificent appendix that Brennan entered it in the New York State Fair of 1926.

If there is anything that Brennan and Amey love it is to chip souvenirs off their friends.

We think the keepsake craze reached its climax during a scramble at a dinner this year, when the guest of honor had his ear bitten off and was asked by an admirer to autograph it.

Brennan's opinion of the lump is that it is too high to be a bunion.

Brennan tapped the lump a couple of times with a little hammer. Just like a man testing car wheels on the B. and O.

He wanted to know how long it had been there and we told him 10 years, man and Democrat.

'Well,' he said, "I would advise against its removal. You may be doing your thinking with it."

We told him it was getting bigger every year and asked what would happen if it got bigger than our head.

'In that case," he prescriptioned, "we will remove the head."

We were thinking about going out to the Mayo brothers. But that would mean growing another lump, one for each brother.

Anyway, we have decided that the lump must come off before the straw hat season. The lump is so situated that every straw hat we wear looks like a bureau with one caster.

We will accept sealed bids from surgeons up until midnight, May fourteenth.

Dancing Self-Taught

Fad of the Hour Explained—Master Steps in Your Own Home

The Correct Position.
(Posed by Mr. and Mrs. James Gleason)

THIS course in ball-room dancing does not claim to be exhaustive. It is designed for those who work hard all day and are too tired at night to go to some dancing academy, but would rather remain at home to dance with wife or sister. Those steps which have as yet failed to attain recognition which insures a place on our select social programs will be omitted.

Dancers should at first master what we call "The Correct Position" illustrated above. Now begin with the waltz, following with the Deux-Temps and Polka. When these are mastered, all the other steps will come easily.

Steel and Other Things Indicate Our Prosperity

Prosperity is maintained in the steel industry. Iron and steel production, an authoritative report states, show no signs of declining, following a record-breaking quarter of a year. There is undiminished demand from the automobile industry, while railroad, pipe line and structural orders are outstanding in tonnage reports. Pittsburgh, of course, gets a big share of the benefit.

Prosperity of other workers also is at hand. The city of Pittsburgh, itself, has many projects under way and others will be ready for operations soon. The county is ready to spend $14,000,000 on improvements and will have projects estimated at $3,000,000 additional in shape for bids in a short time.

Although there appears to be a temporary lull in larger building operations, home building goes along steadily, especially in the rapidly developing suburbs. Major construction in view of the future includes a new Pennsylvania Railroad passenger terminal, the federal building and other large structures in the preliminary stage of planning.

There is plenty of good reasons to think in terms of prosperity rather than in terms of pessimism.

More Court Evidence Shows Dope Farm Need

A confessed narcotic addict admitted in Federal Court that he was guilty of a charge of violation of the federal law, and added that he had been free from the curse of dope for nine months while he was in the federal prison in Atlanta. Narcotics smuggled in for other prisoners finally broke down his resistance to temptation and he resumed the use of habit-forming drugs. In prison! Where he was confined for violation of the Harrison narcotic act!

This is another indication that the federal farm institutions for the cure of the narcotic habit cannot came too soon. Another indication that dope use becomes a malady, curable only through methods that are drastic and, in many cases, not curable at all.

It is to be hoped the bill now in the State Legislature providing for a Pennsylvania narcotic farm institution will not be forgotten and allowed to die. There is no way of telling how many persons there are in the state who are slaves to dope. Court records alone, however, show that they are numerous. They should have proper treatment and can receive it only in such an institution as is provided in the bill.

as illustrated in the photographs above, according to the learned German professor, will enable ambitious young ladies to attain magnificent poise, with strength to hold positions such as only a few of the most celebrated ballet dancers are able to hold.

This editor is bound to confess that he would not care to HOLD any of these poses or even START them. However, different human beings, different tastes. And the youth of our fair land perhaps will be interested to see what German girls can do when they put their minds to it.

If you do undertake such exercises, begin slowly. Be satisfied if you gain half an inch a week in your back bending or hip stretching.

Better still, take walks in the open air, breathe deeply, get sound, regular sleep, develop your brains, marry a good man, and let those hip joints take care of themselves.

Tales That Are Told

A Good Reason

A SCOTCHMAN went one evening to call upon an old friend, who received him in a rocking-chair. The visitor was surprised that his host did not rise to greet him, but continued to rock backwards and forwards in the chair.

"Ye're not ill, are ye, mon?" he asked.

"No, Mac, I'm quite well," replied the other.

There was a moment's silence while Mac stared at the rocking figure with a puzzled expression.

"Then why are ye behavin' like that, mon?"

His friend explained:

"Ye know Allister, the jeweler? Well, he sold me a silver watch cheap, an' if I stop rocking like this the watch won't go.

The Bright Side

CLOUDS obscured the moon in such a way as to make driving dangerous in the uncertain light.

The car was approaching a level-crossing when suddenly the gates began to close. Too late the driver of the car saw his danger. He tried to swerve, but a skid was the only result.

With a crash the car struck the gates and crumpled up on the rails. Silence for a few seconds. Then a voice murmured dazedly:

"Well, it's cured my hiccups, anyway," and the driver crawled from the wreck.

Aberdeen Again

HE was talking with a friend about a trip he had made to Aberdeen.

"I see you have an old bridge there which dates from the time of Robert the Bruce," he remarked.

"Yes," replied the friend, who added, more from a desire to make conversation than anything else: "I wonder if there is any danger of it giving."

"Not in Aberdeen," came the immediate answer.

Worst Story I Have Heard Today

By WILL ROGERS

THE kid come home from school a little late, and her mother mentioned it to her dad.

"Mary," says the dad, "how come you had to stay in after school today?"

"Oh, I missed something. Teacher asked where the Canaries are, and I hadn't the least idea."

"You ought to pay some attention to your mother and me, Mary, about never knowing where things are. You don't know where your goldfish are at home when it's time to feed 'em, and I suppose it's the same way with the canaries at school. You gotta improve your habits and not be so lazy."

LISTEN, WORLD!

By Elsie Robinson

PRESIDENT HOOVER in his inaugural address said that "Americans are building a new civilization."

To some, there's the challenge of bugles in that statement.

To some, there's the sadness of "taps."

All know that it is true. Within the last 20 years American life has undergone a tremendous upheaval. Everything about it has changed, from the simplest detail of material equipment to the subtlest phrase of social attitude. We use different things. We do different things. We think different things. We ARE different things.

And this is both maddening and tragic to many people.

They look back with longing on the "good old days."

Recalling it, they look with anger and dismay at this roaring new world—

This ugly new world filled with machinery, smoke and noise—

And they hate it.

Bitterly they bewail the passing of the good old days and plan hopefully for their return. But they plan in vain—the "good old days" will never return. We have left them forever.

Humanity has passed out of that older form of civilization as definitely as it passed out of the cave dweller period—out of its nomadic tents—out of its tiny walled villages.

It was inevitable that, in time, primitive men should leave caves and make huts for themselves, but it was undoubtedly regarded as a catastrophe by the Older Generation of the time. They, too, must have wailed loudly for the "good old days," pointed out the discomfort and danger of the new way of living and said that the Young Folks would soon get sick of huts and go back to the rocks.

But they didn't go back to the rocks. Huts came and tents came and walled villages came and in time great cities came, in spite of the wails. Wails cannot stop evolution.

Do not condemn the wailers. Pity them, rather.

Evolution is always painful. It is particularly painful for dwellers in the twentieth century, for never has life changed so completely in such a short space of time.

There is a greater gap between the background of the older fathers and mothers of today and the background of their children than there was between any three generations of the past. And it takes tremendous intelligence and devotion to bridge that gap. But the older generation must bridge it or be lost in the shuffle.

We can no longer cling to our caves. We can no longer cling to cave-man attitudes. We must tune in with the tremendous tempo of the new civilization—for it is the tempo of life. Life on the march. We must abandon the old ways of looking at life, the petty suspicions, the piffling sentimentalities, and snap into the new, impersonal attitude.

OUT OF THE CAVE AND INTO THE BIG PROCESSION — that's the slogan of 1929. God help the stubborn human who refuses to hear it!

SPACE PROBLEMS

By Garrett P. Serviss

"It is generally advanced as a reason for a limited universe that the heavens are not a blaze of light. May it not be that light suffers a partial extinction in space?

"Jeans, in his 'Cosmogony and Astronomy,' says that rotation alone could never have caused the sun to slough off planets; only the near approach of another star within two or three radii of the sun, accompanied by tides, could have done it. He says that the likelihood of this happening to a star is almost nil, and so a star with planets is a freak in the universe. Is this the general consensus of astronomers?—Nelse Lunstrom, Ellensburg, Wash."

IN the first place the universe of stars might be infinite and yet the sky not appear filled with a uniform blaze of light. As Newcomb showed, such a universal blaze could exist only if the stars were distributed in space so that every region of great but finite extent was occupied, on the average, by at least one star. There is a conceivable arrangement of the stars which would admit of their being of unlimited number while yet not filling the sky with a blaze of light. Such an arrangement, however, is not believed to exist in reality, so we are left with the dilemma as you state it, viz: either the starry universe is limited or the light of the most distant stars is absorbed before it reaches us.

But it happens that quite recently, as Harlow Shapley has shown, positive evidence has been accumulated that there is no extinction of light in space. That being the case, we must conclude that the number of stars in existence is, though enormous, yet limited—some ten thousand millions, perhaps, in our sidereal system which is bounded by the Milky Way, and equally immense numbers included in some of the outlying systems now known as island universes.

Then, the Einsteinians have theoretical reasons for believing that the universe is limited, though embracing almost inconceivable immensity of space.

As to theories of the birth of planets, it can hardly be said, I think, that a general consensus of opinion exists among astronomers, at least not in a settled sense. No doubt the theory that Jeans advocates, and which is substantially the planetesimal theory of Chamberlin and Moulton, at present possesses more advocates than any other. But this is a situation liable to change at any moment, not by the discovery of any positive concrete evidence on the subject, for that could hardly happen—we have no laboratories big enough, and resistent enough, to experiment with solar system making—but by the invention of some new theory opening a new trail for the mathematical physicists. But sometimes, judging by the way it comes out, such a trail might be suspected of having been laid by beaters with an aniseed bag.

There has been quite a little war over the credits due in the matter of the invention of the planetesimal theory and its congeners; for cosmogonists are not free of human weaknesses concerning publicity.

As to our family of planets being a "freak in the universe," I should think twice at least before accepting any such conclusion. Possibly that great 200-inch telescope, or the still greater successor that is sure to follow it, will show a world or two among the stars, to take the conceit out of over-stuffed humans.

God's Mercy

(Psalm 103)

BLESS the Lord, O my soul: and all that is within me, bless his holy name.

Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits:

Who forgiveth all thine iniquities; who healeth all thy diseases;

Who redeemeth thy life from destruction; who crowneth thee with loving kindness and tender mercies;

Who satisfieth thy mouth with good things; so that thy youth is renewed like the eagle's.

The Lord executeth righteousness and judgment for all that are oppressed.

The Lord is merciful and gracious, slow to anger, and plenteous in mercy.

He will not always chide: neither will he keep his anger for ever.

He hath not dealt with us after our sins; nor rewarded us according to our iniquities.

For as the heaven is high above the earth, so great is his mercy toward them that fear him.

As far as the east is from the west, so far hath he removed our transgressions from us.

Like as a father pitieth his children, so the Lord pitieth them that fear him.

For he knoweth our frame; he remembereth that we are dust.

As for man, his days are as grass: as a flower of the field, so he flourisheth.

For the wind passeth over it, and it is gone; and the place thereof shall know it no more.

But the mercy of the Lord is from everlasting to everlasting upon them that fear him, and his righteousness unto children's children;

To such as keep his covenant, and to those that remember his commandments to do them.

The Lord hath prepared his throne in the heavens; and his kingdom ruleth over all.

Bless ye the Lord, all ye his hosts; ye ministers of his, that do his pleasure.

Bless the Lord, all his works in all places of his dominion: bless the Lord, O my soul.

The Rhyming Optimist

A Good Day

WHAT a good day this has been!
Little joys have entered in Gaily as the moments went,
Till the happy hours were spent.
First, a letter from a friend
Living at the world's far end;
Yet across wide seas and lands
Come these words like clasp of hands.
Then the call of flowers, dew-kissed,
Through the morning's opal mist,
Bird songs and a time-stained book
Meant for such a garden nook.
And, with all these pleasures blent,
Work enough to bring content.
Four o'clock, and friends for tea,
Then the blest tranquillity
Of the twilight folding down
Tender wings on field and town.
Stars peer out and dreams begin—
What a good day this has been!

Divide and Rule

By Herbert Kaufman

SOVIET RUSSIA, through an obviously inspired statement in one of the Moscow dailies, reluctantly admits the breakdown of its paternalistic program.

The present government undertook to monopolize everything, from raw materials to the regulation of retailing. In its devouring greed for authority, it gobbled all the instruments of production and distribution—Bolshevism, having bitten off more than it can chew, is suffering from acute indigestion, and begins to search for relief and correction in private remedy cabinets.

The people-at-large are threatened with starvation, and a full Pandora's chest of economic ills.

Confusion and bewilderment are omnipresent—Lenin's fantastic structure is tottering to collapse.

There's a shortage of grain in the farming districts, and an insufficiency of living necessities in the cities. Bread and meat are reduced to ration-card issues. Esau would have his pottage pot!

Ranting theory and peasant intelligence aren't proving substitutes for specialized experience, and amateur industrial direction isn't wearing any medals for skilled management.

Men do not think or strive greatly without guarantees of proportionate benefits from originality and thoroughness.

The primary responsibility of every state is to stimulate general enthusiasm, multiply common resources, and create fresh wealths.

But when folk are not permitted to profit accordingly, they do not bestir themselves to extra effort; individualism is the motive of progress, here, there and everywhere.

Neither brains nor hands ever deliver beyond pay-envelope specifications, except under incentive.

Wherever there's a winning organization—wherever dividends are being regularly met and corporations are piling up surplus—both rank and file are getting a whack at the plums, and are incited to high-pressure by assurance of promotion in ratio to merit and efficiency.

Wherever establishments are withering and headed toward deficit, penurious and purblind ownership has convinced employes to expect nothing from pains-taking and record-breaking.

There's a hidden spring in each of us, and the cashier holds the key that winds it and sets ambition going.

Bonaparte's image, Carnegie's creed and Marshall Field's portrait should be standard office equipment—to remind hog-it-allers and thunder-thieves of the baton packed in every Napoleonic knapsack, and the partnership habit of the steel king and the merchant prince who never kept a good man down nor denied ability its right to control.

"Divide and rule" is a phrase of twin significance; as all those who don't share with the authors of their prosperity eventually discover—just about one jump ahead of bankruptcy.

Sovietism isn't making the grade anywhere.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, April 5.—Thoughts while strolling: Wonder if they'll call Eddie Cantor Edward when he grows up. Those stores with artificial onyx fronts. Norman Anthony, the boyish new editor of Life. And Columbus Circle is tidied up again—hooray! Canes with clear crystal handles. A Michael Arlen conceit.

Ward Morehouse, a Savannah, Ga., boy, who made good in the city. Bereft colored gentlemen who wear black hearts on their sleeves. Howard Acton's mustache. Chinese cafes grow dimmer as outside signs grow brighter. More than 300 in the Broadway district alone. And what is more mysterious than chop suey.

Ladies in soft plum sport clothes. The new Childs with old English tavern effects instead of sanitized white tile. Lobby sign: "Get away from crowds—go to the theater." And that's a bit of unconscious something or other. And more of those cackling party theater things that "come up to Broadway" to lay an egg.

Delicatessen window displays silk hose. O, M'soo Reuben! Collegiate upstarts who snap fingers at hat check girls. And order arti-chokes to prove their worldliness. So Police Commissioner Whalen's middle name is Aloysius. The crooks will have a lot of fun toying with that one.

The Broadway pageant at cocktail time. Jazz divas honing up for "boop a-doop" arias. Freshly barbered stayouts with eyes still heavy with sleep. Venerable and motherly wardrobe mistresses. Night hackmen shining up cabs. Dove silk shirts with boom-boom ties. Sure thing tooth-pickers in front of the Astor.

Rothstein's old table at Lindy's. The giant movie doorman with a thin High C voice. Around the corner jewelry shops where sirens lead boy friends "just to look." The celebrity who refused to have a sandwich named for him. And that is 18-karat high hatting along the Big Dipper.

More expensive corners gobbled up for soft drink stands. Telephone pay stations jammed. And the evening flood of "kept at office" fibs. Karl Kitchen's derby. Oscar Hammerstein, the—I forget the number. The rim of clay that betokens the Jersey farmer. Two ladies smile. What power is this?

Bryant Hall is, to the theatrical profession, one of the best known buildings in town. The decaying pile spreads its architectural gloom across from Bryant Park on Sixth avenue. We antiquarians describe it as a landmark. It is the preliminary stage of many shows. Early rehearsals, chiefly for the chorus and special dance numbers, are held there. All day and into the night it is noisy with the thump of pianos and clump of feet. In the assembly hall are held those odd Slovak weddings, union banquets and heavily "garliced" foreign luncheons. Shortly after the Civil War the big society balls and dinners were given there. But the especial room for the smartest dinners is now an Automat.

My notion of a swell number is a lady who drew up in front of a heigh-ho luncheon place yesterday, sent the footman of her car inside for a menu, studied it carefully through a lorgnette and stiffling a yawn with a jeweled hand gave it back. "Return home for luncheon, Montague!" she said to the driver.

Three gentlemen usually termed "hard headed" proved soft marks for the ootchie-kootchie who-hoo of Broadway this winter. Baby talk and simpering smiles led them from wives who helped them up from obscurity. They were not the usual White Way philanderers but men known for their fireside manners. But the vamps were those whose artistry in husband-snatching had been widely exploited. That old Broadway flame still scorches.

Tricks of Broadway make all suspicious. A gentleman tells me of being approached by a woman with every appearance of being a lady. She feared she was fainting. A drug store had refused to give her a stimulating brandy. His apartment was two doors away with plenty of good liquor and the lady seemed in distress. But nothing doing. The old suspicion—a drink, a knock at the door and "That lady is my wife!" So the lady actually swooned as he was assisting her into a taxi.

ONCE OVERS

By J. J. Mundy

DID you ever do a good deed without getting a feeling of satisfaction?

Perhaps it required effort—some financial outlay.

But if it really seemed the thing that you should do, did you not feel well repaid for all your trouble?

Undoubtedly you have had an impulse to help a person who needed your assistance.

You considered the cost and decided against it.

Didn't you have many regrets that you did not follow your heart's prompting?

Was what you saved worth the disturbing thoughts you had because of your failure to carry out your inclinations?

There is full recompense when action is in proportion to good impulse.

To have these good thoughts and then fail to follow the leadings is to weaken the fiber of your character.

Too many of us have promptings to do good deeds that are never carried into effect.

Not the peace of mind that makes for true happiness.

The best we can get out of life is the compensation we receive from doing something for others.
